OBJECTS AND PRINCIPLES

OF THE

Jr. O. U. A. M.

FIRST—To maintain and promote the interests of Americans and shield them from the depressing effects of unrestricted immigration; to assist them in obtaining employment and to encourage them in business.

SECOND—To provide for the creation of a fund or funds for the payment of benefits in case of sickness, disability or death of its members, to members, their legal dependents or representatives, and to issue certificates of membership for the same.

THIRD—To uphold the American Public School System, to prevent interference therewith, and to encourage the reading of the Holy Bible in the schools thereof.

FOURTH—To promote and maintain a National Orphans' Home.

We recognize the landing upon our shores of the ignorant, the vicious and the lawless of the Old World as a constant menace to our institutions, and believe that it should be viewed with alarm by the loyal and patriotic citizens of the country.

We would place a flag upon and a Bible within every Public School-house of our land, that all might learn these to be a beacon light in every storm which may threaten our destruction.

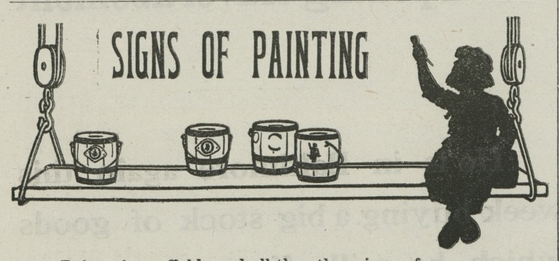
SIGNS OF PAINTING



Painter's scaffolds and all the other signs of painting-time are sometimes considered a nuisance, but afterwards—the spick-and-spanness, the feeling of new life and cleanliness—it's worth while after all.

WESTON, Ocean-to-Ocean Walker,

Said recently: "When you feel down and out, feel there is no use living, just take your bad thoughts with you and walk them off. Before you have walked a mile things will look rosier. Just try it." Have you noticed the increase in walking of late in every community? Many attribute it to the comforts which Allan's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder to be shaken in the shoes, gives to the millions now using it. As Weston has said, "It has real merit."

Riley and the Scotchman.

Eugene Field was fond of relating the following story of James Whitcomb Riley: "To beguile the tediousness of the return voyage from Europe it was proposed to give a concert in the saloon of the ship, an entertainment to which all capable of amusing their fellow passengers should contribute. Mr. Riley was asked to recite some of his original poems, and of course he cheerfully agreed to do so. Among the number present at this midocean entertainment, over which the Rev. Myron Reed presided, were two Scotchmen, very worthy gentlemen, en route from the Land o' Cakes to the land of biscuits upon a tour of investigation. These twain shared the enthusiasm with which the auditors applauded Mr. Riley's charming recitations. They marveled that so versatile a genius could have lived in a land reputed for uncouthness and savagery.

"Is it no wonderfu', Donald," remarked one of these Scots, "that a tradesman suid be sic a bonnie poet?"

"And is he indeed a tradesman?" asked the one.

"Indeed he is," answered the other. "Did ye no hear the dominie introyuce him as the Hoosier poet? Just thinl of it, mon—just think of sic a gude poet dividing his time making hoosiery!"

How to Kill and Cook Possum.

Just how a possum ought to be killed and cooked is told in the Atlanta Constitution by an expert known far and wide in Georgia. He says:

"To kill a possum his head should be placed beneath a stick. Stand on the stick and pull the possum's tail until his neck is broken. A possum requires careful treatment, and to cook one to perfection a peculiar arrangement is necessary. A pan on legs should be provided with a hole in one end which can be plugged. Coals placed under the pan will slowly cook the possum, and as the grease runs out of the carcass it should be drawn off from time to time. All the time the carcass should be basted with a sauce made of pepper and vinegar. In the meantime the potatoes should be boiled. When the possum is almost done the potatoes should be packed in the pan around the possum, a little sugar sprinkled over them, and then the gravy which has been drawn off from the pan should be poured on, after which possum and potatoes should be browned to a turn."

A Cure For Insomnia.

Next time your slumber fails to arrive on schedule time cast all thought of sleep from your mind and start in to name to yourself all the friends you have had or now possess. It's much more interesting than counting sheep. Perhaps you have only one friend, but one is enough—he may be the more appreciated. Just think of how you came to know each other, of how the friendship developed and of the happy incidents that have marked your acquaintance. Or, if you have no earthly friends whatever, let your thought dwell upon the great Friend of the friendless and how you came to know him. Somehow the most precious of our earthly friendships seem poor compared to this one that distance and time and even death itself cannot sever. And there is one advantage in this attempt to defeat insomnia—even your wakefulness will be enjoyable and restful.—Interior.

True Oratory.

"True oratory," said a statesman, "is that which brings results, is that which converts an audience of enemies to an audience of supporters. Such oratory is rare. I have a friend whose wife, a 'suffragette,' is a great orator. Her speeches from the platform are wonderful, and her husband the other day gave me an illustration of the efficiency of her private speeches.

"'An agent called on my wife this afternoon,' he said, 'and tried to sell her a new wrinkle eradicator.'

"'And how did the man make out?' said I.

"'He left in half an hour,' was the answer, 'with a gross of bottles of wrinkle eradicator of my wife's own manufacture that he had purchased from her.'"—Portland Oregonian.

Just as a Compliment.

Count Baldissare Castiglione wrote of manners in sixteenth century Italy: "Discourse of love is used by every gentleman, * * * not only when impelled by ardor, but also merely to do honor to the lady with whom he speaks. The pretense of loving her is, at any rate, a testimony to her worthiness to be loved. She, on her part, will for a time seem to fail to understand and anon will take it all as a merry jest."

Compassionate.

Small Margie drew the picture of a dog and cat on her slate, and, calling her mother's attention to it, she said:

"Of course a cat ought to have only four legs, mamma, but I drew this one with six so it could run away from the dog."—Exchange.

Thunder at Home.

Husband—Did you hear the storm when it broke this morning? Wife—That wasn't the storm. It was the new girl washing the breakfast dishes. —Baltimore American.

A Respectable Fortune.

Little Willie—Say, pa, what is a "respectable fortune?" Pa—One that is large enough to make its possessor's opinion on any subject respected, my son.—Chicago News.

He Thought Things.

She (during a spat)—Why don't you say what you mean? I'm no mind reader. He—No; if you were, you'd never speak to me again.—Boston Transcript.

At Baltimore's Best Store

Baltimore's Best Store is everybody's store—it has merchandise to suit every taste at prices to fit every purse.

But—and this is important—this store sells nothing that cannot be guaranteed—no inferior merchandise finds a place in its stocks.

To show how little it will cost the average woman to be well dressed from head to foot, we mention:

H. K. & CO. Trimmed Hats at $5.00

In every wanted color—reflections of the very latest Parisian models. In style, material and trimming, they equal the usual $10 or $15 Hats.

H. K. & CO. Tailored Suits at $15.00

In the popular long-coat models (the coats are 42 to 45 inches in length) with pleated skirts in newest effects.

Materials include hard-finish worsteds, homespuns, plain and herringbone serges and broadcloths, in every wanted shade.

These suits are perfectly tailored, the coats are satin lined, and every detail shows them to be worth fully $5.00 more than their price.

H. K. & CO. Montford Gloves at $1.00

Made especially for us, from selected skins, doubly inspected—by the maker and by our own experts. In colors white and black.

H. K. & Co. Mocha and Cape Gloves at the same price.

H. K. & CO. Special Shoes at $3.50

So good that they rival the usual $4.00 and $5.00 shoes. Made of best materials throughout—not a scrap of "composition" is used in their manufacture. In every wanted black or tan leather, all sizes and widths, and twenty styles from which to choose.

Our Mail Order Department is equipped to give prompt and accurate service.

Samples of Silks, Dress Goods, Wash Fabrics and so on will be cheerfully sent if you will write for them.

Ladies' Home Journal Patterns 10c and 15c. Write for a copy of the Monthly Style Book—it's free.
