LOCAL MATTERS.

Prohibition Delegates.—The following named persons have been appointed delegates to the Prohibition Party State Convention, to be held in Baltimore, Md., May 7: J. H. Weist, M. A. Toulson, B. F. Rash, J. R. Jarrell, F. C. Bottomly, G. W. Covington, L. Wilmer Ford, C. B. Krusen.

Mr. Kennard Hurt.—Mr. Joseph T. Kennard, a prominent horse-trainer of this town, was seriously hurt on Tuesday morning, while driving a colt belonging to Mr. William A. Bell, on Rose Hill track. Mr. Kennard was thrown from the sulky and several of his ribs were fractured. Dr. H. Bengt Simons was called and dressed his wounds. Mr. Kennard is doing as well as can be expected, though he is still confined to his bed.

To Fight White Plague.—The work of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association is soon to be extended to Kent county. Mr. Roy Stockwell, the assistant secretary of the Association, was in Chestertown last week arranging for a number of meetings to be held here in June, at which the general subject of tuberculosis will be thoroughly discussed. Mr. Stockwell has already visited a great many towns throughout the State, where active campaigns have been carried on, and great interest aroused. Further announcement will be made of the plans which are now under consideration.

NEWSY BRIEFS.

Washington College Commencement Week will be June 11-16.

Mr. Hope Hudson is the agent for a durable lead pencil sharpener.

Several fishermen in Langford Bay caught more than a bushel of crabs in their fishes one day this week.

Big game of base ball at the college today. Washington vs. University of Maryland.

Arbor Day was observed by the schools throughout the county yesterday with exercises appropriate to the occasion.

Mr. Marcus Asher, the champion wool buyer, has been paying 25 cents for wool this week, and he is buying considerable quantities of it.

Mr. Frank H. Howard has recently painted Prof. E. J. Clarke's pretty home on Washington avenue in attractive colors.

Mrs. George B. McWhorter has the most beautiful tulip bed in Chestertown. It has been greatly admired during the week.

The oyster season closed yesterday. It has been one of the most unprofitable in many years according to information from well-known oystermen.

Farmers generally have been busy planting corn this week. The cool weather has been detrimental to the growth of grass, and many of the farmers' feed is getting low.

John D. Urie, Esq., counsel for Mrs. Mary Baker, against whom a jury found a verdict in the case of Dr. Ford vs. Mrs. Annie Hayes Harper for $91.50 last week, has filed a motion for a new trial.

Mr. William Steel, the well-known plumber, of Galena, is at work on a large contract at Sudlersville, installing bath-room fixtures in the home of Mr. George A. Hart, and erecting a windmill and large tank.

The piano, used at the Glee and Mandolin Club Concert in William Smith Hall last week, was a fine Hamilton, for which Hughes & Newman are the agents. It is of splendid make and action.

The time of meeting of the Chestertown Grange is the first and third Tuesday evenings in the month at seven o'clock instead of the second and fourth as published elsewhere in Grange notes. Please bear this correction in mind.

Aunt Fannie Nichols, one of the oldest and best known colored women in the town, and Alfred Worrall, a respected colored man, died Thursday night. Aunt Fannie had kept an oyster saloon in Chestertown for years and was respected by all who knew her.

The weather man seems determined to put an end to fruit prospects in this county. There will not be enough peaches to can in the general verdict, and if the cold weather continues much longer there will be no cherries or apples and only a sprinkling of Keiffer pears.

Mr. G. C. Milbourn, of near Sudlersville, has accepted a position as salesman in Mr. C. C. Jones' large shoe store, vice Mr. David Moore, who has decided to return to the ministry, and has accepted a charge at Elk Neck, Cecil county, an appointment in the M. E. Conference.

Mr. Charles H. Jefferson has purchased of Mrs. George W. Harper, the residence of High street now occupied by Dr. G. Allen Jarman. The price is said to have been $4000. Mr. Jefferson is undecided as to whether he will remove from his fine estate in Queen Annes Jan. 1, 1910.

The Annual Oratorical Contest of Maryland Colleges took place at Maryland Agricultural College last evening. Washington College was represented by Mr. W. Raymond Moody, with Mr. Ruskin Warren as alternate. Prof. Clarke, one of the officers of the association, was also present.

"Bibi" the spectacular drama and several fancy drills to be given in Stam's Hall next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings will be, we are sure, one of the most popular entertainments ever given in this town. The supper the last evening—Thursday—will be a sumptuous one, and will be splendidly served. All for the benefit of the Town Improvement Association.

Through the courtesy of the Second National Bank we are able to use their space again this week for other advertisements. The Second National Bank is always ready and willing to accommodate its friends and the public, and for this reason has grown to be one of the largest and most prosperous banks in the State. Its statement will appear next week.

Circuit Court.

SATURDAY. The case of Mrs. Charles Brown vs. the commissioners of Kent county for $10,000 for damages received in an accident on the public road near St. Paul's Church, was continued during the session on Saturday. Court adjourned at one o'clock, until eleven o'clock on Monday.

MONDAY. Case of Mrs. Brown vs. county commissioners consumed the entire day on Monday. An evening session was held at which argument in the above case was heard.

TUESDAY. The above case was given to the jury shortly after court convened on Tuesday morning. After being out all day Tuesday and far into the night, the jury disagreed and was discharged.

WEDNESDAY. The case of Rogers vs. N. Huey to determine title to a farm purchased sometime ago by Mr. Huey, was called. The jury was drawn and selected, but the case was compromised. Verdict not guilty. Beck and H. E. Perkins. State vs. Elisha Skull for violation of Local Option Law. Jury trial. Verdict not guilty. Beck and Wickes.

ABOUT YOUR FRIENDS.

Continued from supplement. Mr. Harry Anthony, formerly pursuer on the B. S. Ford, we regret to state, is in the hospital in Baltimore, for special treatment, and his wife was summoned to his bedside this week. About three weeks ago Mr. Anthony injured his hand, and it is feared that serious consequences have arisen from the wound.

Mr. Worldof Burnside and sister, Miss Ruth Burnside, of Hyattsville, were guests over Sunday of their sister, Mrs. J. Jesse T. Graham, on Front street. Dr. George R. Jones, of Galena, was in Chestertown on business on Thursday. Dr. Jones is building up a fine practice in north Kent and Galena.

Deputy Postmaster Wm. H. Lambert has been confined to his bed by sickness during the week, and is not much improved at this writing.

Col. Wm. J. Vannort has been afflicted with lumbago for some days. Mr. John Hessey, one of Washington College's popular students, dislocated two joints on the little finger of his right hand one day last week while playing ball.

Miss Agnes Estes, we regret to state, is quite sick at her home on Cannon street. Miss Fannie Morris, of Baltimore, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leary, on Queen Street.

Courtland T. Hall, of Wakefield, R. I., a former wellknown resident of Sassafras, Md., died on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Charles Albert Rawleigh left on Wednesday for Baltimore, where he has secured employment at carpentering.

Mrs. Nicholson and daughter, of near Washington, sister and niece of Dr. James R. Micou, are his guests at his home on College Hill. They will remain for some time.

Mrs. Annie H. Stam is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Hooker, in Philadelphia.

THE MUSICAL COMEDY

"Bi-Bi"—Popular in Other Towns to be Presented Here.

Bibi, a spectacular musical comedy of toys, will be given in Stam's Hall, May 4 and 5, for the benefit of the Ladies' Town Improvement Association under the direction of Miss E. June Breimer, of the Central Entertainment Bureau, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Seventy-five of the best local characters having been secured, it promises to be one of the best entertainments ever given in Chestertown. Some of the amusing features of the evening will be the Jumping Jacks in the rear, the Jumping Jack suits, making funny grimaces as they slide up and down the poles. The little boys, in their letter-block costumes, as they spell words, to the delight of the audience; the tiny tots trip lightly across the stage in their fairy revs; the paper dolls, as they glide across the stage, and, when cut apart, execute a pretty little song and drill.

One of the best features of the evening will be the Mexican and Tambourine drill by nine young ladies in Mexican costume. Another pleasing feature will be the "So Long Mary" drill by a double sextette. Even the animals that come from Noah's ark and Jack-in-the-box are brought to life by the magic smelling salts. The entertainment, while it is musical and spectacular, bristles with wit and humor, and there is not a dull moment the entire evening.
