manufactories in preparation for the competitive struggle, which was already beginning for the control of the steel industry. In 1896 a five-sixths interest in the Oliver Iron Mining Co. was purchased; in 1900 a controlling interest in the Pittsburg Steamship Company, owning steamships important for steel transportation on the lakes, was acquired. A controlling interest in other concerns was obtained, until its position was unassailable by domestic competitors. By 1900 the grinding process of exterminating competition was well under way. Minor trusts, who had been attracted into the field of production by the enormous profits which the manufacture of steel billets afforded under the protective tariff were paying enormous dividends. They were not as conservatively managed as the Carnegie Company. These trusts controlled most of the natural resources necessary for the production of steel, outside of those owned by the Carnegie Company. They were controlled by financial, rather than industrial interests that could not withstand a fall in dividends, endangering their credit, with the same equanimity that the Carnegie Company could do so.

Seeing their danger in case of a decline in prices, which seemed imminent, they were very glad to sell out to Mr. Carnegie in 1901; or to put it less exactly the United States Steel Corporation was formed by a merger of all the steel interests. This, in the words of Mr. Meade, "completely realized the ideal of independence for which all the merging companies has been striving; it exorcises the forbidding specter of competition, etc."

This gigantic corporation which could only have been formed back of a high protective tariff, now shows how much it has the interests of the people, who have allowed its growth, at heart, by patriotically selling steel billets in Europe for $20 that retail at the pool price in this country for $28. These are the figures for 1903.

In the famous letter of May 15, 1899, Mr. Schwab writes: "What is true of rails is equally true of other steel products——. You know we can make rails for less than $12 per ton, leaving a nice margin on foreign business." And all this rosy-hued prosperity depends on a protective tariff to shut out foreign competition and keep the prices up, so we see how necessary it was on last August the fifth for the sane, safe and conservative gentlemen who constitute our Congress to pass the Aldrich tariff.

TO OUR GRADUATES

Enter Into Your Life Work With Right Motive.

Graduated? Yes, nearly every hamlet, village, town and city at this commencement season of the institutions of learning, welcome home those who have spent years in hard study and with honors have graduated; and many are the hopes and expectations centered in you—hopes that society will be elevated, many immoralities corrected, wrongs righted and places of importance better filled. Do you ask, where is your place? The world is before you, and though it may seem crowded, there are still many wants that it does not advertise, to avoid a rush of applicants, but these wants exist, and are, indeed, very pressing and very real, and your compensation will be as ample as you have brains, pluck and energy to earn it. The world wants graduates who are men enough to search out these places and make room for themselves; it wants young women of sufficient self-reliance to bear the disappointment of not securing the first position for which they apply; most of all, it wants character, and it very wisely declines to accept a college or School diploma as conclusive evidence of that. Therefore we silently whisper, enter into your life work with right motives, earnestness, zeal and honesty of purpose, and throughness that will satisfy yourself; then others will be satisfied. Realize the responsibilities which have come to you, and assume them in great humbleness, and yet, in true manliness, and bear in mind, by your fruits ye shall be known.—Ex.

Another Bank for Kent.

It is rumored that the Chestertown Bank of Maryland is behind a movement to reorganize the Galena Bank, to be conducted as a branch of the local institution. We understand that efforts are being made by those interested to secure subscriptions to a capital stock of $14,000 for the branch institution, and as soon as all of the stock is subscribed the Galena Bank will be reopened. Rev. A. P. Prettyman, who was a large stockholder and director of the Galena Bank, has recently been elected a director in the Chestertown Bank of Maryland, and it is said that Mr. Prettyman and Dr. Edward A. Scott, another former active director of the Galena Bank, are interested in the organization of the branch bank. This will give the First District two banking institutions, the other being the Millington Bank, of which Mr. John P. Ahern is the president. The Galena branch will be a rival of the Millington Bank in that section of the county, and the developments in that part of the financial world will be watched with interest. Should the Galena Bank materialize, and the People's Bank of Chestertown get under way, Kent county will have six banking institutions, five State banks, with the Third National Bank as the only National Bank in Kent county.

Record 2.15¼, Made in Third Heat of Winning Race.

Bred by C. W. Williams, Galesburg, Ill. Foaled 1901. A model in every way. His size, 15.2 hands, weight close to 1050 pounds, and color mahogany bay, are ideal. His disposition and manners are perfect. His breeding, the highest of fashion—a son of the greatest sire of his age, living or dead, Allerton 2.09¼, the sire of Picknell, he has 202 in the list, world's champion trotting stallion to high wheels, from one of the greatest producing daughters or Baron Wilkes 2.18, the famous Futurity sire, which has 131 in the list. Jay Bird 2.31¾, the sire of Allerton has 131 in list. A race horse himself, never having worn hobbles nor other false rigging; started green in the late summer of 1906 in six races, winning two of them, and was well up into the money the other four, he has (though prominent horsemen have pronounced him capable of a record of 2.05 or better) been retired to the stud, sound, clean, superbly handsome, with vigor and vitality unimpaired, saving for his offspring what a mere racing-machine wears out on the track.

PICKNELL will make the season of 1910 at my stable, Kent and Calvert streets, Chestertown, Kent Co., Md., at $15.00 the season, or $25.00 to insure approved mares.

Will not be responsible for accidents or escapes, but best care taken of mares sent to me. For extended pedigree that will interest any horseman or for fuller particulars, call on or address
