The church was beautifully trimmed in ferns, daisies and potted plants. The ushers, Messrs. Herman Crew and Robie Sutton formed an arch with white canes under which passed the bride party. The bride wore a white princess gown and veil caught with orange blossom, and carried a bouquet of white bride's roses. The maid of honor, Miss Evelyn Ford, wore white princess and carried pink carnations. Misses Helen Crew and Miss Bessie Leigh were bridesmaids, wearing white princess with pink directorate sashes and carried pink carnations. Mr. Geo. Erice was best man. The groom, best man and ushers wore the conventional black suits, white vests, ties and gloves. Under a triple arch of evergreen and daisies, the marriage was solemnized by Rev. E. H. OBITUARY.

PROF. J. A. GREENWOOD.
Prof. J. A. Greenwood, died at his home in Rock Hall at six o'clock yesterday morning after a lingering illness, aged 66 years. Prof. Greenwood until a few months ago when, on account of declining health, was compelled to retire, was one of our best and most prominent educators, having for many years been principal of the public school at Rock Hall. Prof. Greenwood's ability as a teacher had long been recognized by the people and educators of this county.
He leaves a widow and four children, two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Kendall and Mrs. George Otenger, and two sons, Mr. Clarence A. and Prof. Arthur J. Greenwood.

COL. WILLIAM SCOTT ROBERTS.
Col. William Scott Roberts, a veteran newspaper man and a prominent citizen, died at his home in Centreville, at 1 o'clock on Tuesday morning of cirrhosis of the liver, after a lingering illness, aged 71 years. He had been in declining health for a year or more past. Early in 1909 he entered a Philadelphia hospital for treatment, and for some time seemed to be greatly improved, but recently a sudden change occurred, and he grew steadily worse until his death.

Colonel Roberts was born July 11, 1838, and was the eldest son of the late Col. Lemuel Roberts, who was born in December, 1802, and who throughout his entire life followed farming, cultivating land for which his father, Benjamin Roberts, obtained a grant in 1794. Col. W. Scott Roberts' mother, Mrs. Maria J. Scott Roberts, was a native of Annapolis and a daughter of William Scott, of England. Mrs. Roberts died on the old homestead in Queen Anne's county in 1881.
Colonel Roberts was reared on his father's farm until the fall of 1851, when he entered the Maryland Military Academy at Oxford, whence he graduated in the spring of 1859. In December of that year he went to Frederick, where he took up the study of law in the office of Joseph M. Palmer, and in 1862 he was admitted to the bar, and began to practice in Westminster, Carroll county. During his residence in Carroll county he edited and published the Westminster Advocate, and for some time the Westminster Advocate. In May, 1864, he returned to his native county, where he had since resided.

In 1875 he purchased the Centreville Record, of which he was the head until July 1, 1906, when he retired and sold out to the present owner, James T. Bright, of the Centreville bar. Colonel Roberts was a man of ability, who handled with masterly skill the questions of public interest, presenting them in a fair, unprejudiced manner. His record, which he was the head of in this section of the State, neat in appearance, interesting in its editorials and profitable from a business standpoint. In 1883 the Colonel served as a Presidential elector.
In 1872 Colonel Roberts married Miss Eliza J. Dunbracco, who survives him. Since 1882 he had been a member of the Masonic fraternity, and had served as senior warden of the blue lodge. He was a public-spirited, progressive citizen, deeply interested in everything pertaining to the welfare of the community. He was a Democrat and was one of the party's most ardent supporters. Mr. Finley Roberts, of Sutersville, is a brother.

MRS. MARGARET G. JANVIER.
In the death of Mrs. Margaret G. Janvier, of near Worton, Friday, May 28, aged 67 years, Kent county has lost one of its loveliest and sweetest christian characters, and Kent one of her most noble women. Her funeral took place at 1 P. M. Sunday May 30, Rev. Sewell Hepbron officiating. The bearers were Messrs. P. A. M. Brooks, Harry Nichols, John Gale, Edward W. Hepbron, E. M. Bonwell and Harry Stavely. W. H. Krusen, undertaker.

RELIGIOUS MATTERS.

Rev. A. S. Mowbray, district superintendent of Wilmington District of Wilmington M. E. Conference, accompanied by his son, Alpheus G. Mowbray, and daughter, Miss Agnes Mowbray, and also some friends living at Port Deposit, Md., will sail from Philadelphia, on an American Line steamer, on July 24th, for a trip to Europe. The party will tour England, Scotland, Belgium, France and Germany. Dr. Mowbray will make an extended tour of Scotland before his return home, coming later than the other members of the party, who will be back in about six weeks.
The pastor, Rev. C. W. Moore, of Ashby Church, will preach a special sermon on Christian Education Sunday morning. All the parents are cordially requested to be present. Offering at the door.
The Trustees of Rock Hall M. E. Church, at their June meeting, voted to expend considerable money to make more pleasing their church plant. A new organ for the audience room, a piped-tone reed instrument, the best of its kind in the market, has been ordered and will probably be installed by June 13th. The heating plant will be rebuilt and improved from the furnace to the chimney. A new ceiling will be put on the vestibule and the concrete finish of the exterior of the front of the church will be repaired. Among other improvements, the Ladies' Aid has contracted for the repainting of the exterior of the parsonage.
The congregation of Mt. Salem M. E. Church at its first quarterly conference unanimously invited the Rev. Dr. W. L. White to return as its pastor for another year. Only in cases where the pastor is unusually popular are invitations extended at first quarterly conferences. Dr. White has been pastor of Mt. Salem Church since the recent Wilmington Conference.—Wilmington Evening Journal.

Sunday, June 20th, will be known as Memorial Day in Christ M. E. Church. The memorial window recently placed in the Sunday school room to the memory of four church officials will be unveiled to the memory of the late Mrs. T. R. Hubbard will be exposed to view and mention made of the two names of departed members recently buried in the memorial windows. Rev. Dr. D. L. Greenfield will preach in the morning; special services will be held in the afternoon and Rev. Dr. W. R. Graham is expected to preach at night. The Sunday School of Wesley Chapel

This will be Dr. Stephenson's first visit to the charge and it is hoped that large congregations will greet him at both churches. Children's Day service will be held at Fairlee Sunday. Everybody welcomed.

Sunday being the 2nd Sunday of the month is the regular monthly Communion Sunday for the members of St. John's Church. Confessions will be heard from 4.00 to 6.00 and 7.00 to 9.00 Saturday evening. Mass on Sunday morning at 9.30 sharp.
