Peninsula Agricultural Resources.

Indicative of the agricultural resources of the Delaware-Maryland-Virginia Peninsula, concerning which the Frieght Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad has issued a booklet, are figures just published by the Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture of Virginia, showing that the value of the trucking crop for this year in Accomac County alone will amount to more than five million dollars.

Accomac is one of the two counties of Virginia situated on the Delaware-Maryland-Virginia Peninsula. It furnishes five per cent of the sweet potato crop of the United States, planting some twelve thousand acres. One farmer this year has five thousand barrels of sweet potatoes to his credit.

One potato grower in particular on the Eastern Shore of Virginia has come to realize the value of high prices over large crops. Last year he had 25,000 barrels of white potatoes which he sold at an average of a little more than one dollar per barrel. This year he has only 10,000 barrels, for which he will realize five dollars per barrel. His crop this year is worth $50,000. Last year, with two and a half times the yield, it brought about $40,000. In addition, he has to hire fewer men to dig and handle the potatoes, and has to buy fewer barrels.

Galena Items.

The Sunday School Convention held at Olivet M. E. Church last Sunday was very interesting and helpful. In spite of the threatening weather, the church was filled in the morning and the ushers found it impossible to supply chairs for all the afternoon congregation, and some people are wondering to what size the evening congregation would have grown had it been a pleasant evening. We are certainly gratified that so many of our friends accepted our invitation and came to worship with us. The committee on nominations submitted the following names and they were elected for the following year: President of District No.1 of Kent county, Mr. Henry Kelley, of Locust Grove; vice-president, Mr. A. J. Hackett, of Still Pond; secretary, Mrs. A. Urie, Kennedyville; superintendent of Teacher Training, Rev. R. H. Lewis, Galena; Superintendent of Home Visitation, Miss Isabella Wiest, Millington; Superintendent of Elementary Work, Miss Emma Shafer, Kennedyville; Superintendent of Missions, Mrs. Shep. Morris, Sassafras; Superintendent of Temperance, Mr. Herbert Ford, Chesterville; 7.30, devotions, Rev. R. H. Lewis; 7.50, ladies' quartet and report of committees; duet, Dr. and Mrs. Gowman; address, The Organized Bible Class, Rev. B. W. Kindley; ladies' quartet, Mrs. Schofield, Mrs. I. L. Dempsey, Mrs. Lewis and Miss G. Dempsey; Address, "Our Scholars for Christ," Rev. H. Connelly, closing song, benediction.

The ladies of the church cleared quite a nice little sum from their lunches on election day and are now planning to hold a large poultry and oyster supper in December.

The Junior League last Friday was in charge of the boys' club, "American Knights," and their program was enjoyed by all. The new society is a part of the Junior League and meets at the same time, but has its own officers and its work is composed chiefly of temperance work, humane work and Bible study. Mrs. Hadley is leader. Long live the Club of American Knights!

Mrs. John Ford, with her daughter, Miss Katie, who were summoned to Chesapeake City to the funeral of her brother, Mr. W. H. Benson, returned to her home the last of the week.

Dr. Elizabeth Johnson attended the funeral of her uncle, Mr. Luther Whitaker, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Caldwell attended the funeral of their brother, Mr. James Walters, of Elkton, on Sunday.

Mr. James Davis and his happy bride returned home on Friday evening to their beautiful new home beside the Episcopal Church.

Three more weddings in our near town within the next week. Who said Galena young people were all married?

Miss Madie Muldoon spent part of last week in town visiting Miss Pearle Ford.

Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Wood, of Worton, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Walter Hadley.

Mrs. Wm. T. Wood, who has been quite sick for the past four weeks, is reported somewhat better at this writing.

Misses Margaret and Theresa Burns, who have been quarantined with scarlet fever, are able to be out once more. Owing to the care of the family, the physicians, school board and all concerned no new cases have broken out.

Millington Items.

Miss Clara Benson, daughter of Mrs. Julia K. Benson, and Mr. Lucien Massey, son of Mr. Bruce Massey, were married last Wednesday, Nov. 8, by the Rev. Mr. Rood, of the M. E. Church, South, at the home of Mrs. J. K. Benson. They left soon after for the home of the groom, near Baltimore, where he is engaged in civil engineering.

Mr. Owen Price, son of Mrs. Clarence Price, was married Nov. 8 to Miss Moore, of Unicorn Mills, by Rev. Mr. Thompson, of the M. E. Church. They will reside at Unicorn Mills.

Mr. Johathan Jones' home is near completion. It will be occupied Jan. 1st, 1912.

Mr. Hennan Hendrix has built a livery stable at the end of his lot. It will be spacious and well adapted for the livery business.

Mr. Brown Dulin will leave Millington about Jan. 1st, 1912, for his new home near Chester, Pa.

Mr. George Harrington and family are being entertained by Mrs. George Harrington.

Mrs. Jarman is occupying her new home.

Mrs. Dixon's little son, Cooper, is quite ill at the home of his parents near town.

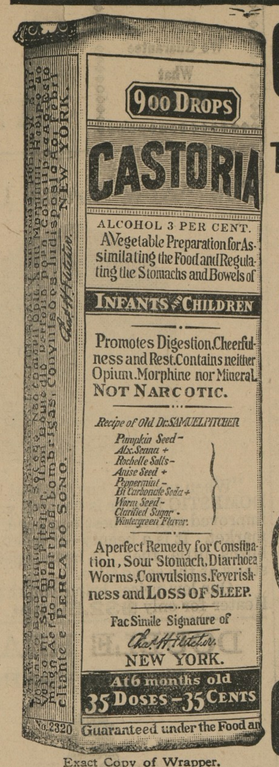

Miss Fannie Hurtt has been quite sick.

Miss Julia Casey is visiting in Chestertown.

Rev. Mr. Birnbach spent part of last week attending convocation.

A revival is in progress at Blackiston's.

A protracted meeting is being carried on at the M. E. Church, South, Ches-
