CHESTERTOWN, - JUNE 20, 1891.

Making it Pleasant.

Owing to a confusion of names of stations I got off at the wrong one in Tennessee, and as there was no public house in the hamlet the station agent said I could go home with him. His home was a humble one, as seen in the darkness, and as we reached the gate he halted and said:

"Stranger, perhaps I ought to tell you"—

"What?" I asked, as he hesitated.

"Well, never mind. Come along in."

He took me into the front room, which did not seem to be much used by the family. As we entered there came a loud yell from an adjoining room, and he explained:

"It's only my wife boxing the oldest gal's ears for sassing her. Let me take your hat."

He had scarcely taken it when a boy was heard whooping, and he explained:

"It's only my wife pulling young Tim's hair for not bringing in the night wood."

The whoop was followed by a yelp and a howl, and my host calmly explained:

"One o' the dogs got in the way, you see, and she lifted him."

I was trying to make his position a little less embarrassing, when there were two yells in quick succession, followed by a scramble, and he crossed his legs and remarked:

"The twins was probably hooking vittles off the table and got caught at it."

Half a minute later, just as I got ready to ask about the crops in that locality, the door was banged open and a woman, who had a fork in one hand and a baby on her shoulder, bounced in and shouted out:

"You onery, lazy Jim Murdock, if you don't help take keer of these brats I'll—!"

She saw me and stopped and retreated, and when she had gone the husband explained:

"That's what I was going to tell ye at the gate—that ye'd have to take chances on her being in a tantum. She's got one, and if you don't mind being called squint eyed, bald headed, gander shanked and humpbacked, and if you can kick the dogs off when she sets 'em on, and put up with the children climbing over you, I'll try and make it pleasant otherwise."

Fashions.

The light, fluffy ruffles of embroidered chiffon are expensive, but they give the waist a finish that no other ruching will.

Hair dressing is becoming more simple. Even ladies with scanty hair of their own imagining styles which enable them to dispense with false hair.

Garnets, both real and artificial, are used to trim some of the new bonnets; and spun glass aigrettes of garnet red go with them.

The "pointed rose" is something new; but people suspect it is an old rose cut and trimmed by the shrewd florist.

Each and every new sunshade and parasol is fashionable, even if it does vary a little in the style of make up.

Bona fide silver buttons appear upon the diagonal pockets and slashed shirts of the English walking coats.

Prevailing fashions for women are far more grotesque than pretty. The woman must needs be pretty who can successful illustrate them.

Blazers for the outing season are far more quiet and subdued in style than they used to be, which is something to be thankful for.

Impossible flowers fill the tops of the new summer hats, which, form a horticultural stand point, are fearfully and wonderfully made.

Fans, despite predictions to the contrary, grow more costly and elaborate every day. In the mother-of-pearl handles the prevailing tint is carried out. To match a group of French court beauties the sticks display a rosy gleam that is marvelously pretty. Purple pansies own sticks of mother-of-pearl of a rarely beautiful violet shade.

HE MAKES US SHIVER.

Rev. Ira R. Hicks predicts for June the following weather:

"The first and second of June will be reactionary storm days. From the 6th to the 9th will be very active storm period with Mercury on the 12th and Venus on the 17th, combined with solstice period, to prolong and excite the disturbances. The 13th and 14th being reactionary days, and moon's first quarter on 14th look for unsettled weather unto the next period, 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th. During and about these days, very hard storms are almost certain, and at their close more rain will have fallen than can be hoped for during the summer. Great electrical displays will be natural with heavy hail in divers places. These disturbances will all feel the presence of Venus, and will be renewed, with decreasing energy, about the 25th and 26th, and at the close of the month—the 30th being the next period."

THERE are two things to which we never grow accustomed—the ravages of time and the injustice of our fellow-men.

Headquarters!

SAMUEL HICKS, near the Court House,

Gives his Exclusive Attention to HORSE-SHOEING!

I have learned the business thoroughly and have given my study, and had much experience in the work of Horse-Shoeing. For this reason I think I am better prepared to do Horse-Shoeing than shops which do all kinds of Blacksmithing.

☞ My system of Shoeing prevents CUTTING and FORGING and preserves the horses' feet.

My best recommendation is the universal satisfaction of my customers, and I have no hesitation in referring to any for whom I have done work.

My prices I guarantee to be as low as the lowest. Horsemen! Come and see me, and I will save you trouble and expense.

Equitable Life Assurance Society,

OF THE UNITED STATES.

Before assuring your life, or investing your money, examine the Twenty-Year Tontine Policies of The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the U. S.

Policies maturing in 1891 realize cash returns to the owners, of amounts varying from 120 to 176% of the money paid in, besides the advantage of the Assurance during the whole period of twenty years.

The following is one of many actual cases maturing this year:

Endowment Policy No. 64,925.
Issued in 1871, at age 27. Amount, $5,000.
Premium, $239.90. Total Prems. Paid, $4,798.

RESULTS

at End of Tontine Period in 1891:

Cash Surrender Value, $8,449.45

(Equal to $176.10 for each $100 paid in premiums, which is equivalent to a return of all premiums paid, with interest at 7¼ per cent. per annum.)

Or, in lieu of cash,

A Paid-up Life Policy for $19,470

(Equal to $405.80 for each $100 paid in premiums.)

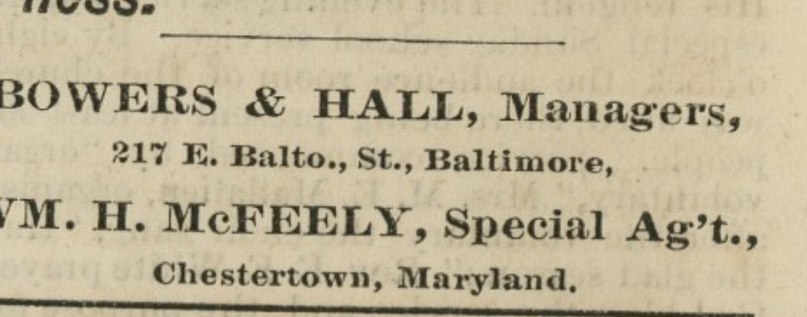

Or,

A Life Annuity of $633.55

One fact is worth a thousand theories. There is no assurance extant in any company which compares with this. The Equitable is the strongest company in the world and transacts the largest business.
