LOCAL MATTERS.

Insurance Paid Promptly.—The insurance on the dwelling on the Hill farm, near Swan Creek bridge, which was destroyed by fire recently, to the amount of $1500, has been paid promptly by the Conneticutt of Hartford, represented by Mr. Edgar P. Beck, of Chestertown.

Manual Training Association.—The Manual Training Teachers Association, upon the invitation of Dr. M. Bates Stephens, held its regular spring meeting in Annapolis, Wednesday and Thursday. Those who made addresses were Dr. Stephens; Prof. Holloway; Mr. A. E. Hidey; Mr. Albert L. Faver, and Prof. Carroll Edgar.

Horticultural Society.—President Jas. T. Shallcross of the Peninsula Horticultural Society has made his appointments of the standing committees of the society. The following are the members from Kent: Pears, E. W. Emory and James S. Harris; Asparagus, Frank P. Cochran; Transportation, W. Irving Walker.

Arrested for Stealing Team.—Thomas Quigley, colored, was given a hearing before Police Justice Hicks on Monday afternoon charged with stealing Mr. Thomas Maslin's team from in front of Mr. J. D. Lucas' clothing store some Saturday nights ago. The evidence in the case was such as to warrant the justice in holding the accused for the action of the grand jury. Quigley is now in jail.

Purchased Fine Racer.—H. C. Orem has purchased from R. W. Rickord, of Denton, his fast horse, "Shadeland Boy." Horsemen say this is one of the best horses in Maryland and is about the fastest on the Eastern Shore. He is six years old and has a mark of 2.18, and was able to go much faster during the races last season, but his owner did not want to give him a lower mark.

No Dividends Likely Before July 1.—Many inquiries have been made of the TRANSCRIPT as to the dividend which it was expected the depositors of the Galena branch of the Farmers' Banking and Trust Co. would receive on March 1st. We learn that the receivers have not yet filed their report and claims are being daily presented for filing. It is not likely from the present state of affairs that a dividend will be paid before the 1st of July, even if so early as that.

NEWSY BRIEFS.

*†*The "Chestertown Stars" baseball club will play a match game to-day in the lot at the depot, at 2.30 o'clock. Come and see the boys play.

*†*Mr. Louis K. Stam is not only a good boat builder, but he is an early chicken raiser. He has spring chickens large enough to broil now.

*†*There is a brisk demand for good houses in Chestertown, and some of our capitalists would do well to invest some of their cash in desirable residences for rent or sale.

*†*Mr. Chas. A. Jessop and force have finished uprooting the trees and grubbing through Jessop's woods in Broad Neck, preparatory to widening the public road in that neighborhood.

*†*Capt. Sam'l G. Bennett, of Broad Neck, is preparing to erect a speed launch for Mr. T. William Trew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. W. Trew. Capt. Bennett says when she is finished he will challenge anything in Chester river.

*†*An article appeared in a local paper last Saturday morning to the effect that Gypsy Dave, so well-known to many people of this county, had killed his son-in-law. We are informed by reliable authority that such is not the case, and that Gypsy Dave is not the man, to whom the article referred.

*†*The entertainment given in Stam's Hall on Monday evening by the Peterter Sisters, of Chicago, was not up to the standard, and only a small house was present. It was no fault of the management, who has given the public an excellent series of entertainments during the winter.

*†*Mr. Nelson Ryan, of Rock Hall, one of the crew of the large schooner, Skinner, that was water logged at sea sometime last month, was, with the balance of the crew, picked up by a British steamer and landed at Ireland. Mr. Jas. R. Ryan, Sr., received word from his son last week that he was well and expected to be back soon.

*†*The town commissioners are improving Cross street leading from Main street to the railroad station by scraping the roadbed and filling same with sand. The commissioners are to be commended upon their efforts to improve the town streets, and we believe they intend to give all the driveways a thorough over-hauling and repairing, at least as far as the means at their command will allow.

*†*Mr. J. Kennard Aldridge, living on the Aldridge farm near town, lost a fine turkey last week and the supposition was that it had been stolen. He and his father, Mr. William R. Aldridge, were walking in the old camp-meeting woods last Sunday, and they found the feathers and carcass of the turkey. A fox had carried it off and eaten it. Possibly this is what became of Mr. Edgar J. Watson's chickens.

DEAR SIRS:—As as a tax-payer of Kent I have been reading with interest your articles in the TRANSCRIPT about good roads. I hope you will do everything in your power to bring about the passage of a law similar to the Caroline County Road Law. In 1876 or about that time, I have heard many of the older people say not more than $12,000 to $14,000 was spent on the roads and bridges in one year. Now we spend $30,000 and I understand this year the Commissioners say we have spent $7,000 more than they had spent this time last year. That will make them cost this year at least $37,000. As a tax-payer and land-owner I heartily approve of taking the roads out of politics and putting them in charge of a road engineer. Yours respectfully,

J. BIDDLE HOSSINGER.

RELIGIOUS MATTERS.

Mr. Caleb E. Burchenal, a prominent lawyer of Wilmington, Del., will address the congregations of the Methodist Churches at Chesterville and Millington on Sunday next, March 15th, in the morning and afternoon in presentations of the work of the Anti-Saloon League, which is at this present time doing so much to rivet the attention of the people of Maryland upon the question of the abolition of the licensed saloon. Mr. Burchenal possesses great qualifications of a public speaker and has a wealth of temperance facts. He will also speak in the evening of the same day in the Methodist Protestant Church at Crumpton. The pastors of these churches desire large audiences to hear Mr. Burchenal on these occassions.

Rev. J. M. Gill, pastor of Rhode Island avenue M. P. Church, Washington, D. C., has been having a gracious revival in his church. Many of the converts are regular attendants at his church. Among those converted this week was the well-known actor, Robt. L. Downing. After his conversion Mr. Downing spoke to the large congregation in a way that betokened great sincerity of purpose. It was regarded as the most impressive act of his life. He promised to devote the remainder of his life to christian work. Mr. Gill and his members are greatly pleased with the success of the meetings.

A Worthy Enterprise.

The Chestertown Public Library having just closed its first year of service to the community, the managers desire to report conditions and call attention to a few plain facts.

During the year just past the Library has been open every Tuesday, the members of the Woman's Literary Club acting as librarians. There have been 102 subscribers; 1146 books have been issued 67 new books have been added.

The management feels cause for gratitude and also disappointment; gratitude in that the Library has made material growth, has given help and pleasure to many and has made progress toward reaching the true reading public.

On the other hand it is disappointing that there should be but 102 subscribers out of a population of 3000—many of this number, too, are from other sections of the county—and that the public spirited men and women of the community have taken so little or no interest in the project.

It is believed and hoped this lack of interest has been due to a thoughtless oversight, or to a supposition that the Library was only a temporary fad of a number of young women. To prove the falsity of such a supposition the members of the Woman's Literary Club have done and are doing all in their power; they ask only the co-operation of the public to make it a permanent and successful undertaking.

The subscription price is but 50 cents a year, which entitles the subscriber to one book each week; with this money books are purchased, new ones being added every month. Subscribers are notified when their subscriptions expire; it is earnestly hoped all will be renewed. The Chestertown Public Library is for you, it asks and needs your support.

ENGINEER QUICK.

Water Engineer Quick, of Baltimore city, come to Chestertown last Tuesday and gave a thorough test of two hours to the mains of the Water Company at a pressure of from 90 to 100 pounds. Several small leaks developed during the test but Mr. Quick was pretty well satisfied that the mains can be made to stand sufficient pressure for fire purposes. He estimated the value of the entire plant, franchise, good will, contract and all at $20,100. It is understood that the Water Company wants $25,800 for the plant as it is. Mr. Quick met the water company and the citizens committee on Tuesday night, and submitted a proposition to the water company to make certain improvements, such as installing a new pump of 750 gallons per minute capacity, a storage reservoir, the taking up of three inch mains on Washington avenue and down Maple avenue, and putting in four inch mains, and putting in gate valves at all fire plug branches with proper street rims, and keeping an engineer at the pump house day and night.

He estimated that such improvements would cost about $3500, and stated that such improvements are necessary to give the town proper protection from fire. We understand that the company virtually refuses to accept the engineer's proposition, and the matter is in the hands of the committee for final settlement. Mr. Quick urged the water company to make the improvement for the good of the plant and for the proper protection to the property of the people, but the company refused to accede to the proposition, which was practically the recommendations of the citizens committee at their meeting two weeks ago. A bill has been drafted providing for the bonding of the town to provide protection, and it will be sent to the Legislature on Monday morning.

OBITUARY.

ROBERT H. VANDYKE.

Robert H. VanDyke, a prominent lawyer of Dover, Del., having been admitted to the Kent county, Del., bar in 1889, died at the German Hospital, Philadelphia, last Friday morning, where he was taken two weeks ago for treatment for a complication of diseases. He was 46 years of age. He is survived by a widow. The deceased was well-known in this county, especially in the vicinity of Kennedyville and Locust Grove, where he had frequently visited relatives. He was a brother of Mr. Thomas VanDyke and Mrs. George Glenn, of Locust Grove, and of Mrs. T. E. W. Crew, near Lankford. The Delawarean, one of Dover's weekly papers speaks thus of the life and character of the deceased:

"It is with real and deep regret that we are compelled to announce the death of Robert H. VanDyke. To those who knew him, the utimely passing away of this active, vigorous, robust man can scracely fail to be a shock, even though partially prepared for the sad news by the alarming reports of the last few days.

"Mr. VanDyke lived in Dover for upwards of twenty years. Though he had been a physician, he studied law, was admitted to the Kent county bar and continued to practice the legal profession until the recent illness which has just resulted in death. He was also a progressive farmer, keenly interested in agriculture and a large land owner, having valuable farms in this State and in Maryland. He took a lively interest in public and religious matters. He was an active member of the Presbyterian Church. He was an earnest Democrat, and at one time was quite active in party affairs. He supported the anti-license cause last year. Had his life been spared, we believe he would have been strongly interested in the campaign this year.

"The death of this vigorous, active, industrious man in the very prime of his manhood is deeply regretted."

Temptations of the Streets.

The streets are on the road to the saloon any many another evil place. There is no cerfew bell to sound the alarm. The street corners are the scenes of loitering, often of profanity and vulgar talk, cigarette smoking, and idle gossip, paving the way to the Children's court. Judge Ben B. Lindsey says of those who go wrong, "Nine-tenths may be traced to the carlessness of parents." Ideas of duty, reverence, obligation are not fostered in the home, and unloving, unsympathetic children are the result. Such children are without respect for others; they are never taught thoughtfulness and service; but their little world revolves around self and what ministers to selfish ease and comfort.

Ah, the wilful child, the disobedient child! What wreckage, what waste in human life at its highest and best because of neglect! The reform schools, the saloons, the asylums, the prisons become early the abiding places of the undisciplined, untrained, and uncontrolled. And beyond precept and argument are example, the life that is lived in the home, and the love that goes with it.

PERUNA EDITORIAL NO. 2.

Dr. Hartman has claimed for many years that Peruna is an EXCELLENT CATARRH REMEDY. Some of the doctor's critics have disputed the doctor's claim as to the efficacy of Peruna.

Since the ingredients of Peruna are no longer a secret, what do the medical authorities say concerning the remedies of which Peruna is composed?

Take, for instance, the ingredient HYDRASTIS CANADENSIS, OR GOLDEN SEAL. The United States Dispensatory says of this herbal remedy, that it is largely employed in the treatment of depraved mucous membranes, chronic rhinitis (nasal catarrh), atonic dyspepsia (catarrh of the stomach), chronic intestinal catarrh, catarrhal jaundice (catarrh of the liver), and in diseased mucous membranes of the pelvic organs. It is also recommended for the treatment of various forms of diseases peculiar to women.

Another ingredient of Peruna, CORYDALIS FORMOSA, is classed in the United States Dispensatory as a tonic.

CEDRON SEEDS is another ingredient of Peruna, an excellent drug that has been very largely overlooked by the medical profession for the past fifty years. THE SEEDS ARE TO BE FOUND IN VERY FEW DRUG STORES. The United States Dispensatory says of the action of cedron that it is used as a bitter tonic and in the treatment of dysentery, and in intermittent diseases as a SUBSTITUTE FOR QUININE.

OIL OF COPAIBA, another ingredient of Peruna, is classed by the United States Dispensatory as a mild stimulant and diuretic. It acts on the stomach and intestinal tract. It acts as a stimulant on the genito-urinary membranes. Useful in chronic cystitis, chronic dysentery and diarrhœa, and some chronic diseases of the liver and kidneys.

Our Peruna Tablet Is Peruna With Fluid Removed.

These opinions as to the ingredients of Peruna are held by all writers on the subject, including Bartholow and Scudder.

OF HYDRASTIS, BARTHOLOW SAYS it is applicable to stomatitis (catarrh of the mucous surfaces of the mouth), follicular pharyngitis (catarrh of the pharynx), chronic coryza (catarrh of the head). This writer classes hydrastis as a stomachic tonic, useful in atonic dyspepsia (chronic gastric catarrh), catarrh of the duodenum, catarrh of the gall duct, catarrh of the intestines, catarrh of the kidneys (chronic Bright's disease), catarrh of the bladder, and catarrh of other pelvic organs.

BARTHOLOW REGARDS COPAIBA as an excellent remedy for chronic catarrh of the bladder, chronic bronchitis (catarrh of the bronchial tubes).

BARTHOLOW STATES THAT CUBEB, an ingredient of Peruna, promotes the appetite and digestion, increases the circulation of the blood. Useful in chronic nasal catarrh, follicular pharyngitis (catarrh of the pharynx), increasing the tonicity of the mucous membranes of the throat. It also relieves hoarseness. Useful in atonic dyspepsia (catarrh of the stomach), and in chronic catarrh of the colon and rectum, catarrh of the bladder, prostatorrhea, and chronic bronchial affections.

MILLSPAUGH, MEDICINAL PLANTS, one of the most authoritative works on medicinal herbs in the English language, in commenting upon COLLINSONIA CANADENSIS, says that it acts on the pneumogastric and vaso motor nerves. It increases the secretions of the mucous membranes in general. In the mountains of Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Carolina, collinsonia canadensis is considered a panacea for many disorders, including headache, colic, cramp, dropsy and indigestion. DR. SCUDDER regards it highly as a remedy in chronic diseases of the lungs, heart disease and asthma.

These citations ought to be sufficient to show to any candid mind that Peruna is a catarrh remedy. Surely, such herbal remedies, that command the enthusiastic confidence of the highest authorities obtainable, brought together in proper combination, ought to make a catarrh remedy of the highest efficacy.

This is our claim, and we are able to substantiate this claim by ample quotations from the HIGHEST MEDICAL AUTHORITIES IN THE WORLD.
