LOCAL MATTERS.

Fire at Milton, Del.—Thirty-eight of Milton's 100 business houses and dwellings were wiped out by fire, which broke out there at 3 o'clock last Friday morning in the hardware store of S. Wilson. The loss will reach $100,000.

Hurt at Basket Factory.—Andrew Cann, an industrious and respected colored laborer at the basket factory, had his left hand caught in some machinery at the factory on Monday afternoon. One of his fingers was cut off and the others badly mangled, but they can be saved. The accident is a very unfortunate one, as Cann lost all his fingers on his right hand last year in an accident.

Narrow Escape from Drowning.—Misses Mildred Gillespie and Gladys Jacobs, two popular young ladies of Millington, had a narrow escape from drowning last week. The young ladies, accompanied by Masters Paul Jacobs and Ross Duling were bathing near Mr. Andrew Legg's. The girls got beyond their depth and were with great difficulty rescued by the young men. Miss Gillespie went down twice, and was unconscious when brought to the surface.

To Get $5,000 Insurance.—Some years ago the late Mr. M. M. Rasin and the late Mr. Marcus Wood each had their life insured in the United States Insurance Co. for $5,000 for the others benefit, the arrangement being that Mr. Rasin was to pay the insurance premiums on the policy on Mr. Wood's life and Mr. Wood was to pay the insurance premiums on the policy on Mr. Rasin's life. At the death of Mr. Rasin it was discovered that Mr. Wood had allowed the policy on Mr. Rasin's life to lapse, therefore Mr. Wood did not receive the $5,000 he would have received had he kept the policy in force. The policy on Mr. Wood's life, however, has been kept in force and Mr. Rasin's family will now be the beneficiaries of the $5,000. Mr. Park's Rasin went to New York this week and filed the necessary papers in case.

The horse's intestines were obstructed by large fibre balls which formed from the clover hay. This is a common disease among horses where scarlet clover hay is used extensively as a feed.

The schedule for leaving and arriving will be published in our next issue. Mr. Vandergrift states that the charges will be $1.25 for round trip including admission to the fair grounds.

♦♦Mr. Decker, of Baltimore, of the Chesapeake Tributaries Steamboat Co. was in Chestertown on Wednesday looking for a wharf. He is endeavoring to secure the Bacchus-Usiltown wharf.

Appointment of Professors at Washington College.

At a meeting of the Visitors and Governors held on the 20th of August, the following appointments were made:

Theodore Peet, A. M., Professor of French and German, New York City. Mr. Peet is a graduate of Yale University, where he also received the degree of Masters of Arts. After a period of travel and study in France and Germany, he took up additional study at Columbia, where he completed the work for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

Herbert C. Sanborn, Ph. D., Westchester, Mass., professor of psychology from which institution he received the degree of Master of Arts in June, 1909. Mr. Hall has taught successfully since his graduation from college, and comes highly recommended for his position.

Mrs. Amy Ford Walker, Dover, Del., preceptress. Mrs. Walker is a highly accomplished lady with a wide circle of friends among the best people in Maryland and Delaware. The young ladies of the college are fortunate in having the advantage of her culture and refinement.

The Tolchester Fair.
Supt. Noland informs us that every-thing for the fair is in splendid order and that arrangements for the big fair, and the prospects are fine for a successful exhibit and race program. There will be no exhibit of stock this year. The managers of the fair are anxious to direct toward the household and kitchen departments, and the hall is expected to contain the largest and best array of exhibits in the history that has ever been seen at the fair.

Supt. Noland tells us that some of the best horses in this section of the country are in Baltimore, Wm. and Pennsylvania are entered in the speed contests, and there will be a larger and much better entry list than usual. The races for the day will be at midnight, and we will publish the list of entries next week. The last day, Friday, will be one of the best days. A fine tournament with rich prizes has been arranged for the day and many knights are preparing to ride. The free for all races on Thursday will attract some very fast horses, and will prove a fine race. The dates of the fair are August 31st, September 1st, 2nd and 3rd. Go and take the children, and also take an exhibit, and do everything you can to make the fair a big success.

Wins Scholarship.
Nine applicants for the recent scholarship were received by the Orphans' Court of Kent county. Seven of the applicants presented themselves on August 11th for examination. The names of the applicants, with the general average obtained by each, are as follows:

Roland Crew	82 1/2
E. Leon Hicks	77 1/2
Frank C. Parr	74
Wm. H. Parr	94 1/2
Franklin Gill	71
W. Lester Baldwin	73 1/2
Scott Stokes	79 1/2

Wm. H. Parr, son of Mr. Wm. Parr, of Still Pond, having obtained the highest average, received the appointment to the vacant scholarship. A study of the above averages shows conclusively the mental calibre of the applicants. Every one of them was worthy of an appointment, and we are sure the Orphans' Court would have been gratified to award each one a "pass" to the college. It was one of the best classes that ever competed for the prize.

Fish Bites.
Reports of a heavy run of fish off Sandy Point were on Wednesday given by Mr. F. Stafford, 1840 Pennsylvania avenue, Baltimore, who said that the pastime of hauling perch and spots aboard his boat became so monotonous as to verge on actual labor. With half a dozen other gentlemen, said Mr. Stafford, he left Tolchester in a launch for Sandy Point. In three and a half hours' actual fishing time, he says, the party landed 60 dozen perch and Norfolk spots. So weary did the fishermen become, he concluded, that they returned from their trip an hour and a half before their scheduled time.

Mr. Walter Strong and several friends with Capt. Will Crew on Wednesday caught four peach basketsful of perch and three fine rock off Betterton. It is no trouble to catch fish anywhere around Estertown now.

Night fishing has been good off Chester and Morgan Creek bridges the past two weeks.

Fires Near Rock Hall.

The dwelling occupied by Mr. Thomas Elburn, in Rock Hall, together with its contents, was completely destroyed by fire on Friday night, causing a loss of about $800. The dwelling was owned by ex-Sheriff James A. Cassey and was valued at about $300, partly covered by insurance. The loss on Mr. Elburn's furniture is covered by insurance. The fire is believed to have been caused by the explosion of a lamp.

The dwelling and store of Henry Menor in Skinner's Neck was destroyed by fire on Saturday night. The fire is of unknown origin. The loss is about $1000 on dwelling and store goods, partly covered by insurance. This is the third fire near Rock Hall in three weeks.

How the Roads are Built.

For the information of our readers we desire to state that the State Roads now being built in Kent county are being built according to the following thicknesses: First course, five inches in two layers; second course, three inches; third course shall consist of screenings. The road when completed, should have eight inches of stone on it.

So many inquiries have been made of the editors that we give this information so that those who wonder and those who think a road so shallow will in winter, freeze, thaw, rise and crack, may know the facts. These are the facts, and this is the way the roads will be all over the State, on the Western Shore as well as on the Eastern Shore.

Grange Notes.

Pomona, of Fairlee Grange, will have charge of the meeting to be held next Wednesday evening on Mr. Fletcher's lawn, Fairlee Grove. Pomona will have the program in charge, and will give the address of welcome. She wishes all members of the grange to be present and bring fruit for the feast of the season. Visitors from other granges in county will receive a cordial welcome. The following question will be discussed: "Is it better to have Farmers to Represent us in our Legislatures than to have professional politicians?"
