LOCAL MATTERS

TOLD IN BRIEF.

—Mr. Leon Brown will tenant Mr. John T. Westcott's Deep Point farm in Quaker Neck, next year. —Wheat harvest will begin next week. The grain is reported damaged in some sections of the county.

—Mr. W. Bradford Copper has made a great improvement to his pretty home on Washington avenue, by the trimming of his shade trees.

—Dr. J. E. Graham pulled the first ripe tomato from the vines in his garden on Thursday. Dr. Graham had the first and last ripe tomatoes of the season last year.

—One of the secret societies, of Washington College, gave a delightful evening in Firemen's Hall, on Thursday evening. Weber's Orchestra, of Baltimore, furnished charming music.

—The minstrel show given in Fairlee Grange Hall last Tuesday evening by the Junior Order United American Mechanics, of Rock Hall, drew a big crowd and was a great success.

—The Baltimore City News of last Sunday contained an excellent likeness of Arthur Baccaus as elected president. Mr. Baccaus is deeply interested in the success of the school, and his appointment as president of the board is well merited.

—Capt. Curtis E. Crane, local manager of the Marvil Package Company, who visited the scene of the recent fire in the Company's plant at Laurel, Del., states that no definite action has been taken relative to re-building the factory. He also states that the loss is $50,000 with no insurance. It was stated last week that the loss was $25,000.

—Postmaster Thomas was in Washington last week and conferred with the Postoffice officials relative to a new office building for the town. He says there is nothing doing for the present, but the matter will be taken up later. He states that there is nothing in the report that the postoffice will be moved to another location.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT.

128th Anniversary of the Honored Institution Celebrated With Imposing Exercises.

Fine Sermons—Pleasing Class Day Play—Society Anniversary and Banquets. Closing Commencement Exercises.

THE DEPARTURE OF THE NORMAL DEPARTMENT FEATURE.

The 128th commencement exercises of Washington College, one of the oldest and most honorable institutions of learning in the State, began on Saturday evening with the annual reception and luncheon of the Poria Literary Society in Normal Hall. A large number of invitations were issued for this pleasing feature of commencement week, and there were numerous responses. A most enjoyable evening was spent, renewing acquaintances of the past with the many graduates and former students who had returned for commencement.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON. Sunday morning dawned with lowering clouds and anything but propitious weather for commencement, yet a fair audience greeted the speaker, Rev. G. L. Humphreys, of Pocomoke City, who delivered a masterly baccalaureate sermon in William Smith Hall. The theme of the sermon was "The Door of Opportunity," and the young speaker treated the audience to one of the most scholarly and ornate sermons delivered at the college in years. At night, Rev. Vaughan S. Collins, of Middletown, Del., preached the sermon to the christian associations. Mr. Collins is one of the brainy men of the Wilmington Conference. M. E. Church, and for fifty minutes in a most pleasing and scholarly manner, he discoursed upon the value of education of mankind. It was a most brilliant sermon, and fully sustained the reputation which the speaker enjoys for his forceful and logical discourses. Splendid music for both the morning and evening services by a select choir under the very able direction of Mrs. James W. Cain was rendered.

CLAS DAY EXERCISES. Senior Normal Class Day exercises, the last, perhaps, ever to be held at Washington College, were held Monday morning in William Smith Hall. The exercises were of a pleasing departure from the usual class day exercises, and were in the nature of a splendidly rendered play entitled "After the Game" with the following cast of characters, each of whom performed her part to the entire satisfaction and pleasure of a large audience. The play was a most interesting and well acted affair, and was a fitting conclusion to the exercises.
