LOOKS like Teddy has got to get down on his knees and ask forgiveness of the United States Congress before he can go elephant and rhinoceros shooting in Africa.

KING BILL GARLAND, the political boss of East Baltimore, has been de-throned and a mightier and stronger man will be given the political scepter. This has been a hard year for Bills—for instance Bill Bryan, Bill Jackson, and now Bill Garland.

WE PUBLISH in another column a discussion of the tuberculin test of cattle, written by an eminent physician for Hoard's Dairyman. We call the attention of our veterinarians to the article, because we believe many of its statements are open to discussion and are in direct conflict with the arguments advanced by eminent specialists and veterinarians for the prevention of tuberculous in cattle.

THE Jackson Day dinner given at the Hotel Rennett, Baltimore, by the Democratic Club, of Baltimore city, to the united and harmonious Democracy of Maryland, was a grand success. It was the launching of the fight for the constitutional amendment by the Democrats, and from the enthusiasm manifested at the gathering, it looks as if the Democracy of the state will make a red-hot fight for the passage of the amendment.

MR. FRANCIS M. SOPER, the Delaware apple king, and well-known in this section, is a member of the Delaware Legislature recently elected. Mr. Soper's action in the Legislature has caused a deadlock in the organization of the lower House, he refusing to vote for the Democratic caucus nominee for speaker and clerk. The temperance element of the State is behind Mr. Soper, who declares that he will not vote for any other than a Kent county, Del. man for speaker. Democratic members of the Legislature are condemning Mr. Soper severely for what they term traitorous action. The great trouble is that the Democratic party in Delaware is seriously in need of a practical, common sense leader. Since writing the above Mr. Soper has relented and agreed to support the caucus nominee on condition that he and his friends name the committee on corporations, the chief committee of the house.

THE EDITORS WISH to thank our patrons and subscribers for the promptness with which they are responding to our bills. Others are being sent out from time to time, and we ask for a prompt settlement of all accounts, as we are anxious to settle the affairs of the business for the past year as early as possible. The editors are also very grateful for the substantial evidences of support for the present year, and will exert every effort to push to the limit the interest of our patrons and to give our subscribers the freshest and newest news every week. We desire, however, to call the attention of those merchants who do not advertise to the absolute necessity in these progressive times for consistent and persistent advertising. Advertising has become just as essential to the success of a man's business to-day as oil is to the working parts of a locomotive, and the man who fails to let the people know what he has to sell through the medium of a well edited newspaper, fails to grasp the real essential attribute of his business success. That is as true as that the sun shines, and we ask our merchants to think carefully over this matter. We do not say this because we mean it as two strikes for ourselves and one for the merchant. We say it because conditions of competition in trade are such to-day as to demand legitimate and consistent advertising and the people have been educated to look for what they want to buy in the newspaper. We ask any merchant in Chestertown or Kent county, who did not advertise his business this year to take out some space in the TRANSCRIPT, attend to his changes every week, and if he does not find it pays him to advertise with us, he is a different man from every other merchant who has looked after his changes of advertisements in the TRANSCRIPT. Now is the time to make your contracts. The TRANSCRIPT will make your advertisement pay you by the same method we have adopted with all our advertisers. Look into this matter, Mr. Advertiser.

COUNTY GRANGE
Royally Entertained by Fairlee Subordinate Grange on Thursday.

The annual meeting of the Kent Co. Pomona Grange was held at Fairlee, Thursday, January 7, 1909, and was royally entertained by Fairlee Grange. Notwithstanding the inclement weather sixty members were present.

The principal business was the election of officers. Worthy Master, Robert G. Nicholson called the grange to order with Past Master, of the Chestertown Grange, James T. Anthony, acting overseer.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Master W. B. Harris, Still Pond Grange; Overseer, J. P. Nicholson, Fairlee Grange; Lecturer, H. P. Skipper, Chestertown Grange; Steward, W. Jones, Millington Grange; Lady Assistant, Mrs. G. I. Barwick, Kennedyville Grange; Chaplin, A. M. Kendall, Fairlee Grange; Treasurer, T. C. Roe, Millington Grange; Secretary, W. G. Smyth, Fairlee Grange; Doorkeeper, Wilmer Ford, Still Pond Grange; Mrs. J. H. Clendaniel, Kennedyville Grange; Ceces, Mrs. F. M. Miller, Chestertown Grange; Pomona, Mrs. W. D. Pennington, Still Pond Grange. The election of officers having occupied the morning session, a recess was taken and a fine dinner enjoyed by all.

At the afternoon session the officers were installed by deputy organizer, Jas. T. Anthony. The excellent programme prepared by the lecturer was much enjoyed. The papers read by the members will be published in full to due time. By invitation the next quarterly meeting will be held the first Thursday in April at Millington.

Suit for Breach of Promise.

Miss Martha Maslin, a former school teacher of Rock Hall, has entered suit in the Philadelphia courts against Mr. Thornton W. Shelmerdine, her lover, for $50,000 or more for alleged breach of promise to marry. Some time ago Miss Maslin's parents announced their daughter's engagement to Mr. Shelmerdine, and preparations were made for the wedding. Mr. Shelmerdine reconsidered his position in the matter and is reported to have refused to marry upon the ground that what he thought was a deep-rooted attachment was only a boyish infatuation. Miss Maslin states that the courtship had continued for two years, and had resulted in a promise from Mr. Shelmerdine to marry her. Suit for $50,000, was entered in the Philadelphia courts on Monday against Mr. Shelmerdine, who is a member of one of Germantown's most prominent families. Miss Maslin alleges that owing to the custom prevailing in small communities like Rock Hall, the fact that she did not marry after announcing her engagement makes her position a most unenviable one, and that she is subjected to much annoyance.

"It was mistaken feeling," said young Shelmerdine. "I thought it was love, realized it was not and talked it over with Miss Maslin. She agreed that we ought not to marry. Then she came North, was badly advised and sued. It is a mistaken condition of feeling."

Survey For Bay Bridge.

Chief Engineer Bugler, of Westinghouse, Church & Co. engineers has almost finished a survey of the suggested site for a bridge across Chesapeake Bay. He has 100 photographic views and much interesting data to submit to the Committee in charge of the survey.

That the engineer will make an encouraging report is the opinion of Secretary Boggs, of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, which organization appropriated $1,000 for the initial survey. The completed report will be finished in about ten days.

Mr. Bugler will submit the photographs with his report. There will also be a complete map of the bottom of the bay between the points of the proposed bridge. According to Mr. Bugler, Mr. Boggs said, the ice problem in the bay can be entirely eliminated. That was the question which many persons feared would overcome the project.
