LOCAL MATTERS.

Awarded Scholarships.—The State Board of Education this week awarded State scholarships to Washington College to Misses Susie Frazier, Margherita Dodd and Rebecca Aldridge, of Chestertown, and to Miss Sparks, of Sudlersville, Queen Annes county.

Sells His Farm.—Capt. Pen Jester, who recently purchased the Matthews farm near Worton Station from the Matthews heirs for $8,500, has sold the same to Mr. Ralph P. Williams, of Worton. The farm contains 104 acres of exceptionally fine land, and while the price is said to be private, it is understood that Mr. Williams paid $9000 for it.

Sells Church Paper.—L. Bates Russell, who for some years past has edited the Peninsula Methodist, until a year ago the official organ of the Wilmington M. E. conference, has sold the paper to the owners and publishers of the American Union, the official organ of the Republican party in Caroline county, and the paper will hereafter be issued from the press of the Union in Denton.

NEWSY BRIEFS.

Last dance of the season in Betterton Casino to-night.
There is an epidemic of fleas in the City of Wilmington, Del., and everybody is scratching for a living.
Washington College opens on Wednesday. The prospect is for a large enrollment of new student.
The wheat acreage in Kent this year will be much smaller than usual on account of the impossibility to break fallow.

The Kent County Savings Bank is occupying a room in the Eliason building during the building of their new banking house.

The first frost in the State was reported in Alleghany county one morning this week. Not enough, however, to injure crops.

The Board of Public Works has appointed Capt. Wm. B. Roe, of Queen Annes, captain of the local oyster guard boat for Chester river.

Mail carrier Ashley has been bringing a number of bunches of taylor's to Chestertown which have found ready sale here during the week.

Miss Elizabeth Connelly, it is understood, will be given a state scholarship in Washington College, and will enter that institution on Wednesday.

Col. John M. South, the popular photographer, has returned to Chestertown and his studio on Prince's street is now ready to show you how to look pretty.

Mr. James H. Shuster has converted one of the show windows in his shoe store into an attractive imitation of a school house. The design is novel and pretty.

The first general r in since Commencement Sunday in June fell yesterday. It will do grass and crops a world good, and will enable the farmers to break fallow.

Mr. Harvey B. Moore, of Turner's Creek, through Real Estate Broker J. Waters Russell, has purchased the Mrs. Sallie Faulkner property in Betterton, and will make it his home.

Mr. William Archibald, the hustling Kennedyville grain buyer has bought and loaded this week from Mr. A. J. Clements, about 5000 bushels of old yellow corn at 75c cents per bushel.

Mr. Vernon Barnett has commenced the work of erecting the new St. Paul's rectory at Fairlee. It will be of cement blocks manufactured by Mr. Barnett and will be a great improvement to the village.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Potts, of T. I. Chester, will leave New York October 16 for a trip around the world. The steamer upon which they will sail has been chartered by a party of 750 tourists. They will return to America Feb 1.

The Volunteer Fire Company is making preparation to dedicate its new municipal building in the very near future with appropriate ceremonies. The building when completed, will be an ornament to the town and a monument to the energy and push of the Fire Company.

Dr. James Bordley's will was filed for probate in the Centreville Orphans' Court on Tuesday. The entire estate, valued at $75,000 is left to his widow during her life, after which the estate is to be equally divided among the three sons, Madison, James and Winton Boydley.

The Deere Implement Company's exhibit at the Tolchester Fair last week was a very fine one. This company is represented in this county by some of our best implement firms and their stock is popular with the farmers because it is reliable. H. R. Graham & Brother and Davis & Satterfield, of Chestertown, as well as Mollers & Co., of Still Pond, also had fine displays and maintained their reputation for high quality goods.

A trial of the man accused of running a gambling table was held at Betterton on Tuesday afternoon. State's Attorney Beck summoned twenty witnesses, but as is usual in such cases, nobody knew anything, and the man was discharged for want of sufficient evidence to convict.

The base ball season closed at Betterton on Labor Day with two rattling good games between Betterton and Centreville. Betterton took the first game 2 to 1, and after seven innings of play in the second, Centreville refused to play longer, the score being 4 to 3 in Centreville's favor.

There has been a glut of tomatoes during the week. The Baldwin cannery at the depot, has been overstocked and has been compelled to ship the surplus to Baltimore. Mr. Charles Kibler has had two boats handling his tomatoes and they have been taxed to the limit. The crop is good notwithstanding the drouth.

One of the tallest fields of corn we have seen in the county this season is that of Mr. Eugene M. Bonwell's near Betterton. We were also impressed with the size of the ears, and we believe Mr. Bonwell will get a good crop. The corn was so tall that one of our companions remarked, "He will have to get a step ladder to husk it."

Mr. T. E. W. Crew, one of the most jovial fellows you would care to meet, and one of the county's most progressive farmers, will please accept our thanks for a basket of the largest and finest tomatoes we have seen this season. Some of the tomatoes weigh a pound apiece, and show no effects of the present unprecedented drouth.

Mr. J. Kennard Aldridge was quite severely kicked in the side by one of his driving horses last week. Mr. Aldridge went into the stable to examine a bruise on the horse's leg, and when he touched the tender spot, the horse kicked at him. Fortunately Mr. Aldridge was standing too close to the animal to receive the full force of the blow, or his injuries may have been much more serious.

The Silver cup won by the Chestertown High School Manual Training Department for its fine exhibit at the Tolchester Fair has been on exhibition in Mr. J. H. Sides' display window during the week. It is an attractive and valuable trophy. It is to be regretted that the Rock Hall school exhibit did not get a prize also, for it was worth far more than an honorable mention. Prof. Greenhawk deserves great credit for the character of work being done by the pupils in Rock Hall school.
