SOCIETY REALMS.

Mrs. Hubbard Pearce Ringgold, of North Calvert street, Baltimore, gave a beautifully arranged luncheon Thursday afternoon of last week in honor of her mother-in-law, Mrs. M. C. Ringgold, of Salisbury, who will be her guest for the remainder of May. The color scheme, red and green, was carried out in the luncheon and the rooms were brilliantly lighted with red and green shaded candelabra, and were decorated with red American Beauties and smilax and ferns.

Mr. Joseph Downes and family, of Baltimore, were the guests of Mr. Wilbur W. Hubbard on Washington avenue over Sunday.

Mr. Rudolph Tull, of Philadelphia, spent Sunday with his family, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Beck on Maple avenue.

Mr. James W. Chapman, Jr., of the Baltimore bar, spent Sunday with his family at the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Vannort, on High Street.

Mr. A. M. Culp of the firm W.S. & A. M. Culp, was in Cambridge last week arranging for the construction of the new Pennsylvania railroad station, for which the firm has received the contract.

Mr. Elmer E. Leary, of the well-known Lumber and Mill-work firm of G. E. Leary & Son, Rock Hall, was in Cambridge on business last week.

Mrs. Ivanhoe Willis, of Henderson, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Willis at the mill.

Miss Mary Thomas, of Baltimore, has been spending a part of the week with her aunt, Mrs. S. L. Thomas, on the avenue.

Miss Helen Urie had the misfortune to fracture her wrist while learning to skate at the skating rink on Monday afternoon. Beginners should be extremely careful. It is much easier to fall down than it is to stand up on roller skates until you "know how."

Several young ladies of Chestertown got up early one morning last week to "gaze at" the Comet. They were unable to see it on account of the clouds, and what do you think they did? They went up in the attic at three o'clock in the morning to learn to skate on roller skates. And there was no more sleep that morning for the poor man of the house and his wife.

Mrs. Fannie Davis fell in front of her home on Mill street last Tuesday, and broke one of the bones in her left arm between the wrist and elbow. Dr. Simmons set the broken bone. Although it is very painful, Mrs. Davis is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Perego visited relatives in Baltimore last week.

Mr. E. Roland Matthews, clerk in the postoffice, is suffering with boils on his wrist.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Newsome visited relatives and friends in Baltimore this week.

Former Senator Clarence W. Perkins, of Baltimore, was in Chestertown business on Saturday. Mr. Perkins is strongly endorsed for assistant counsel to the Public Utilities Commission, and we hope he will be successful in securing the appointment.

Miss Nannie Burdley spent a part of last week in Salisbury and Dover. Dr. Harvey G. Beck, of Baltimore, was the guest of Dr. H. G. Simpers on professional business last week.

Miss Sallie Sheridan, of Baltimore, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Walter T. Morris, near town.

Mrs. Thomas Ireland Elliott and little daughter, of Baltimore, have been guests of her parents, Harrison W. Vickers, Esq., and wife, at Laurelton Place during the week.

Mrs. J. Thomas Blackiston accompanied her youngest son, James, to Baltimore last week for treatment for an injured eye.

Little Miss Stacy Medders, daughter of Sheriff Medders, is suffering with rheumatism.

Mr. Frank Clay, of Baltimore, spent Sunday with his parents here.

Mrs. George W. Jones, of Millington, is in Atlantic City for the benefit of her health. We regret to state that Mrs. Jones has not been in good health recently.

Mrs. Ralph Barnett and daughter, Miss Frances Howard, spent Sunday with Mrs. Barnett's mother, Mrs. Jane McKivett, of near Rock Hall.
