THE LOAFER.

Tom Browne, the English Artist, and One of His Models.

Tom Browne, the English black and white artist, told the following story of one of his models: I used to have as a model a long, thin youth who was a golf caddy on Blackheath. I made a water color study of him and put in a street corner background. Before sending it to the frame maker's I wrote on the back in pencil a suggestion for a possible future title, "A Loafer." The frame maker after framing the sketch put it in his window until such time as he could send it up to me, with a card on the picture bearing the title, "A Loafer—By Tom Browne."

One morning the caddy came to the side door and asked to speak to me. "There's a picture of me in a shop window down in Greenwich."

"Really?"
"Yes, an' all me pals 'ave seen it." (With a sudden fury.) "I ain't no loafer, I ain't. I'm a respectable caddy, I ham, and you've got to take it hout of the window."

I assured him that I knew nothing of the matter and was very sorry.
"That be blowed for a tile," he retorted. "I'll mike yer pye damages for this, I've been to my solicitor, and 'e sez 'e can mike yer."
In the end I fixed it up by a little tip, an old coat and a drop of something. Of course I had the picture taken out of the window. The caddy has not sat for me since.

THE NARCISSEUS.

Old Legends About This Beautiful and Ancient Flower.

The beautiful narcissus is a very ancient flower, and poets of all times have sung about it. It bloomed even as long ago as when gods and goddesses were supposed to live on the earth. The old Grecian legends say it was the flower the maiden Proserpine was gathering when Pluto took her away to his dark home under the ground.

Another legend tells about a beautiful youth named Narcissus. His father was a river god named Cepheus and his mother a nymph called Liriope. The wonderful beauty of the youth caused many to love him, but he was cold and indifferent to all.

A poor little nymph called Echo loved him so dearly that she pined away and died because he would not care for her.

At last Nemesis, the goddess of retribution, decided to punish him for his hard heart.

She caused him to fall in love with his own image as he looked into a stream, and as he could never reach this beautiful reflection he gradually perished with hopeless love.

His body was changed into the beautiful flowers which have ever since borne his name.—Pearson's Weekly.

Laughing Disclosures.

Concerning the laughter of the Frenchman, it should be noted that our neighbors have worked out a system of character reading by the vowel in which one laughs. Laugh in A (our English "Ha, ha"), and, according to Larousse, you reveal yourself as frank, inconstant and fond of noise and movement. Laughter in E ("Heh, heh") would be the English rendering; is for phlegmatic and melancholy. Children and simple persons laugh in a French I ("He, he"), showing themselves devoted, but timid and irresolute, and it is observed that blonds laugh "He, he." "Ho, ho, ho!" is not the laugh of an ogre, but of one who is generous in sentiment and bold in action, though of a woman who laughs like that one should beware. But both men and women who laugh in U should be shunned like the plague, since they have given fair warnings that they are misers, hypocrites or misanthropes.—London Chronicle.

To Rule a Husband.

To rule your husband, my dear lady, do exactly as you please, but always pretend that you do as he pleases. That is where your ability comes in. Men are ruled, as children are, by the prospect of a reward. The reward of your husband is your amiability, your sweetness, your devotion and your beauty, of which you should take a constant care. Love has to be fed constantly. Always let him suppose that it is for him that you wish to remain beautiful. The woman who believes that she is asserting her independence every time she puts on a hat particularly displeasing to her husband is as clever and as intelligent as the fishman who buys a return ticket at a railroad office and on entering the car remarks to the passengers: "I have played a good joke on the company. I have bought a return ticket, but I don't mean to come back."—Max O'Rell in "Her Royal Highness, Woman."

Otherwise Sane.

Examining Physician—Have there ever been any indications of insanity in your family? Applicant For Life Insurance (with visible reticence)—Yes, sir, one. My father was the victim of a hallucination that I was born to be a great musician.—Chicago Tribune.

Had Him Fast.

Cynicus—It is impossible for a woman to keep a secret. Henpecke—I don't know about that. My wife and I were engaged for several weeks before she said anything to me about it.—Philadelphia Record.

Not Merely Fractured.

"Does your new baby break your rest much?"
"Break it! He pulverizes it!"—Exchange.

Opium is used as a medium of exchange in some parts of China.
