He graduated from Washington College in the class of 1884 and studied electrical engineering in which business he has been successfully engaged in Memphis for some years. In January 1902 he married Miss Mary Isabelle Beck, daughter of the late Dr. Samuel Beck, of this town. Since boyhood he has been a devoted member of the Protestant Episcopal Church. During his residence in Memphis he was an active member of St. Andrew's Brotherhood. Funeral services were held in Memphis on Tuesday and the remains brought to Chestertown on Thursday evening. The interment was in Chester cemetery on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock p. m., conducted by Dr. H. B. Martin, of Emmanuel P. E. Church. The pall bearers were: J. Guion Roberts, J. Rudolf Stam, William W. Beck, Allan A. Harris, Dr. W. Frank Hines, R. H. Collins, Lewin W. Wickes, Horace B. Constable.

MRS. MARTHA A. E. HARPER.

Mrs. Martha A. E. Harper, wife of Franklin H. Harper, Esq., Judge of the Orphans' Court for Kent county, died at her late home, Rosedale, near Still Pond, on Sunday evening, of paralysis, aged 71 years. Throughout her entire life Mrs. Harper had been closely identified with the religious and social life of the pretty little town of Still Pond, and by her death one of the strong pillars of Still Pond M. E. Church has fallen. Her noble christian character, her genial disposition and charitable nature endeared her to a host of friends in that section of the county. Her loss will be keenly felt in the community of Still Pond, because she was a good woman. Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. F. Beauchamp officiating, assisted by Revs. T. E. Barrett of Dover and F. P. Roberts, of Chestertown. Interment was made in Still Pond cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs E. M. Bonwill, Harry Davis, H. L. Crew, Jas. S. Harris, Wm. T. Hepbron and W. B. Price. Undertaker Wm. H. Krusen had charge of funeral arrangements.

MRS. MATILDA ALDRICH.

Mrs. Matilda Aldrich, wife of Mr. Lucas Aldrich, formerly of Worton, died at her late residence in Waverly, Baltimore county, on Thursday, of paralysis, aged about 65 years. Mrs. Aldrich was formerly a Miss Cann, daughter of the late Frank Cann, Esq., at one time sheriff of Kent county, and owner of part of the Carville estate near town. She was a regular attendant upon the services of St. James M. P. Church during her residence in Kent county, and was always interested in the large social gatherings for which Worton is famed. Her remains will be brought from Baltimore on the Sassafras River Line today. Interment will be made in Chester cemetery. Funeral services were held yesterday from her late home in Baltimore. Interment in Greenmount cemetery. Miss Nannie Bordley and Mr. John Toulson attended the funeral. Mr. Toulson was one of the pall bearers.

October Term of Court.—Court will convene on the third Monday in Oct., the 19th, and judging by the number of cases on the trial docket the session will be a short one. The most important civil cases to be tried are: Horace Garner vs. William H. Bowers, suit for trespass; Sarah V. McClary, et al, vs. J. Frank Harris and wife, suit to set aside will of John B. Harris; Fannie B. Roy, widow vs. Tolchester Beach Improvement Company, suit for damages. On the criminal docket the most important case is that of State of Maryland vs. John W. Kelly, violation of the local option law, pending since 1899. There are very few prisoners in jail awaiting trial.

DR. GORDON T. ATKINSON,
DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR COMPTROLLER.

Democrats at Mount Airy.

5,000 Maryland Democrats Hear Key-Notes of the Campaign Sounded by the Candidates and Great Speakers.

Mr. Warfield's Great Speech of Acceptance.

The greatest gathering of its kind ever held in Maryland took place on Saturday last at Wildwood Park, near Mount Airy, Carroll county, where the Democratic State candidates—Hon. Edwin Warfield for Governor, Dr. Gordon T. Atkinson, for Comptroller, and Hon. William S. Bryan, Jr., for Attorney General—were formally notified of their nomination by the recent Democratic State Convention. It was the opening gun of the campaign and its echoes were meant to ring throughout the State. In his speech of acceptance Mr. Warfield sounded the key-note of this campaign when he said, "The all important problem for the voter to consider in this campaign is whether the government of this great Commonwealth shall be entrusted to a party more than one half of whose votes are composed of the ignorant negro race, or to the party comprising in its ranks a vast majority of our white people." Because of its great importance to the voter, we publish in full Mr. Warfield's speech. It is as follows:

"I feel grateful for the distinguished honor conferred on me and am unreservedly in favor of the leadership of our party in this contest. The platform adopted by the convention, receives my sincere approval and indorsement. [Applause.]

"The great and pressing problem of the day, not only in Maryland, but in every section of our common country—North as well as South, East as well as West—is the 'negro question.' It is growing more and more urgent every year in this State. It cannot be put aside. It is upon us and must be met in a manly way. I am willing to meet it and in doing so I want it distinctly understood that I am not hostile to the negro, but have always counted myself one of his truest and best friends. The question as presented, and which the voter must decide at this election, is a plain, practical, business one, and goes home to every white household and taxpayer in Maryland. It is whether the government of this great Commonwealth shall be entrusted to a party more than one half of whose voters are composed of this ignorant race or to the party comprising in its ranks a vast majority of our white people. [Cheers.]

"We have experienced in this State in recent years the effects of Republican supremacy on the emotional and excitable negro mind. It brought increase of lawlessness among the colored population and multiplied crime throughout the State. The fatal effects of negro domination on property interests and all forms of industrial development are illustrated in those counties in Maryland which are dominated by the negro votes where it has thrived progress and brightened prosperity. The conditions that prevail in that section will ultimately spread to other portions of the State if the Republican party is again installed in power.

"The Republican party of Maryland cannot rise higher than the source of its power, and if it should regain possession of the State government it must recognize the element to which it owes its ascendancy. Such recognition again in this State would bring about results of the gravest and most deplorable character in their effect on both the moral and material welfare of the people. Therefore I take my stand firmly upon that plank in the platform of our party which declares that 'the political destinies of Maryland should be shaped and controlled by the white people of the State,' and I appeal to all citizens, irrespective of their party, who love and honor the State, to lend their earnest and active support in this contest for the supremacy of the white race, for the cause of civilization and good government. [Great applause.]

ELECTIONS MUST BE FAIR.

"Our elections must be fair and honest. Without pure elections there is no government by the people. The drafting of an election law is a matter of extreme difficulty. No one can tell exactly how a new law will operate. Its points of weakness and of strength are shown only by experience. The drafting of an election law is a matter of extreme difficulty. No one can tell exactly how a new law will operate. Its points of weakness and of strength are shown only by experience. The drafting of an election law is a matter of extreme difficulty. No one can tell exactly how a new law will operate. Its points of weakness and of strength are shown only by experience.

OPPOSED TO BRIBERY.

"Another important question agitating the people of this State is the use of money in elections for the corruption of the voter. It is destroying in the minds of many voters the sense of the sacred duty of citizenship. Agencies are used and practices permitted which should arouse the gravest fears of every truly disinterested and patriotic citizen. This purchase of voters must be stopped. To prohibit a practice so universally condemned will be my earnest endeavor.

SCHOOLS AND GOOD ROADS.

"I have always been a warm and earnest advocate of public schools. I was educated in them and taught under the first general system of public schools established in the State of Maryland. I have watched the development of the system and feel that I know its needs, and it will be a source of great gratification to me if I can aid in increasing the facilities for giving to the children of the State of Maryland better opportunities for obtaining a good education and to secure to the teachers adequate compensation for their services.

"I realize the need in the rural sections of our State of good roads. They will advance the interests of our farmers and all property owners of the State. To bring about a system of good road building that will result in good highways in every section of the State will be my earnest endeavor. I believe that all the people of the State are anxious for legislation that will secure this result.

for legislation that will secure this result.

"The convention has associated with me upon the ticket two men of the highest standing as to character and fitness for the positions for which they have been selected.

"I have known Mr. Bryan, the candidate for Attorney-General for many years. He is one of the acknowledged leaders of the Maryland bar, a man of independence and high integrity.

"Dr. Atkinson, the candidate for Comptroller, possesses in an eminent degree the qualifications that will make him a safe guardian of the financial affairs of the State.

"If I am elected Governor of Maryland I will not use the power and the patronage of the position to advance myself politically, or to advance the political fortunes or ambitions of any man. I shall go into the office without being hampered by a single promise of any nature or character whatever.

"I shall require a strict and impartial execution of the laws of the State, and the maintenance of good order. As this can only be accomplished by honest, upright and fair officials, I shall appoint none but the very best men to public office and shall require that they faithfully perform their duties. My sole purpose shall be to administer the duties of Governor of Maryland for the best interests of her whole people and in such a manner as to deserve their commendation and endorsement.

"If I can win the approval of the people and have them say of me when I go out of office that I have made a good and faithful Governor I shall be content."
