Out for Cleveland!

The Calumet Club Declares for Him Unanimously.

I. FREEMAN RASIN'S RESOLUTIONS.

The Calumet Club last week at a well-attended meeting came out unanimously for Grover Cleveland and tariff reform by the adoption of resolutions offered by Mr. I. Freeman Rasin. Police Commissioner John Q. A. Robson made a short but ringing speech to second the resolutions, and Mr. Edward Harrison and president Harry Wells Rusk also seconded them. The resolutions were enthusiastically received, and every mention of Cleveland's name was greeted with loud applause.

Mr. Raisin said: "We are approaching a presidential election, the importance of which cannot be overstated. The democrats in every State in the union are preparing for that coflict, and it seems to me that we of this organization should make ready for our share of the work in that contest.

"The issues between the two great parties which will contend for the control of the country are so clearly defined that they are known to all men. The democratic party stands for moderate taxation, for a tariff adjusted to the needs of a government economically administered, and against the enormous republican tariff bill known as the McKinley bill.

"The democratic party stands for local self-government and the rights of the States and against the 'force bill.' It stands for economy in the expenditure of the governments against the republican party which appropriated in one congress a billion of dollars. It stands for a sound currency and is opposed to placing a fictitious value on any portion of the circulating medium of the country. This platform of the party made in '88 when Grover Cleveland was nominated and was the candidate of the party will stand and continue to stand until the verdict is in its favor.

"This club has already determined to send a large delegation to the nominating convention at Chicago in June next, and we will go there reminded of the fact that in 1884 the Maryland delegation, anxious alone for the success of democratic principles, gave its united and cordial support to Cleveland's nomination. We will go there knowing the futher fact that in that campaign Maryland contributed no small part to the success which made Cleveland and Hendricks President and vice-President. We ought to go there with the full determination of telling the democracy of the Union that the regular democrats of Maryland, who are always loyal to their party, will again be found fighting and doing their full share for the success of our party. There will be no lowering of the flag upon the issues, and we will support heartily any candidate that may be nominated, we cannot, and do not, abate our admiration for the man who led us to victory in 1884.

"In view of the fact that other persons claming great consideration for the work that the regular democracy has heretofore done, and with the view of putting this club in a proper position, I offer the following resolutions:

"Whereas the time is approaching when the two great parties of this country will again be arrayed against each other in a contest for political supremacy, a contest of supreme interest to the pepole because of the important principles that are involved in its decision.

"And as it is necessary that every democratic organization should fall into line and contribute its best efforts to promote the triumph of the party and of the cardinal principles that it represents.

"And as the issues must be fought upon the well-defined lines of revenue reform and sound money, revenue reform that means a reduction of the tariff upon all the articles of necessary consumption, and a repeal of the iniquitous provisions of the McKinley bill and of sound money that means an unalterable opposition to the use of any metal as a circulating medium that is not intrinsically worth the stamp that the government places upon it.

"And as in selecting a candidate as the standard bearer of the party for the highest office in the nation's gift it is proper that the choice should fall upon one who is recognized among the people not only as entertaining decisive views and convictions upon these subject but who possesses the determination to uphold those convictions by every lawful means within his power if selected to preside over the destines of the republic.,

"Be it Reolved, That it is the sense of this body that Grover Cleveland, being universally regraded as the leading exponent of the great principles adverted to and having already, by his course in the highest official station, demonstrated to the country his purpose to carry these principles to their successful vindication, and to give to the people of the country an honest and incorruptible administration of its affairs, that he should therefore be again selected by the democracy of the Union as its candidate for president, and that in this behalf this club pledges him its earnest and heartfelt support.

After other remarks, put the question and a hearty and unanimous "aye" carried them.

GORMAN FOR CLEVELAND.

The Maryland Senator Will Use His Influence to Elect the Fx-President.

A special telegram from Baltimore to the Philadelphia Times of Monday says: Friends of Gorman say that he recently had a conference with representatives of Cleveland at which certain old differences between them were adjusted and the Maryland leader agreed to help the ex-President. The action of the leading Democratic clubs of this city the past week, or rather since the Rhode Island election, in coming out so strongly for Cleveland was rather a surprise to hundreds of Democrats who believe Gorman to be as great a Democrat and a greater politician than Cleveland. The Calumet Club is to Baltimore what Tammany is to New York city. When it came out last Friday night indorsing Cleveland and declaring its intention of going to Chicago to whoop it up for the ex-President it was plainly apparent that the club was carrying out the instructions of Gorman. It is reported here that Tammany tried to induce Gorman to throw his influence to Hill, but the Senator only smiled when urged by the New York gentlemen and said that he thought Cleveland was the strongest candidate in the field. A politician who stands pretty close to Gorman says that the Maryland Senator will be on hand at the Chicago Convention and that he will direct the Cleveland forces. Meanwhile every Democratic organization and newspaper in Maryland is booming Cleveland, and Gorman is also using his influence in the South to the same effect.

OFFIEERS ELECTED.—Christ Church Lyceum held its regular election of officers Wednesday night, and the following were chosen: President, J. W. Chapman, Jr.; vice president, John G. Roland; secretary, Masoh Greenfield; treasurer, Miss Lottie Russell; organist, Miss Mary Chapman; chorister, Miss Julia Thompson; chaplain, Mr. E. N. Roland; executive committee John N. Dodd and Misses Annie Russell and Emma McFeely.

The Greensward Tennis Club, of Still Pond, met at the Misses Covington's on Monday evening and organized by electing Dr. W. E. Barnard, president; Miss Sadie E. Burgess, vice-president; Miss Ethel Covington, secretary; Miss Helen Covington, treasurer; the directors are the officers and Messrs. Maxwell, Price and Howard Turner.

TO MORROW, Sunday's, bonnet display will no doubt be the biggest show on earth.

M. P. CONFERENCE.

Many Surprising Changes in the Plan of Appointments.

The Maryland annual conference of the Methodist Protestant Church closed its session in Pocomoke Wednesday night to meet in Laurel, Del., in 1893. The election of delegates to the general conference which meets in Westminister in May resulted in the following: Ministers—Lawrence W. Bates, J. D. Kinzer, T. H. Lewis, F. T. Tagg, Webster M. Strayer, W. S. Hammond, Frank T. Little, J. T. Murray and E. J. Drinkhouse. Laymen—Dr. J. W. Hering, Daniel Baker, John D. Grant, W. J. C. Dulany, W. C. Coulbourn, Joshua Miles, J. R. Caton, Samuel Vannort and Dr. S. S. Ewell.

The reading of appointments showed many changes of appointments and numerous surprises. President Kinzer has done well in satisfying the various charges so agreeably to all.

Ex-President Strayer, who was generally supposed to have been slated for Broadway Church goes to Jefferson circuit, in Frederick county, with Luther F. Warner as junior pastor. This is one of the best circuits in the conference, has six appointments and is in a generally prosperous condition. The parsonage is in Buckeystown. Mr. Strayer succeeds Rev. J. M. Sherdian, who spent seven years there, and who now goes to Easton, succeeding Rev. J. W. Trout.

Mr. Trout was at Easton for three years and goes to Broadway Church, Baltimore, succeeding Hugh L. Ellderice, who held the pastorale for seven years, and who goes to Pocomoke City, succeeding A. D. Melvin and settling a question which has vexed the residents ever since the assembling of conference.

Mr. Melvin goes to Westminister. Rev. J. E. T. Ewell, who has been at South Baltimore for the past nine years, goes down on the Accomac circuit, and is succeeded by Dr. Lawrence W. Bates, who was last year appointed to Lafayette Avenue Church. Dr. Bates is succeed at Lafayette Avenue, or West Baltimore, as the charge is officially known, by Dev. F. T. Tagg, the foreign missionary secretary.

The East Baltimore or Mount Lebanon circuit, made vacant by the election of Mr. Kinzer to the presidency, will be filled by J. W. Balderston, of Centreville. Frank T. Little remains at Starr Church. Just before reading the appointments Mr. Kinzer made a short address explaining the difficulties under which he had labored in making up the list, and reminding any one who felt personally aggrieved of their right to appeal.

Rev. C. S. Arnett, who has been transferred from Salisbury to Union circuit, Worcester county, appealed, principally on the ground that the schools of the neighborhood were of too low grade in studies for his children. The case went at once to the committee on appeals, Dr. W. S. Hammond, chairman, and after half an hour's consideration of the case sustained the President and his appointment.

A MILLION SAVED.

[Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.]

ANNAPOLIS, April 10.—Governor Brown, on being asked to-day if he had received many communications on his action in vetoing the assessment bill replied as follows: "Yes, I have received a large number of communications from all sections of the State indorsing the veto, and have also noticed the comments of the press pro and con. On all questions of importance there will always be differences of opinion, and time must furnish the answer. It is much to be regretted that the assessment bill did not reach me before the closing hours of the session, so that the General Assembly might have had an opportunity to revise the points of objection urged against it.

In reply to a question as to how many bills had been vetoed or failed to become laws, the Governor said: "I think about sixty, or eleven per cent. of the entire number of bills passed."

"To what extent do your vetoes affect the finances of the State."

"The vetoes," replied the Governor, "other than the assessment bill, approximate $400,000. With the probable cost of the assessment added, I should say that the gross sum would approximate one million dollars.

"Will there be an effort made for a new assessment two years hence?" was asked.

"I think," replied the Governor, "that prior to the next session the tax question will be thoroughly solved, and that some good results will follow. In my judgment it is much better for the people at large not to have an assessment than to have a vicious or improper one, and I am thoroughly convinced that within the coming two years this position will be sustained by many of those who do not approve of my action in this connection. The true solution of the whole question is a constitutional convention, and the longer it is delayed the more the people will suffer from legislation the constitutionality of which is questioned.

PLANTING TREES.

Lankford, Broad Neck, Chesterville and Elsewhere Celebrate Arbor Day.

Lankford school under Miss Nettie Denny, a graduate of the State Normal school, is making great progress and the celebration of Arbor Day was a red letter day. The school room was tastefully decorated with evergreens and the word "Welcome" was in full view upon entering the door. The students and visitors were photographed by Mr. S. Kilbourne just before the exercises began. The visitors numbered about forty and included the trustees, Messrs. George Beck, George Jessup and J. F. Walbert. Each one present was presented with a flower. The following program was well rendered and highly appreciated:

Address.....Miss Denny

The pupils then marched to the green where two trees were planted and named, one for the trustees, Wallis and Vickers, the other after the teacher, Miss Etta Kelley. The pupils then sang, "The Class Tree," followed by quotations. The exercises then over, all repaired to the school room where refreshments of cake and lemonade were abundantly served. Music for the occasion was furnished by Messrs. Sam Kilbourn, organ; A. Kilbourn, autoharp; S. Vickers and J. Kilbourn, violin. Many thanks to the band and pupils for our pleasant evening spent with them. GUEST.

Oak Grove School.

A delightful Arbor Day was held at Oak Grove school, taught by Miss Miriam Leaverton. The program was as follows:

Reading, "About Arbor Day,".....Teacher
"A Spring Greeting".....Harry Jewell
Recitation.....Willie Calder
Dialogue, "April".....Lida Crosby, Sophia Beck and Laura Hubbard.

The exercises were continued by planting of the trees. Three trees were planted consisting of hemlock, holly and maple named as follows: Longfellow, Raleigh and one after the United States. While planting the trees the school sang America and recited several quotations. After planting the trees refreshments were served in abundance consisting of ice-cream, cake and lemonade. The school house was neatly trimmed with evergreen and flowers and several designs were drawn on the blackboard by the seventh grade. Miss Leaverton is a good teacher and we give her much credit for the training of the children. L. M.

The Day at Fancy School.

MESSRS. EDITORS OF THE KENT NEWS.—Dear Sirs: Arbor Day was fittingly, and we believe, profitably observed at Fancy School, on Wednesday, April 6th, 1892. The exercises consisted in part of readings, recitations, appropriate quotations, etc. This feature of the program rendered, pupils and teacher repaired to the school grounds and carefully planted three trees, which came from the nursery of Robert G. Nicholson, Esq., and represented first-class stock. First tree planted, a beautifully proportioned sugar maple, was named Christopher Columbus. There should be no question touching the appropriateness of the name given this tree. Second, was a cherry, healthy and sufficiently well developed for transplanting. This tree was called Napoleon Bonaparte, not because of the great soldier's inordinate ambition for military conquest, but simply on account of the fertility and vastness of his intellectual resources. The third, and last tree planted, but by no means the least, was also a Cherry of no doubtful variety and splendidly developed. This tree was by unanimous and willing consent, named for one of Kent's first and most honorable citizens, and Maryland's next Governor, James Alfred Pearce, Esq., (What think you of the suggestion, Messrs. Editors?) The planting of the trees completed, the growing ones planted on former Arbor Day's were carefully hoed around and liberally manured, this we do at least once every year. Trees planted in our school-yards, like the pupils in the school-rooms, must receive all proper care and attention, if we would have them grow up straight and well proportioned. Since our first planting in the Spring of '89 we have not lost a single tree, pupils and teacher are proud, and we think commendably so, of their beautiful shade found at the Fancy School. Our esteemed examiner, who has visited many times, all the schools in the county, thinks that we are as well protected from the heat of the noon day sun, as any of our near or more remote neighbors.

"TEACHER."

[Kent is proud of so honorable a son and whatever high position he may be called by the people of this State and county he would fill it with ability and justice.—EDS.]

At Masseys

Arbor Day was pleasantly and appropriately observed by the school at Masseys The teacher, Miss A. A. Duhamell, and scholars, showed a disposition to entertain and please their visiting friends, which was much appreciated. The exercises consisted of dialogues, recitations, reading and singing. Four trees were planted, which were named in honor of our first president, Geo. Washington, Ex-President Grover Cleveland and little daughter, Ruth, also our much esteemed friend, Rev. Albert Ware. At present the school has on roll forty-one scholars. VISITOR.

BALTIMORE MARKET.—The Baltimore paper yesterday quote as follows:
WHEAT—Longberry, good to prime 93@100
CORN—White and Yellow, 47@49c.
OATS—36@37c.

Swan Creek School.

Having been a constant reader of your interesting paper for many years I make my first attempt to write you a letter. I want to give you an account of an entertainment which it has been my pleasure to attend at school No. 8, taught by Miss Hadaway. An appropriate program was well-rendered by the school, the exercises consisting of interesting recitations, dialogues and quotations, interspersed with lively singing by the school. The most interesting part of the program was the marching to the tree in most perfect order, around which the teacher and scholars joined in singing the tree song, to the tune of "America," and then in the same perfect order they marched back to the school-room to enjoy a treat of excellent cake and lemonade, and a plenty of it. The tree was named in honor of the teacher. Quite a number of visitors were present. Now, Messrs. Editors, this being my first you will excuse me if I tell you just a litle about our school as well as Arbor day. Our school is in splendid condition, the government thoroughly systematic, teacher earnestly interested in her work, and we think, the best of all, the children are interested. With this state of affairs we must move onward. Some time ago one of our trustees was complimenting our teacher on the order of the school. "Yes," said she, "my children are good, and I am fondly attached to them, but really, I do not deserve the credit of the respectful obedience that you so much admire, for that is the result of the home training they receive. I am fortunate to have children of highly cultured and intelligent parents." So you see just how we stand, the teacher is pleased with us as well as we with the teacher, and if our worthy school commissioners and three wide awake trustees can have their say, we mean to keep her just as long as we can, no difference what old Madam Rumor may say. And now, Messrs. Editors, please excuse my mistakes, for I was educated in olden times and am no longer on the sunny side of life, and perhaps, you may never hear from me again.

Resp,y, CHILDREN'S FRIEND.

At Chesterville.

"Arbor Day" was very appropriately observed by the Chesterville school on Wednesday last, as recommended by Gov. Brown and our county school officers. The room was tastefully decorated with evergreens and mottoes, and the blackboards bordered with crayonings of leaves, also bore each some token of the day. The following program was nicely rendered under the direction of the teacher, Miss Bettie Wallis, to an appreciative audience:

Opening Address.....Caleb Cole
Bible Selection.....Teacher
Invocation.....4th, 5th, 7th and 8th grades
Song, "America".....school
"Trees and School".....Minna Pennington
Quotations.....Mary Cole, Estella Jarman, Minnie Penington, Ada Pennington, Kate Stevens, Eddie Pennington, Linwood Sutton, Mary Cole and Elma Sutton.

RECITATIONS.

"The Old Apple Tree".....Ada Pennington
"Mary's Flowers".....Mary Coppage
"Daisy Time".....Charlie Cole
Reading, "A Plea for the Flowers".....Mary Cole
Marching song.....school
Quotations.....Nannie Pennington, Carroll Nickerson, Kate Stevens, Elma Sutton, Edd Stevens, Eddie Pennington and Ada Pennington.
Song.....school

While this was being sung a tree was planted.

Recitation, "Planting a Tree".....Minnie Pennington, Estella Jarman, Mary Cole Nannie Pennington and Elma Sutton.
"Blessing for the Tree Planter".....Mary Cole
Song....."Woodman Spare that Tree"

Each pupil contributed either a tree, rose, or some pretty flower or vine to beautify their already beautiful school green. These were planted, except one tree, above mentioned, either before or immediately after the completion of the program. From the tree all were invited to the school room where a collation consisting of ice cream, cake and lemonade were abundantly served. The exercises began at half past two and between four and five all departed with a pleasant remembrance of the day. The children especially enjoyed it and no doubt would be glad if Arbor Day came more frequently. ANON.

Melitota Briefs.

Many farmers have been plowing for corn and some have been gardening, but if Hick's prognostication will last they will not get to farming as early as they think.

Peach trees are in blossom and a fair crop is expected, but not as many as last year. People thought spring had come, and got out their straw hats, but on Saturday they thought about getting their caps and were afraid they would get the grip. Men are thinking about plowing and women about house-cleaning, but it is hard to tell which will get done first.

Mrs. C. H. Hurlock has returned home from a trip North.

We are for Cleveland out here and are heartily with you in the formation of your club.

Col. Wm. J. Vannort has been out at Melitota talking to his friends.

Melitota school taught by Mr. J. A. Greenwood celebrated Arbor Day with the following program:

Singing, "We Gladly Come Today.".....School.
Recitation, "The Seed,".....Ida R. Beck.
Arbor Day Exercises.....School.
Singing, "Beautiful Songs of Spring.".....School.
Recitation....."The Origin of Arbor Day," Frank Hurlock.
Recitation, "Area of the Forest,".....Ephriam Bacon.
Singing....."Haste, Return," May Hurlock, Laura Greenwood, Della Lee.
Singing, "Labor Song, "Maud Hason, Minnie Miller.
Motion Song.....School.

Four trees were planted and named by the pupils in honor of Fulton, Washington, Lord Baltimore and Corey. The music was rendered by the skillful touch of Miss Laura Greenwood. I. R.

Crumpton Items.

On the opposite side of our river last Saturday was the scene of a great chase, 'twas between the whiskey dealer and Bailiff—— of Chestertown. On the apprising of the bailiff to prisoner, "You are my prisoner," the prisoner replied, "Oh come take a drink; we are well acquainted with each other, you know," &c., and while the bailiff was imbibing all alone, the proprietor might be seen (with coat-tail standing straight out to the wind) heading to parts unknown to the writer, but towards the forest, throwing dirt and wheat from his heels on his way. Worst of all, the poor bailiff had to return home as he came, without his prey, to try to do better next time.

Mr. W. R. Coleman has purchased two building lots corner of Broad and Third streets, fronting on Broad, and is going to erect a dwelling thereon.

Mr. J. W. Hubbard is contemplating building a separator at Millington. W. J. C.

One of our brag farmers, near Crumpton, is missing, and unless found soon there will have to be a scout or bailiff employed, and we want a Chestertown bailiff to head the posse. It seems to be the impression that he is lost or estray in or near Chestertown. Whiskey has its charms in Kent, and when let loose the imbiber goes it too freely and the poor families are the ones to suffer. Would that there was not allowed a drop to come in the county. There should be a law that when the man and wife are equally guilty in keeping such disreputable houses the wife should share equally with her husband the punishment. We ought to have more stringent laws enacted, as the present ones seem only a mockery.

Farmers are as busy as bees now plowing and preparing for corn, and in a few days time some of the early ones will be planting. Early potatoes, peas, &c., are already in. The growing wheat and clover are beautifying the country, and well the Kent visitor to Florida can say that "old Kent county can over the far away country with all its delicious fruits and pleasuring resorts, &c." Kent's soils, fishing shore and pleasuring resorts are unequaled in the State.

We still have a flattering idea there will be at least a portion of a crop of peaches, although the frosts and cold weather during the past week has been very much against them.

Rock Hall News.

The wind storm of Saturday and Sunday last, caused considerable damage to the fish traps along Swan Point and Huntingfield shores. Among the loosers were the Messrs. Wm. J. and John J. Warner, John M. Hersch, Jas. Thomas, Wm. T. Brice, S. B. Colyer and others. Capt. Link it is said had the precaution to cut his traps from the stakes and let them sink, thus saving them from being torn up. The surface of the bay was literally covered with drift rubbish. None of the fishermen were able to fish their traps from Friday morning to Monday afternoon on account of wind.

The outlook for this section is very discouraging for months to come. The oystermen have scarcely made their board since December. Oysters are now very scarce, prices very low, 30 cents being the best price offered for Swan Points and no others are wanted. A long closed season before them make many of the oystermen feel gloomy. A few will find work at Tolchester, when it opens, others will find work at the box factory, a number of young men think of shipping on board of sea vessels, but the great majority will be compelled to pick up their summer as best their can. Many are loud in their denunciation of the Legislature taking off 15 days of September and it is dangerous for any one to explain to them (if such a thing could be done) the advantages to be derived by such an outrageous reduction. But it is now too late to cry out against the Legislature, for 90 days the State assembly was in session and little effort of a concerted nature was made to show their situation to those who were clamoring for a longer closed period. Thus it has been always; we are compelled to submit to laws that are an injury to us. The new law, with the exception of the loss of 15 days in September, is very good and we hope it will be obeyed.

Capt. Ben Middleton several days ago shot himself in the hand while carelessly handling a pistol. The wound is not serious and seems to be doing well.

Dr. A. P. Sharp paid Rock Hall a visit last Thursday, bringing with him some of Florida's delicious fruit. A sample of oranges and lemons was left at the drug store of Mr. John Downey, one of which weighed 1¼ lbs. The doctor shows the strain upon him by his wife's affliction, whom he says is no better.

The Children's Aid Society, of Rock Hall, held a meeting at Miss Rhoda Downey's, Wednesday evening, April 13th at 7 o'clk. President, Julia Middleton; treasurer, Rhoda Downey; secretary, Nettie Hersch. The members are Rhoda Downey, Nettie Hersch, Julia Middleton, Ada Procter, Nannie Taylor, Ada Middleton, Delma Middleton and Raymond Hersch. Refreshments were served at nine o'clock. Quite a number of boys and girls were present who all seemed to spend a happy evening. Books are open for the reception of new members.

Appropriate Arbor Day exercises were held at school No. 2, Miss V. Belle Coleman, teacher. Quite a number of the patrons were present to witness the exercises. The children acquitted themselves handsomely and reflected much credit upon the training they had received; the singing deserving of special mention. Two trees were planted, one named J. G. Whittier and the other for the teacher. The following program was rendered:

THE United "Y" held their weekly meeting at the residence of Mr. John Roeder's near Hanesville. The meeting was very interesting, indeed. After the programme was concluded, they adjoined to meet at the residence of Mrs. Harriet Usilton April 18th.

CORN PLANTING.—Mr. William Gould near Booker's wharf one of the earliest corn planters in Queen Anne's, has now a rival in Mr. George Reed, tenant on Mr. A. J. Hynson's farm. They both have planted corn but Mr. Reed beat him two days, so he claims. Some farmers in Kent expect to plant next week but many will not commence before May.

Court News.

Orphan's court, April 12, 1892. Present judges Harris, Moffett and Burgess. G. Oldham Massey, executor of C. H. B. Massey filed his first administration account and distribution. Wm. M. Slay administrator of Mary R. Perkins, filed his second and final administration account. J. D. Urie and Ann R. Kelley executors of James Kelley filed inventory and list of debts of their decedent. Letters testamentary were granted to Anthony H. Johnson on the personal estate of Richard C. Johnson, who filed his bond in the sum of $25,000 and Samuel Cacy and A. F. Huey, appointed to appraise said estate. The will of Rich. C. Johnson was admitted to probate.

County commissioners met April 12, with a full board present. An order was passed directing the examiners on the bridge petitioned for at Beck's mill, to give notice in the county papers that they will meet all persons interested in the location of said bridge at Beck's mill, on 21st inst. at 3½ o'clock, and request their attendance. An order was passed directing the acts of General Assembly of 1892, when certified to the county commissioners, to be published in the county papers. The board was further engaged in examining, approving and passing accounts for payment by orders on funds provided and for levy in 1892. And also in ordering transfers and abatements.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.—On Monday evening, April 11, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Whaland celebrated the twentieth anniversary of their marriage, about seventy-five relatives and friends being present. Quite an enjoyable evening was spent by all, dancing being the order of the evening. Among the presents were the following:

Handsome pair bronze vases, Mr. Robert Whaland; set of goblets, Miss Gertie Whaland; large decorated lamp, Mr. George Whaland; set of silver spoons, Miss Bertha Whaland; sad irons, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Davis; large shaded lamp, Mrs. Chas. Kerr; Turkish towels, Miss Nellie Kerr; shaving glass, Charlie Kerr; vase of cologne, Frank Rerr; casters, Master Bradley Kerr; plaid muslin, Mrs. Amelia Davis; butter dish, Mrs. Hines; sugar, Mrs. J. Smythe; large berry and fruit stands, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bramble; handsome water pitcher, Mr. J. C. Davis; large lamp, Mrs. W. T. Miller; basin and cuspador, Wilbur Miller; set of goblets, Mr. Chas. Porter; cake stand, Mr. Samuel Porter; pair pickle dishes, Miss Rachel Porter; pitcher, Miss Nettie Davis; set of tumblers, Miss Hattie Davis; table napkins, Miss Nettie Boyer; dessert dishes, Misses Kate and Bessie Satterfield; comb and brush, Mrs. Carter; pair vases, Mr. Chas. Sewell; china fruit stand, Mr. Will Taylor; pitcher, Miss Susie Carter; linen towels, Mr. Frank Ayres; towels and table linen, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Glenn; fruit stands, Mr. and Mrs. Katon; cake plate, Miss Gertie Carter.

After refreshments were served the party dispersed, wishing their host and hostess many more happy anniversaries.

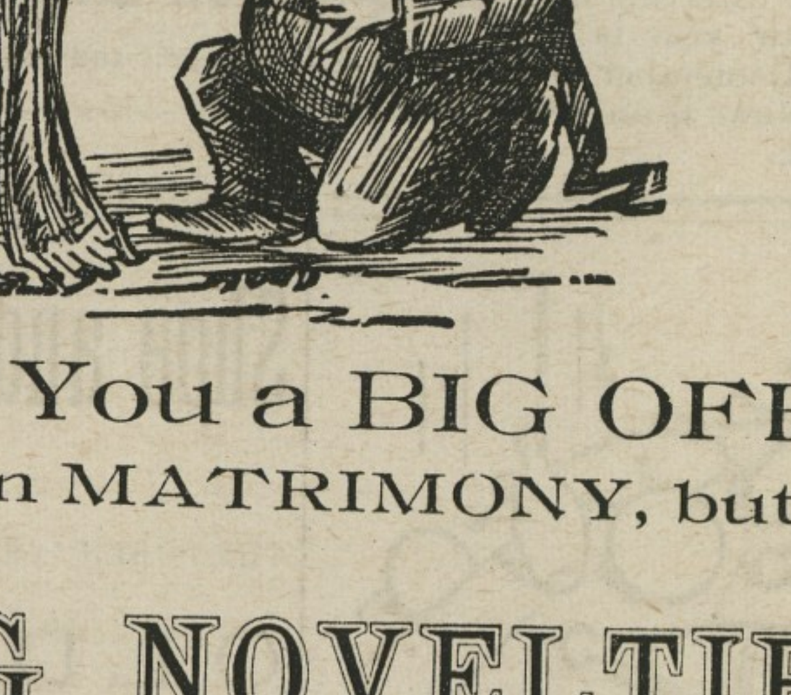

MASSEY SCHOOL AVERAGES.—The following pupils of Masseys school attained an average of 90 per cent. and over, for the month ending March 31: May Roe, 99.4; Essie Loller, 99.3; Agnes Roe, 97.7; Charlie Hemphrey, 97.4; May Maslin, 97.3; Mary Conner, 96.4; Cliford Hudson, 96.5; Hannah Ware, 96.2; George Ireland, 96; Lizzie Hemphrey, 96; George Pierce, 95.7; Harry Malsberger, 95.2; Elsie Malsberger, 95.1 Wilbert Hudson, 95; Samuel Tibbitt, 95; Joseph Dunn, 94; Johnny McGinnis, 95.2; Clara Allen, 92.6; Steve Pierce, 92; Samuel Everett, 91.2; Clarence Maslin, 91; Frank Everett, 91.

REMANDED TO JAIL.—J. H. Jones and Thomas Taylor were given a hearing before Squire Johnson Saturday charged with assaulting and attempting to kill John Lindsay at a festival in Quaker Neck, November 15, 1891. The hearing has been delayed because of the dangerous character of Lindsay's wounds. He was shot through the lung and was in a critical condition for some-time. At the hearing, he swore that he was shot by Jones, while standing so close that he could distinctly see and recognize him, and that he felt the heat from the powder. It was, however, brought out by the other witnesses that Taylor said, immediately after the shooting, that he had shot Lindsay, and he didn't care who knew it. Several shots were fired during the fight, one only taking effect. Jones and Taylor claim that Lindsay was quarrelsome, and had been knocking them around The evidence was sufficent to remand them to jail to await action of grand jury.
