CHESTER Alliance will meet at Mr. George S. Biddle's next Tuesday at 2 P. M.

THE grip is prevailing to an alarming extent in Cecil and Talbot counties.

THE sale of Mr. B. T. Taylor's property ought to read near St. Paul's Church, and not near Still Pond Church.

THERE is no public sentiment in Queen Anne's that we are aware of demanding a shorter season. The tongmen are decidedly opposed to it.—Advocate.

MR. R. G. NICHOLSON has just received from Tennessee a large lot of beautiful peach seed gathered from districts where there are no signs of disease. Surely trees grown from such are invaluable compared with those grown from drying and canning house seed.

DELEGATES ELECTED.—The Kent County Alliance met in the court house Tuesday. Messrs. W. J. Vannort, L. C. Justis, Jr., and W. D. Pennington were appointed delegates to the Maryland State Farmers' Association which meets in Baltimore on Wednesday, January 13, 1892. The alliance also adopted a resolution requesting the president of the State alliance to call a meeting of that body on Jan. 12, 1892, in Baltimore.

STOCK NOTES.

The Best Stock the Cheapest.

Mr. Bartus Trew is a great lover of fine cows, and has on his farm some beauties. Mr. J. W. Lambert purchased a fine cow of him last week, and Mr. Trew advertises others for sale.

Mr. John H. Greenwood has some of the finest cows in the county, and they receive the best of attention. We would advise some of our stock raisers to take a look at the auctioneer's stock when in town.

A fine Clydesdale colt, belonging to Mr. P. G. Wilmer, was badly cut in the neck recently by a barbed wire fence.

Mr. John Clendaniel lost another very valuable Alderney cow this week valued at $100. Her death resulted from nails in the stomach and her capers were simular to the cow that died last week. These were the only two cows that had access to the torn down duilding.

The following communication is from Mr. Fred. Welch, who is an authority on such questions:

A caution most needful to be insisted upon at the outset is that relating to the transmission of tendencies to disease and of actual disease itself. It seems that no man in his senses, knowing the result to the human family when this consideration is disregarded, would think for a moment of utterly ignoring the possibilities of evil consequences; but ordinary observation leads to the disclosure of the fact that among horses diseases and impaired constitutional powers are often transmitted in this way. Mares at an advanced age, too weak, too stiff and too slow to be of any further active youth, are to be used for breeding purposes; and the result is a weak foal, lacking both thrift and spirit.

Mares hacked about until they are ring-boned, spavined and splinted, or perhaps dropsical, or with a glanderous tendency—no longer useful on the farm or road—are relieved from the work that they can no longer do with any chance of profit. They are put aside for brood purposes; the result is a foal with a rickety or knotty osseous system, or with a tendency to some form of dropsy, or ready in the presence of any exciting cause to develop a case of glanders; and so of other disorders, more especially of roaring, thick wind, blindness, contracted feet, grease and affections of the brain and nervous system. Some mares have a peculiar predisposition to surfeit, some to swelled legs, some to vertigo, some to a sort of unaccountable viciousness—and no wise breeder can afford to disregard these things. If he wishes to rear a horse for service he wants a sound foal, and the way to get such a one is to have a good, sound, healthy dam, and this is no less true of the size; he should be vigorous and free from blemishes, malformations and hereditary taints. It is a mistake to breed mares too young—not until four years old at the earliest—as it not only prevents a full development of the dam, but brings forth a weak and unthrifty foal. It is idle to expect good, strong, well-formed, thrifty and spirited offspring from a mare that is either too young or too old, or that is subjected, even in maturity, to hard work, poor and insufficient food and cruel handling.

THE protectionists are in favor of free trade in labor, the only thing the working man has to sell, and high tariff upon everything he has to buy. This is the beneficent scheme of "protection to American labor."—Cecil Democrat.

"THE Oyster Question," by an oysterman in type and will be published next week.

BALTIMORE MARKET.—The Baltimore paper yesterday quote as follows:

WHEAT—Longberry, good to prime, 1.00@$1.05.
CORN—White and Yellow, 53@61c.
OATS—37@39c.

Galena Locals.

The depot at Lambson's caught fire on Saturday morning last, just a little before train time. It caught fire from the stove pipe just under the roof and if the cars had not come along at the time the building would have been reduced to ashes in a short time. Although there was a pump or two close by they could get no water out of them. The engine attached to the train furnished water sufficient to put the fire out.

The fourth quarterly conference of Galena and Locust Grove M. E. Churches will be held in Galena on the 12th, 13th. Love-feast on Sabbath morning by the Presiding Elder at 10.30 A. M.

The Rev. Mr. Ware, of Masseys, will preach at St. Andrews P. E. Church in this place Sunday next 13th inst., at 7 o'clock.

Galena is again stirring up, all the houses in the place are rented for next year, whereas there was some ten or a dozen idle this year. From the outlook at present we are to have plenty of butchers for next year. One has already moved in, a Mr. Kennard, and built himself a neat little meat-shop, where he expects to sell meat to the people of Galena and vicinity. It is reported there is another butcher to move here after Jan. 1. These with the one we have had here some time will be able to feed the Galenians without the help of the Cecil county butchers that have been supplying this market with meat for a long time.

Several of our stores are filling up rapidly with Xmas goods.

The farmers are busy at present butchering their hogs; there have been several large ones killed in this vicinity but we have not heard the exact weight; some had ones that weighed 400 lbs. and more. Mr. Lewis Hayes killed a pen of very large ones.

Our road makers are still at work improving Sandyhook hill by putting in pipes at the sides to keep it from washing.

It is reported that Dr. J. Horten Kelley is to move back to Locust Grove the first of the year; we are sorry to lose the doctor from our midst. P.

MILLINGTON NOTES.

The peach growers are very jubilant over the outcome of the suit against Tonkin & Ahern. Although they did not make much money, they will be all right for next year. Mr. Spear, one of the most earnest workers, did not get but $1.88, while others got as high as $40. Mr. Ford was one of the foremost movers in this matter, but his compensation was nothing. We understand that Mr. Comegys and others are to be sued.

The protracted services in the M. E. Church here have closed, resulting in six accessions to the church. Rev. Mr. Weller had charge of the services.

A live rabbit was found in a cook stove recently by Mr. Collins. The stove belonged to Mr. J. R. Jones, who purchased it at Mr. Staats' sale a few weeks ago. The stove had not been used for six months and had been stored away in the summer kitchen. After a lively chase the rabbit was caught, but afterwards turned loose.

Mr. Frank Smith and sister spent last Sunday in Clayton, as guests of Mrs. J. C. Lecompt.

A novel corn-husking match took place near Middletown last Wednesday. It appears that Mr. James Briscoe, of near our town, and Mr. Clayton, of Smyrna, were driving along the road and seeing the hands husking corn disputed as to which could beat. A wager of $25 each was staked and at it they went, three shocks of corn each being the amount agreed upon. Of course the excitement caused all the others to cease operations and watch its progress. Good time was made by both, they being used to it, and finally resulted in the Millington man's favor by six ears.

Esquire Johnson is busy shipping corn.

A young lady of our town says she thinks the young men of Chestertown are very thoughtless. While in town Wednesday she was compelled to tie her horse and also to loose him, and while doing so several young men walked by her without offering any assistance. The young men of your town will have to do better than that.

Corn is bringing fifty cents a bushel here. Mr. A. Hendrickson sold 1800 bushels Wednesday to Mr. Hill for that price.

Quite a number of our people attended the large sale of stock by Mr. Oldham Massey this week. There was a very large attendance and stock sold at reasonable prices. OCCASIONAL.

Lankford and Vicinity.

The usually quiet village of Vickersville was treated to a free circus on Saturday night, which took most of our citizens by surprise. It however did not detract from the beauty of the performance which was entertaining and stunning in effects, for some at least. We were first apprised of the fact by John B. bounding in the store of Messrs. Kilbourn & Son, closely followed by his father and brother with an expression of demoniacal fury on their faces and attempted to devour our friend Richard. But R. having heard of the soothing effects of the pine knot pillow, carefully placed it on the heard of John, who was trying to play Gladiator and the pillow had the desired effect. The younger brother thinking it was his time to act, rushed to the rescue, but was entercepted by Captain H. and given a sweet reception (in a pail of molasses.) The knife of the Gladiator was handed to the father, who vainly attempted to close the performance but was forced to retreat accompanied by his two sons, to the amusement of the audience.

The fishermen of this neighborhood have been quite successful this season. Mr. Geo. Rollison on Monday of last week caught one hundred and fifty bunches of white perch out of one pound net. Who can beat it?

Mr. William Dickinson who is visiting friends in Board Neck, made the distance on bicycle from Wilmington, Del., here in five hours, beating the record 30 minutes.

Rambler in his communication of Dec. 3rd., has got the right name for he certainly rambles. The pungy "Wren" did not drag her anchor nor was torn from her anchor nor was torn from her moorings, but simply slipped her anchor chain and came into shoal water and was not beached at all. Five men pulled her off. He also rambles on the price of oysters, we the tongers can't see any improvement in the price, we had been getting 95 cts. to $1.00 and the best have never brought less than 85 cents.

Lindsay the colored man has it easier at times but with a good prospect of passing in his chips. If he does recover he don't intend to reform until he has interviewed those foreigners who put it to him. HIVBR.

Fairlee News.

The Epworth League, of Salem M. E. Church, held a musical and literary entertainment Thursday evening in the church. The program was bright and cheering and consisted of singing by the choir, readings, solos, quartetts and an address by the pastor who took for his subject the motto of the league "Look Up, Lift Yp." All present entered into the spirit of the work and appeared to enjoy the evening's exercises. The league has again entered into active work here and the departments are all filled with earnest workers. The department of Christian Work will hold Epworth services every Sunday evening at 6.45. The department of Mercy and Help have organized a sewing circle which will no doubt prove a blessing to many before the winter shall have passed. The department of Literary Work and the department of Entertainment will hold meetings every second and forth Tuesday of each month with a bright, cheerful program. Of course the departments of Correspondence and Finance will never adjourn; they will always be ready for work. Next Tuesday evening the subject that will come before the league for discussion is, "That all men are sinners." Come friends and hear it. Remember our motto "Look Up, Lift Up," let us look to Christ our Saviour for inspiration and guidance in our work, with the prayer that through faith, by His assistance, we will accomplish the work unto which we have set our hands. The new officers of the League are as follows: President—A. J. Greenwood; 1st vice-president—Azariah Kendall; 2d vice-pres.—Miss Ida Bramble; 3rd vice-pres.—Miss Carrie Smyth; 4th vice-pres.—Clarence Bryan; secretary—Archie Ramage; treas.—Miss Ada Hudson.

Fairlee expects soon to have a religious sensation in its midst in the form of a Seventh Day Adventist who will arrive in a few weeks.

One of your handsome and gallant young men paid a visit Sunday evening to the belle of this vicinity. The couple spent the evening very pleasantly and it was 10.30 before the caller decided to leave for Chestertown giving as his reason for leaving so early that he had to rise before six. They parted and the young man drove off, but lo! When the road gate was reach he could not open it. He fumbled and said nice things and finally becoming wearied went back to the house and like the Knights of ye olden times called the belle, about to get in bed. She quickly dressed and coming down stairs was told the trouble. She went to the gate and showed the young man how to take the gate off the hingers which was the only way to get out. She went only as far as the gate, and there bade the young man a second good-bye. In the morning the young lady discovered that some one had chained the gate and my, she did scold the fellow who did it. Men are too scarce to be frightened off in any such manner.

Kennedyville Notes.

Senator Wm. T. Hepbron entertained a number of gentlemen from Pennsylvania and Delaware last week. F. P. Abercrombie, assistant engineer of the P. & E. R. R., at Williamsport, Pa., Supt. Holliday of the P. W. & B., Col. E. P. Stacey, of the Kent road, Messrs. Alsip and Armstrong composed the party. The principle object of their visit was to murder quail and rabbits. It is said that Mr. A. scared a black horse so bad as to cause its coat to turn gray. They seemed to enjoy their visit immensely, but the game was scarce.

We have quite a number of applicants for the treasurership. Among them is Mr. S. A. Merritt, Samuel Comegys and L. C. Justis, Jr., each of whom is a good Democrat.

The young people of the M. P. Church here are getting ready for a bazaar to be held the 17, 18 and 19 of this month. The officers are as follows:

Business Managers.—Chairman, W. R. McKnett; Isaac Cleaver, Thos Jones.

Bazaar Committee.—Chairman, Mrs. David Rambo; Miss Blanche McKnett, Miss Jennie Hill, Miss Bertha Redmile, Miss Minnie Hessner, Miss Fannie Garey, Mrs. Walter Melvin, Mrs. Q. L. Morrow.

Supper Committee.—Chairman, Mrs. W. W. McKnett; Mrs. Isaac Cleaver, Mrs. Thos. Jones, Mrs. A. Toulson, Mrs. John Barwick, Mrs. William Lane, Mrs. Thos. Redmile, Mrs. Wm. Stauffer.

Miss Lizzie Jones and Miss Marguerite Melvin will contest for a beautiful doll donated by Mrs D. Rambo. The one securing the largest amount of money will receive this handsome present. As both little Misses have a host of friends, the contest promises to be quite lively.

A pleasant annual re-union was held at the residence of John Bennett at this place a short time ago. It has been the custom for some years to have these annual reunions of a few familiar friends and it fell this year at Mr. Bennett's, The first year they met in Middletown; second year at Mr. Isaac Cleaver's, near Kennedyville; third year at Mr. Edgar Price's, near Millington; this year as above, and next year they will meet at Mr. Samuel Haman's, near Delaware City.

We learn that Mr. D. M. Cochran, of Middletown, one of the firm of Cochran, Talbot & Co., has disposed of his interest in the firm to his father, R. C. Cochran. Mr. Cochran anticipates removing to his farm near this place in the spring.

Mr. E. T. Comegys removed from Baltimore to Kennedyville this week and will buy grain. He says he has had enough of city life. There is no place like Old Kent.

MONEY IN YOUR POCKET!

The Final Arrangements are Perfected! Our Entire Stock to Go Without Reserve! Must be Turned into Cash! From January 1st, 1892, our business will be conducted under the name of

A. FREIDMAN & CO.

And, therefore, from this date, will make a Deeper Cut on our Entire Stock of

MEN'S, BOY'S and CHILDREN'S

Overcoats, Suits and Pants.

—ALSO, THE ENTIRE LINE OF—

MEN'S, BOY'S and CHILDREN'S SHOES.

Are to be sold at a great reduction. Since we have been advertising about our change we have sold a great many goods. We shall now make a deeper cut, as our stock must be turned into CASH! We have to-day the largest and most complete line for you to select from than was ever displayed in this town, and will guarantee you a saving of fully 25 per cent. in all your dealings with us. All we ask you is to look around, post yourself, then come to us and we will show you the difference. We have no sweet talk to offer you, but we have Bargains in Clothing and Shoes. The goods are ours—paid for—don't belong to any city house who shall say how they're to be sold.

STORM OVERCOATS. We have a large line, which we offer at $9; sold elsewhere at $12.50.

OVERCOATS FOR MEN, BOYS AND CHILDREN, such as Meltons, Kerseys, light and heavy weights; Fur Beavers, Plain Beavers, from the cheapest to the finest, are reduced, and you buy them fully from $1.00 to $3.00 less than elsewhere.

MEN'S, BOY'S AND CHILDREN'S SUITS, such as Double-Breasted Straight Front and Cutaways in Melton's, Worsteds, Cheviots, Harris' Cassimeres and Fancy Plaids, are complete in every respect. Come and examine them.

PANTS FOR MEN AND BOYS. We have the most complete line in Town.

SHOES! SHOES! SHOES!

We may be compelled to discontinue this line, and therefore will make a still Deeper Cut in them. Our popular $5.00 Hand-Made reduced to $4.25. Our $4.25 Hand-Made will sell for $3.50. The popular Rivited-Sewed is to go for $2.50. We still have them from $1.00 to $2.00 in all sizes. A saving of 25 to 50 per cent. on a pair is guaranteed.

To the shrewd, careful buyer OUR GREAT CUT SALES offer a Grand Opportunity. Respectfully,

A. FRIEDMAN.

☞NOTICE.—All persons to whom I am indebted will please present their bills for settlement. All persons indebted to me will please call and settle, either by cash or note, by January 1, 1892. All old accounts must be closed.
