LOCAL MATTERS.

NEWSY BRIEFS.

**Mr. Wm. T. Nicholson killed a pen of 17 fine hogs this week.
**The dance given by "The Roadsters" in Firemen's Hall on Wednesday evening was a charming affair.
**Mr. James E. Allen has purchased Mrs. Cyrus G. Howard's residence adjoining his home on High street.
**J. D. Lucas, the hustling clothier, has installed several handsome glass counters in his large store.
**A colored man at work for Mr. Andrew Vansant had his arm badly torn in a fodder shredder on Monday. Dr. Jeter dressed the wound.
**A very interesting session of the Kent County Teachers' Association was held in Chestertown High School building on Wednesday.
**Owing to the great pressure of business and to avoid great expense, court was in session on Thanksgiving day in Easton.
**A stable belonging to a colored man living near the Quaker Neck school house was destroyed by fire on Monday evening.
**Thanksgiving was fittingly observed in Chestertown. The stores and public offices were closed, and special services were held in the churches.
**Mr. Arlington L. Sparks has made a great improvement to his big store front by placing a pair of large plate glass doors in the front.
**An important change in schedule of the Tolchester Company appears in this issue. After December 3d, boats will not stop at Buck Neck on way to or from Baltimore. See schedule.
**Dr. Joseph W. Reynolds, cancer specialist, well-known in Chestertown, where he had several patients, died at his home near Rising Sun, on Tuesday morning of stomach trouble.
**The Chestertown school will be closed until Monday week. Betterton and Morgan schools will be closed until further notice, on account of sickness and gripe among the scholars.
**The first real snow storm of the winter visited this vicinity on Wednesday night and early Thursday morning and chilled the arbor of those who had planned to spend the day gunning.
**John Ringgold, colored, engineer at the pump house, and Mary Jenkins, were married on Wednesday. They left on a wedding tour for Philadelphia on the afternoon train and returned on Thursday.
**Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sparks have moved into the new home recently erected on High street by Mr. Owen C. Crow, and Mr. Wm. H. Elliott has moved to Mrs. A. M. Bowers' residence recently occupied by Mr. Sparks.
**Messrs. Beck & Ivens have sold the mill property near Smithville, belonging to Mr. George N. Cooper to Mr. Joseph Vernon, of North Dakota. Price private. Mr. Vernon is a former resident of Kent County.
**Mr. D. R. Woodall, agent for Annie E. Woodall, will have a public sale of personal property on his farm in Queen Annes which he recently sold to Mr. James O. Bennett, near Kennedyville, on Tuesday, December 7. John Jester auctioneer.
**The power-boat Giavotta, which plied between Baltimore and Chestertown recently, belonging to the Chesapeake Tributaries Company, was sold in Baltimore on Tuesday at public auction to the Pennsylvania Iron Works for $1000.
**Mr. J. W. Kirby, the tombstone and monument man, will shortly erect a handsome monument in Chester cemetery to the memory of the late George W. Hatcherson. Mr. Kirby also has other valuable contracts in course of completion.
**Our merchants are making ready their usual large and attractive display of Christmas goods, and if you fail to do your Christmas shopping at home, you will miss saving money that you will be compelled to spend by going elsewhere.
**Do not forget the fine entertainment to be given in Stam's Hall on Tuesday evening next by the King's Daughters. The entertainment will be well worth the price of admission and the cause for which it is given is one to which all should heartily respond.
**The TRANSCRIPT has given away all the white lilac shoots that it had at its disposal. We regret that we had not enough to supply all those who asked for one. But the number was limited, and as we stated last week, the first come had to be the first served.
**The following Kent countians have been in attendance at the Easton court this week on the Byron-Hendrickson and Capt. S. T. H. Pfeiffer cases: Hope H. Barroll, Wm. W. Beck and Lewin W. Wickes, counsel; J. Romie Byron, Victor Hendrickson, George Hendrickson, C. W. Rolph, Chas. Johnson, Fred G. Usilton, Thos. D. Bowers, Capt. Baxton, Capt. Marion Coleman, Capt. S. T. Pfeiffer, P. B. Hollis, Thomas Massey, Harry L. Boyd and Chas. W. Kibler. The Pfeiffer case was not called because of the absence of important witnesses

**If the TRANSCRIPT does not appear as full of general and interesting news items this week as usual, it is because the senior editor is suffering with a severe case of the grip, and the junior editor was compelled to be absent several days on account of business in Easton court.
**Margie Mitchell, colored, was before Justice Andrew Medders on Monday night for disorderly conduct and was given 60 days in jail. The justice also sentenced William Blackiston, colored, to two years in the House of Correction on Monday morning on the charge of assaulting Charles P. Wright with a razor.
**Rev. Dr. L. E. Barrett, pastor of Chestertown M. E. Church, will preach a special sermon to the Junior Order United American Mechanics to-morrow (Sunday) morning at 10.30. Members of all the different fraternal orders of the town and county are cordially invited to meet at the lodge room at 10 o'clock and go to the church in a body.

OBITUARY. MRS. EMILY STANT. Mrs. Emily Stant, widow of the late Wm. J. Stant, died at her home in Queen Annes county, near Chestertown, Monday morning, of typhoid fever aged 35 years. Funeral services were held from the Chestertown M. E. Church Tuesday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. Dr. L. E. Barrett. Interment in Chester cemetery. Undertaker Charles L. Dodd in charge. This is one of the most distressing cases that has ever been noted in this neighborhood. The husband of the deceased was buried only a week ago last Sunday. Six small children, three of whom are critically ill with the same dread disease, are left in destitute circumstances. They are being cared for by sympathetic friends. Oh, it seems hard to lose you; But we remember God knows best; Your work on earth was done and finished, And he called you home to rest. You have ascended to your husband And left us toiling on in pain, But still we have one blessed privilege That in Heaven we'll meet again. You rest in mansions much more bright, Where the streets are paved with gold, And, Oh, how sad we are without you, By no mortal tongue could ever be told. All this world seems dark and gloomy, Where the streets are paved with gold, And 'tis sad to view the past, And think we can meet on earth no more. And how you are missed by the little ones, Who need a mother's care To guide their footsteps in the path of right And help their crosses bear. We will trust them in the hands of God, Who promises to brighten their way, And if we live the life of prayer, We all shall meet some day. By her cousin, G. E. CHAIRES.

MRS. SALLIE EMORY STEVENS. Mrs. Sallie Emory Stevens, wife of Mr. J. William Stevens, died at her home in Baltimore, on Saturday. She was the daughter of the late Dr. King B. Emory, of Queen Annes county, and leaves a husband, one son, and two daughters. Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Thos. O. Crouse, assisted by Rev. R. F. Humphreys. Interment was in Druid Ridge Cemetery, Baltimore.

Arnold Monroe Crew, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Crew, of Worton, died Monday last. Funeral was held on Wednesday; interment in Still Pond cemetery. Undertaker W. T. Hicks, in charge.

Wedding Bells. BROWN—HANNA. Mr. James Henry Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Brown, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Miss Marguerite Hunter Hanna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Hanna, of New York, were married in Brooklyn, N. Y., on Wednesday of last week. They will be at home after Jan. 1st, at 563 Eighth street, Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Brown is a former Kent countian, and popularly known by his friends here as "Duke."

BOWERS—PRICE. Dr. Stewart Cole Bowers, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Bowers, of Baltimore, and Miss Jessie Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Price, of the same city, were quietly married on Monday evening at the home of the bride's parents in Baltimore. The ceremony was performed by the father of the groom. A reception to the immediate families and a few intimate friends was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride. Dr. and Mrs. Bowers will be at home after December 1, at Confluence, Somerset county, Pa., where Dr. Bowers, who graduated from the Baltimore Medical College in May last, has purchased the practice and good will of the leading physician in the town. The TRANSCRIPT extends congratulations.

DOWNEY—BIGELOW. Married by Rev. C. M. Compher at Wesley Chapel parsonage, Nov. 24, at seven thirty o'clock, Susie E. Bigelow to Clifton Downey. Both of the contracting parties are residents of Rock Hall, and were attended by the brother of the bride, Mr. P. W. Bigelow. The bride was dressed in a blue traveling suit with hat to match. They will reside with the parents of the groom at Rock Hall.
