WILL the Ocean City convention endorse the force bill next Thursday?

WHEAT is yet on the up grade. Sales yesterday in Baltimore touchod $1.13 per bushel.

IF the different Republican State conventions continue endorsing the force bill, they will make Gorman the Democratic Presidental candidate whether or no!

THE Pennsylvania Republican State convention refused to boom Blaine for the Presidency at Quay's request, and, therefore, gives his starter a temporary black eye. But Harrison is not yet "out of the woods."

THE Baltimore American puts Queen Anne's and Kent in the list of close counties at the coming election. Queen Anne's is good for about 800 majority, and Kent is now no longer doubtful. The whole Democratic ticket will be elected by good majorities. If we may judge from indications the State ticket will be elected with over 20,000 majority.

THE Republican State convention for the nomination of candidates for Governor, Comptroller, Attorney General and Clerk of the Court of Appeals, will be held at Ocean City on Thursday next. The delegates from Kent are Messrs. C. T. Westcott, W. J. Vannort, F. H. Harper, J. H. Baker, Dr. A. R. Todd and Louis Henry. The convention is likely to be perfectly harmonious, and Col. Vannort, it is said, will be tendered the honor of a gubernatorial nomination. In another column will be found the American's boom for the colonel.

Come to Chestertown.

The committee of the board of trade of Middletown have made a complete canvas of the town to see how many women over 15 years of age could be secured to work in the proposed shirt factory, and report only fifty. The number wanted by the firm is 150. It is proposed to pay the girls $20 per month for one month as instruction fee, after which proficient operatives can make more. If Messrs. Lament and Vaugn will come to CHESTERTOWN they can readily secure the desired number of operatives for their shirt factory and an excellent site on the river or railroad at a very reasonable cost. We will be pleased to give them a hearty welcome and aid in every way possible the building up of such an enterprise.

Republican "Reform."

Queer Election Methods at a Baltimore Primary.

Civil Service Commissioner Roosevelt on behalf of the National Commission, has been investigating the March primary of the Maryland Republicans and here is an extract from his report:

As a whole, the contest was marked by great fraud and no little violence. Many of the witnesses of each faction testified that the leaders of the opposite faction in their ward had voted repeaters, Democrats, and men living outside of the ward, in great numbers, and I am inclined to believe that in this respect there is much reason to regard the testimony of each side as correct in its outline of the conduct of the other. Accusations of ballot-box stuffing were freely made, with much appearance of justification. A number of fights took place. In many wards there were several arrests; in one or two cases so many men were arrested that the police patrol wagons could not accommodate them. In many of the wards furniture wagons were hired to bring voters to the polls. The ward workers stood about shouting, challenging, occasionally fighting, seeing that the ticket-holders peddled their tickets actively, keeping the furniture wagons sharply on the move, taking doubting or wavering voters into saloons and treating them to beer; and, in short, the whole aspect of the primaries, save only in those wards where there was no contest, bore no distant resemblance to the parliamentary elections described in Charles Levers' novels.

One of the incidents of the day was an effort on the part of Marshall Airey to drag a judge, whom he accused of misconduct, out of the window, a fierce scuffle being the result.

In another ward a Johnson clerk detected, as he thought, signs of cheating, and broke open the ballot-box, taking out two huge handfulls of so-called "pudding" ballots; whereupon the two Henderson judges threw him out of the window, and all three were arrested.

In another ward a Henderson worker, an employee of the Custom-house, pulled down the window at which the judges were sitting and tried to stop the election. On account of this excessive zeal he was taken to the watch-house and fined.

In a number of wards the election was practically stopped on account of the disorder early in the day. There was a general feeling that whichever side had the majority of the judges had the election. In some wards the use of the so-called "pudding" tickets seemed to have been quite common.

The question is, if the Republicans will behave in this way toward each other in a primary, what would they do to their opponents, if they had half a chance?

TWO CHILDREN were bitten by a mad dog in Wilmington, Del., last Wednesday.

A BIG SNAKE had swallowed the arm of Mrs. W. Huxley's child, near Buffalo Shoals, W. Va., last Wednesday when the mother arrived on the scene and killed the reptile.

Ten Days Early.

The Peach Crop Moving Rapidly — A Big Glut in Baltimore, etc.

The railroad market for peaches yesterday (Friday) was very flat. Sales ranged from 12c. to 30c. per basket—most sales at or under 20c.

Thursday was the biggest day yet known in Baltimore. The receipts footed up over 100,000 packages, and prices ruled low of course.

Ex-Sheriff Robert Calder, who lives at the head of Fairlee Creek, has a pear orchard of one hundred trees which is a curiosity. They are two years old and the tallest one is not over three and one-half feet, yet he will gather fifty baskets of pears from them. One limb has thirty on it. The trees are Dwarf Bartletts and were purchased of Mr. John Startt.

Mr. C. C. Strong says he picked the fruit from his two orchards in ten minutes! The hail of July knocked nearly every peach off the trees, previous to which there was not a finer prospect for a big crop in the county. Mr. Lem Stevens also has but few peaches.

Some Smock peaches were shipped from Rock Hall this week.

A gentleman of unquestioned veracity says there is an orchard of 200 trees in the fifth district in which there are 201 varieties! Who can beat it?

Shippers at Lynch's are well pleased with their sales. One gentleman of that neighborhood says his red fruit has averaged from forty to fifty and yellows from sixty to seventy-five cents per basket.

A shipper at Tolchester says he has gotten an average of fifty cents for all his fruit.

Some fruit sold as low as five cents per box in Baltimore Tuesday while others did not sell at all. A big glut resulted from sending small fruit to market Tuesday, and the best fruit was a drag.

Many farmers have not picked their small fruit. Several near Chestertown have thousands of baskets which they will not pick.

Twenty-five cents was the highest price paid at the Chestertown station Wednesday. Mr. Wm. S. Walker had some fine Stump of the World but could only get a quarter for them.

Wednesday was a big day in Baltimore 80,000 boxes of peaches being received and handled. The Chester river line alone carried 28,000 packages. The wharves were so crowded that some boats had to wait until the wharves were relieved by the wagons before they could unload. Prices were at the bottom and some street hucksters got their supplies at 7 and 8 cents a basket.

Owing to the big glut in Baltimore Wednesday the shipment of peaches Thursday was light. Only 300 baskets left the wharves here. Mr. Warfield, we understand, advised the shippers not to ship white fruit as it only brought the growers in debt and the commission men sent messages to the same effect. The northern market was firmer and good yellows brought 40 and 60 cents at the stations. Six carloads were shipped from Lynch's making the total on the road 25 for Thursday.

Much complaint is being made by the growers of the bad treatment they have endured at the hands of the railroads. They charge that they are fleeced of their peach money by excessive freights, which cannot be ascertained before shipping, and but little fruit is being consigned. If they can't sell they ship to Baltimore. One of our growers received $80 for his peaches, but when the railroad took out their $56 he hadn't much left out of his 80 baskets.

Mr. John Brice's telegrams of the condition of the Baltimore peach market have been bulletined at Stam's each morning during the week and read with interest.

Kent can find some solace in the fact that it is not the only place where the "yellows" exist. In Delaware it is playing sad havoc and the well-known Western Maryland orchards are also affected. The following was received Tuesday in reference to the disease in the Western Counties:

The peach growers in the neighborhood of Smithsburg and Edgemont are becoming somewhat alarmed at the rapid spread of the yellows in that district, and have concluded that active steps must be taken to exterminate the disease or many fine orchards will be destroyed. At the last Legislature a law was passed providing for the destruction of diseased trees, but this has not been very fully complied with. Many trees which showed signs of disease last spring have been allowed to remain in the orchards until the fruit on them ripened and could be gathered. This was bad policy, for the fruit ripened prematurely and was of little account, and the tree has by this time imparted the disease to many other trees. The Peach Growers' Association met in Smithsburg on Saturday and the following resolutions were adopted:

"Resolved, That all persons having trees infected with yellows are hereby notified to immediately remove the same, as the law in relation thereto will be enforced.

"Resolved, That the president of the county association he requested to call a meeting of that body in Hagerstown on Saturday, August 22, at 2 P. M., for the purpose of considering the propriety of adpointing an expert agent to visit Baltimore to inspect all fruit offered for sale on that market and have all that is premature condemned and the sellers prosecuted according to law."

Jacob G. Brown, one of the largest peach growers around Wyoming, scouts the yellows idea and declares that insects are the sole trouble. The insect discovery is claimed by Captain Joseph Bonsal, Thomas P. Hanson and Cornoeluis Station, and these growers have a yellows cure which is claimed to be efficacious.

It is a powder and liquid, and is applied externally and internally. The insect is a black bug smaller than a pinhead, which buries itself under the bark and absorbs the sap. While it is killing the limbs a white worm one inch long, with a brown head, is extracting the sap from the roots. Between them the leaves turn yellow, and the fruit apparently ripens a month ahead of time. In two years the tree is dead. From whence they come is not known. This spring Mr. Hanson had 1500 trees affected, but applied the remedy, and now they bear no trace of the disease. Capt. Bonsall successfully applied his remedy to several orchards, as has also Mr. Saxton.

The insect theory will be a sort of boomerang to growers and scientists, but its acceptance is believed to be only a short question of time. Experiments in other directions to determine the cause of the disease will now probably be abandoned.

The peach crop in the vicinity of Milford is said to be a complete failure, the young fruit having been killed by the heavy frost on the 4th of May. Theodore Townsend, the editor of the Milford Chronicle, owns about 6,000 trees which will not yield him $1. Henry Smoot, with an orchard of 11,000 trees, John J. Rosa with one of 8,000, Charles S. Barker with one of 10,000, Wm. I. Simpson with one of 5,000, the Messrs. Causey and other fruit growers are all in the same dilemma.

BALLOONISTS.—Mrs. Grace Shannon will perform her thrilling act of jumping from a balloon when thousands of feet in the air at Tolchester this afternoon and tomorrow. There have been five deaths of aeronants this week. The big airship of Professor King, the aeronaut, burst during an ascension at Manhattan Beach, Tuesday. The balloon rose unexpectedly carrying away with it the aeronaut and a couple that were to have been married in the car just before the rope was cut. At 8,000 feet above the earth the airship burst and the passengers fell in a cornfield with such force as to make them unconscious for several hours. Their lives were saved by the silk of the balloon forming a parachute in the descent and breaking the force of their fall.

THE wheat market is still firm, though there was a slight drop from highest prices the first of the week. The prices in Baltimore this week range from 80 cents to $1.13 per bushel. In Chestertown $1.01 is the highest price we have heard paid. The rise has encouraged our farmers to hold their wheat and those who have not threshed are not as sorry as they were a week ago. Mr. John Brice threshed this week and got 37 bushels to the acre while many others have gotten thirty and twenty-seven.

DOVES are plentiful, at least that is what our Court street club says. They have been very successful thus far. Messrs. James A. Shaw, John F. Howard, R. D. Hynson and Capt. W. C. A. Thompson went out Monday and brought home forty-six! We are indebted to Mr. Shaw for a half dozen of those fine birds. On Tuesday it is said there were fifteen to visit the field where so many were killed the day before and sixty birds were bagged. Mr. C. says it sounded like an army coming to take place. Postmaster Brown led the crowd on Tuesday with Mr. York a close second. Arthur says he don't believe his shells had any shot in them.

Tennis Tournament.

Lovers of tennis enjoyed a very pretty match between the Locust Grove and the Chestertown clubs last Saturday afternoon on the grounds of the latter. Messrs. Woodland Hurtt and Charles Farrar represented Locust Grove club while Messrs. Lewin Wickes and Clarence Perkins put up the winning game for the Emerald Club. Perkins and Wickes played the best game of the season, while Mr. Farrar deserves especial mention. In the doubles Wickes and Perkins won with the following score: 6—3, 6—4. In the singles Wickes beat Farrar 6—1, 6—3. Perkins beat Hurtt 6—2, 6—0.

Mr. Richard Wallace, of Georgetown and Mr. John Rose acted as referees.

The opening of Ocean Grove camp which is being attended by so many Kent countians took place Tuesday. Bishop Foss preached the opening sermon Wednesday to thousands of people. The authorities frown down on the playing of croquet or anything of the kind during the hours of public worship. Even surf bathing, boating and riding are not encouraged, and visitors are desired not to arrange for pleasure excursions by land or sea during the hours of public worship.

Rev. J. D. Kemp and family have been enjoying their annual outing at Woodlawn camp in Cecil county this week. Mr. Kemp has been attending this camp for twenty years and enjoys the services more than ever. His pulpit at Still Pond was unoccupied.

The second annual convention of the Easton District Epworth League will convene in Clayton M. E. Church September 1st. An interesting program has been arranged. Wednesday morning, September 2nd, Rev. R. Irving Watkins will talk on "The Epworth League in Epworth Hall" and in the afternoon Miss Lizzie K. Scott, of Galena, will speak on "The Junior League and its Work." Prof. C. W. Proctor will give an illustrated lecture on "The Air we Breathe" in the evening.

The camp-meetings at Whaland's Grove will be finished tomorrow night. There will be preaching service three times on Sunday. The Rev. B. A. Queeley will take one of the services and preach from this subject: "The self-invited guest." The public are invited and will find comfortable accommodations in the grove.

Law Breakers Arraigned.

Whiskey Disturbances—Assaults—Fined for Trotting Over Chester Bridge, etc.

Saturday night is a lively one for our officers, for it is then that the whiskey flows the most freely. John Thompson and William Harrison were lodged in jail. Monday evening upon a charge of drunken and disorderly conduct, and on Tuesday were fined by Justice Johnson and released. The following cases were tried before Magistrate Johnson this week:

Emory Stayton, colored, drunken and disorderly conduct, not guilty; Charles Beale, colored, swearing on the street, not guilty; Thomas Sinclair, white, Daniel Lomat, colored, James Oweno, colored, fined and dismissed for drunken and disorderly conduct. Maggie Wright, colored, and Joseph Lee were fined and dismissed upon a similar charge. Officer Simpson arrested Josephine Birch, for begging on the street, and James Birch, her husband, for resisting the officer in trying to take his wife from the officer. The woman asked a small contribution from a gentleman on the street, for which she was arrested in the absence of her husband, who upon his return not knowing of the affair endeavored to rescue his wife. It takes sometime to ferret out the root of the above evils, but we are quite sure that it will not be long before the violators of our local option law will be brought to justice. Officer Kelley is doing his full duty.

Andrew Brown, Jr., a Baltimorean visiting in Queen Anne's was arrested Thursday by Dr. George Perkins for trotting over Chester bridge contrary to the rules. He was brought before Squire Dodd and fined $2.50 and costs. He paid them under protest. Mr. Brown accompanied by Miss Carrie V. Sparks was on their way to Tolchester and claim that the horse was unmanageable.

Temperance Robinson was arrested by Officer Henley Wednesday and brought before Squire Johnson on a charge of assault and battery upon Hannah Hamilton in Morgan Creek neck. He submitted his case and paid the fine and cost.

Officer Henley arrested Maggie Johnson for stealing clothing from Ella Brown but was acquitted before Squire Johnson.

Operations Resumed.

Owing to the great demand for the strawboard basket the paper mill could not wait for new machinery and resumed work Wednesday. Mr. W. T. Matthews the efficient superintendent of the American Strawboard Company's Chestertown mill, received a letter from one of the largest consumers of strawboard in the State of Massachusetts, saying that the last carload of strawboard received from Chestertown mill was "The best carload of strawboard they ever received from the American Strawboard Co." The American Strawboard Company own 18 large mills. Mr. Matthews is the youngest superintendent in the company and is in charge of one of their best mills besides being the general superintendent and accountant of the paper basket works, which is the only factory of the kind in the world. This speaks well for a Kent countian and his friends wish him continued success.

THE OLD CHAPEL.—Mr. Sparks has gotten the old chapel moved as far as Bordley's corner after several days of hard work. It will be placed on W. B. Usilton & Son's lot and utilized by Mr. Hicks as a wheelwright shop. This edifice was built about the year 1865 by the late W. A. Biscoe on the corner of Queen street and Church alley and was used for a Sunday school room by the congregation of Christ M. P. Church. It was built during the pastorate of Rev. Lawrence W. Bates and cost $980. It was moved to Cross street in 1870 by the late J. T. Dodd during the pastorate of Rev. H. C. Cushing and 12 feet added making the total cost $1100. It was in this building that Rev. J. W. Trout and Miss Rosa Wyatt were weded and also Mr. B. F. Fleming and Miss Mollie Plummer. The last service in it was conducted by Rev. W. R. Graham.

CARRIAGES UPSET.—A colored man driving Ephraim Stoops' team left his horses unhitched in front of Mr. J. K. Aldridge's store Tuesday and they walked off, upsetting Mrs. Wilkins' and Mrs. Groves' carriages which were hooked at the rack in front of the stores. The carriages were righted without much damage and the darkey fined $1 by Officer Kelley for leaving his team unhitched.

MULE HURT.—Mr. Stephen Lecates brought a load of peaches to the boat last Saturday morning and while unloading the wagon the whistle blew and scared his four mules. The head mules ran to the left so far as to snap the end of the wagon tongue off which pierced the shoulder of the breech mule. Mr. Welsh sewed the wound up but it will be some time before she will be able to work.

Bible Presentation at Rock Hall.

Maxwell Lodge, No. 27, I. O. O. F., was the recipient of a handsome bible Wednesday evening, the 12th inst., the gift of Monumental Lodge, No. 14, of Baltimore. The bible has the inscription, "Monumental Lodge, No. 14, to Maxwell Lodge, No. 27," handsomely engraved on the outside of the book. The book was sent over in charge of P. G., S. W. Jones and P. G., S. W. Maxwell, members of No. 14. After the regular lodge business was transacted the doors were opened to the public, when the presentation ceremonies began. Mr. Jones made the presentation address, which was responded to by the N. G. of the lodge, followed by Rev. Mr. Roe, of the M. E. Church, then followed Col. Maxwell, that man of sterling worth in the order, and the promoter of the splendid gift of his lodge, the mother of No. 27, in one of his able addresses, for which he is noted in many parts of this great union. After the ceremonies were over refreshments were served. The event will long be remembered and handed down from one generation to another, as one of the happiest in this community. To the questions, What is Odd-Fellowship? and who are Odd-Fellows? which are being propounded throughout this community, the reply will be given next week.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—Robert Blackway, one of the best known and most highly esteemed farmers of Sassafras Neck, attempted suicide at his home one mile south of Cecilton last Tuesday. He made two efforts, first taking laudanum, which failed of its purpose, and then attempted to cut his throat. Mr. Blackway has been melancholy on account of pecuniary disaster for many months. We understand that steps were at once taken to commit the unfortunate man to an asylum.

FRACAS IN A PEACH ORCHARD.—Two colored boys, Alfred Wright and Noah Butler, while engaged in picking peaches for Mr. R. C. Smith Thursday began fussing which resulted in a fight. Wright drew a knife and cut Butler about the throat. Officer Henley arrested Wright who was released on $300 bail. Butler's wound was dressed by Dr. Catlin. Although a very dangerous wound the doctor reports the patient doing well.

BOARD AT FORTY CENTS PER DAY.—The county commissioners of Queen Anne's at their meeting Tuesday reduced the price allowed for boarding prisoners at the jail to forty cents per day. The price heretofore allowed has been fifty cents. This is cheap board. Prisoners at the Kent jail will be boarded at thirty-five cents per day after December 1st. This is cheaper board!

SOME drunken tramps stole Mrs. Wm. H. Blakeneys' work basket and contents from her yard recently. They were passing out the alley on the side of her residence and secured it by reaching over the fence.

THE Boy Band under Prof. W. C. Orrell's leadership gave one of their open air concerts Wednesday night. The Voshell House was given a serenade also.

SOAP!

Do You Know the DANGER of Using Soap?

WE do not mean soap made from proper material, and when we tell you that about ninety per cent. of Toilet Soap is made from refuse fat, gathered from tenement houses, hospitals, butcher shops and from cattle dying from disease or during transportation, you will, we believe stop and think. Putrefaction changes have taken place in most of this material, as it is mixed with lean meat, blood, bones and sinews. This material is melted, strained and clarified, but any physician or chemist will tell you that this does not destroy the millions of germs called into existence by putrifaction. Are you aware that many of the Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Pimples,

and other unhealthy conditions of the skin are produced by the use of common, impure soap.

We have been very careful in the selection of our different kinds of soap and believe them the best and purest manufactured. Our prices are low and we believe it economy to buy the best goods.
