WELL! WELL!

Christmas is Here Again.

DEAR FRIENDS—Another year has slipped by and Christmas is almost here—just two weeks time for prepartion, and believe me, I'll be busy every minute. It seems that I'm being more gladly welcomed than ever before, and this will surely be my busiest Christmas. I am holding informal receptions daily at Schofield's, and it's delightful to see the many happy faces. The grown ups are just as glad to see me as are the children. There's a beautiful something that creeps into their hearts about this time—the desire to make other people happy, and its no longer a secret that there's no surer way to make ourselves happy. I never saw a more general disposition on the part of men and women to help me. My Still Pond headquarters will be at Schofield's until Christmas because I regard this as the brightest and best Christmas gift store in the town.

Sincerely yours,

SANTA CLAUS.

Every Saturday will be Children's Day at Schofield's. Santa Claus will be here from 1 to 5. Let all the children come and receive a treat from Old Santa Claus.

THE STILL POND.

Small mystic pond so deep, so calm and still—
Amid the maze of tangled brake and fern,
The moonbeams dance across thy placid face,
And laughing ripples with the shadows race.

As summer winds bend low, magnolia blooms,
And softest perfumes permeate the trees—
Of violets hid 'neath mossy banks,
Pond lillies breathe with wood anemonies.

Bird songs trill from oak and alder boughs,
The air is filled with hum of busy bees,
While echo, playing hide and seek,
Awakes the woods with charming melodies.

Tradition whispers from the long ago,
That once upon the pond and by its streams,
The wraiths of dusky maids and Indian braves—
Wandered around like spirits seen in dreams.

But on the silent surface of to-day,
No wavelets of the past can e'er be seen;
Mysterious solitude lingers thro' the shades;
And o'er the deepy depths rests sunshine's glittering sheen.

Judge Adkins Indorsed.

The Democratic members of the Talbot County Bar Association, at a meeting held recently, passed resolutions supporting Judge Adkins for the succession to the chief judgeship. To relieve Republican members of the association from embarrassment, they were not asked to attend the meeting. The resolutions adopted are as follows:

Whereas, In the year 1912 the term of the Hon. James Alfred Pearce, chief judge of the Second Judicial Circuit of Maryland, will expire, and it will then be incumbent upon the people of this circuit to elect in his place a chief judge.

And whereas, The Hon. Wm. H. Adkins has served as associate judge with notable ability and with great credit to himself and benefit to the people of this circuit;

And whereas, The Hon. Wm. H. Adkins, after the retirement of Judge Pearce, will be the senior judge in point of service in this circuit;

And whereas, We believe that as a recognition of his integrity, ability and extent of service he should be elevated to the chief judgeship of the Second Judicial Circuit of Maryland. Therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Democratic members of the bar of Talbot county that Hon. William H. Adkins is their unanimous choice, and that he be unqualifiedly supported for the office of chief judge of the Second Judicial Circuit of Maryland, and that the Democratic members of the bar use their best efforts and every honorable means to bring about his nomination as a candidate of the Democratic party for the office of chief judge and for his elevation to that high position at the general election to be held in 1912. And be it further

Resolved, That this resolution be given such publicity as the committee hereafter to be appointed shall think proper.

The Easton Star-Democrat and the Easton Ledger have also warmly indorsed Judge Adkins.

Soft Crabs Abundant.

Red Bank, N. J., enjoyed the greatest winter feast of soft shell crabs recently that ever was known in its history. They are regarded as a luxury in the winter, but they were so abundant that a peach basket full of them could be obtained for 25 cents. The reason for the glut in the market was that thousands were found off Atlantic Highlands on "the Rocks" when the ice

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Clergy Of Easton Diocese Pass Them On Death Of Rev. Mitchell.

Bishop William Forbes Adams and other clergymen of the Easton Diocese of the Protestant Episcopal Church met in St. Paul's Parish House Centreville, last week and adopted the following resolutions:

In the death of the Rev. James Archibald Mitchell, Rector Emeritus of St. Paul's Parish, we, his associates and co-laborers in the Diocese of Easton, recognize the departing of one to whom the Diocese stands indebted in no ordinary measure, marking as it does, the close of a term of service covering a period of nearly forty years. He gave freely of his young manhood and of his prime to the work of pastor and priest and preacher of the Word. He served the Diocese as a member of its Standing Committee, Dean of the Middle Convocation, and deputy to the General Convention. Endowed with many excellent gifts and capabilities for service in the work of the Sacred Ministry, among which we note the sound judgment and the gift of administration, he used them deligently, to the honor and glory of God. There was in him the happy union of firmness in the maintenance of his convictions with gentleness, consideration and Christian courtesy. He was not a self-seeker, nor ungenerous in spirit toward brethern in Sacred Office.

"His memory will be reverently and affectionately cherished by the people whom he served in priestly and pastoral relations for more than a quarter of a century, and his character and example will have left their deep and lasting impress upon the community among whom he lived and labored.

"To his doubly bereaved family in their deep sorrow we tender our hearty sympathy, commending them to the 'God of patience, the rich rewarder of the faithful ones who have 'run with patience the race set before them.'''

PUBLIC OPINION.

Public opinion, while thoroughly intangible is nevertheless one of the most powerful forces with which we have to deal. You cannot see it, you cannot touch it, but you can feel it, and many an ambitious public man has felt it to his sorrow, has gone down under its influence.

It is a great safeguard in a republican form of government, expressing as it does the will of the people, and in a way that connot be misunderstood. Public opinion is not simply the views of a few, but is that strangely crystalized sentiment which reflects the views of the people of all classes in the community. And it is the history of this country that when you get that, you are pretty close to the truth of any proposition which is under consideration.

And this same public opinion sizes up and measures the various individuals of a community, and especially those who are prominent, and the judgment thus formed is generally correct. Men may deceive themselves, but they cannot deceive the community in which they live.

Public opinion takes the mask off the false, and places the crown on the true. You cannot fool the people, at least you cannot fool them all the time. They may get wrong for the time, but they will swing back, as true as the needle settles itself to the pole.

Whenever you hear a man say that he does not care for public opinion, you may depend upon it, public opinion is not very favorable to him. He has crossed its path and has been worsted, and assumes not to care, what the public thinks of him. He is putting on a bold front. But he is not indifferent after all, for down deep in his heart he yearns for the good opinion of the public.

There is no reward that comes to any man, that he ought to appreciate more than the good opinion of his fellow citizens. And especially is this so with a man who holds official position. To so conduct himself in the discharge of the public duties which come to him, as to merit and receive the commendation of his fellows, is the highest reward that can come to a public servant.

Let no man despise public opinion. It is the great tribunal that passes judgment upon our everyday conduct, whether in private or public life, and its judgments are pretty sure to be correct.—Democratic Advocate.

The scales would not weigh the whole hog, so after cutting off its huge head, the rest of the hog weighed 596 pounds. It is probable that the whole animal weighed about 700 pounds.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION.

In the Circuit Court for Kent County, Maryland, in Equity, No. 1798.

JOSEPH BROWN, Colored,

vs.

James Wright, Carrie Brown, George Brown, Joseph Wright, Joseph Thomas, William Thomas, Sylvester Thomas, Carrie Thomas, Joseph Thomas, Edith Harris Ringgold, George Ringgold, Hester Tiller, Alfred Tiller, Kosora Bright, William Bright, Mary Priscilla Parker, Emma Taylor and all the unknown heirs of Richard Hazzard, colored.

The object of this bill is to procure a decree of this court for the sale of the real estate of Richard Hazzard, colored, deceased, situated in Kent county, Maryland, and for a distribution of the proceeds to the heirs at law. The bill states:

1. That Richard Hazzard, colored, late of Kent county in the State of Maryland, deceased, died many years ago, and at the time of his death was seized and possessed of certain real estate situated, lying and being in the Second Election District of Kent county, Maryland, in that part of said district known as "Big Woods," and containing some 13 acres of land, more or less.

2. That the said Richard Hazzard left surviving him, the following children, namely: Caroline Hazzard, who married William Harris, both of whom are dead, and the said Caroline Hazzard Harris left surviving her, a son, Joseph Brown, the plaintiff, whose wife's name was Sophia Brown, but she is now dead. The said Caroline Hazzard Harris also left a daughter, Elizabeth Brown, who married James Wright. She is dead and left the following children, namely: Carrie Brown, who inter-married with George Brown and Joseph Wright; Annie Brown, who is dead, but who married Joseph Thomas and by him had the following four children, namely: William Thomas, Sylvester Thomas, Carrie Thomas and Joseph Thomas, all adults, and all living in Wilmington, Del.; and a daughter, Edith Harris, who inter-married with George Ringgold, both of whom live in the City of Chester, in the State of Pennsylvania. And the said Caroline Hazzard Harris left a daughter, Aggie Harris, who married Samuel Tilotson; they had two daughters, one Hester Tiller, she married Alfred Tiller, both of whom live in the "Big Woods," and the other daughter of Aggie Harris Tilotson was Kosora, who married William Bright, both of whom also live in the "Big Woods." And the said Richard Hazzard left a daughter by the name of Mary Priscilla Parker, who, your plaintiff is informed, resides in Chester, Pennsylvania. And also Richard Hazzard also left a daughter, Emma Taylor, who, your plaintiff alleges, resides in the city of Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania. And these, your plaintiff alleges, are the only children and heirs at law of the said Richard Hazzard known to him; and it is unknown whether the said Richard Hazzard left any other heirs surviving him.

3. That the said real estate is not susceptible of partition without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interests therein as above stated, and that in order to make division of said interests it will be necessary for said real estate to be sold and the proceeds divided among the parties entitled thereto accoording to their several interests therein. It it thereupon, this 11th day of December, 1911, ordered by the Circuit Court for Kent county, in equity, that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper, published in said Kent county, once in each of four successive weeks before the 15th day of January next, giving notice to the said non-resident defendants, Edith Harris Ringgold, George Ringgold, Mary Priscilla Parker and Emma Taylor, and the unknown heirs not named in this proceeding of Richard Hazzard, warning them to appear in this court by person or by solicitor, on or before the 1st day of February next, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.
