Call them what you will, but at the prices we have pinned on them we call them cheap, and so does the public, judging from the way they are getting into them. Now is your opportunity to fix up very, very cheap. Splice out the coat and vest with a pair out of this lot.

Overcoats and Suits all go now, and we still have a fair line. These reductions of ours are recognized as REDUCTIONS. Think of this.

PERSONAL JOTTINGS.

What is "Doing" Among Your Friends and Acquaintances in Kent and Elsewhere.

Chief Judge J. A. Pearce has been quite sick at Annapolis, but is now improved.

Col. Alex. Maxwell, of Middletown, Del., was in Chestertown Tuesday on business.

Robt. H. Vandyke, Esq., of Dover, Del., was in Chestertown Tuesday on business

Judge Wm. R. Martin presided at the Talbot court on Monday. This was his first appearance in court since he received a stroke of paralysis last fall, at Chestertown, and he was heartily greeted by many present.

Lewin W. Wickes, Esq., visited Chief Judge Pearce in Annapolis this week.

Mr. Wm. H. Ivens and Mr. Philip D. Spaeth have returned to their work in Philadelphia after spending several days with Mr. Ivens' mother, High street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jones, of Felton, Del., are visiting their daughter, Mrs. E. B. Taylor, at Bond M. E. parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Walker and nephew, Mr. Walter Beck of St. Louis, Mo., have been the guests of Misses Emily and Ellen Massey, of Colo. Springs Colo.

Mr. Foster Perkins, of Phila., visited his brother, H. E. Perkins, Esq., in Chestertown this week.

Mrs. John Shuster, of Wilmington, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. F. Russell.

Mr. Geo. Perkins, of Phila., visited his mother in Chestertown the past week.

Mr. Robert Brown has obtained a position in Phila. Mr. Julian Brown is filling the position of messenger at the telegraph office in place of his brother.

Dr. W. Frank Hines returned from Baltimore Saturday and we are glad to report that he is very much improved.

Mrs. Frank Miller has returned to her home in Cheestertown from a Baltimore hospital and is improved.

Mrs. Franklin Crew, of Wilmington, has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. A. L. Davidson, Chestertown.

Mr. Harry D. Anthony has accepted a very good position as claim examiner for the Maryland Casualty Company. He had just passed his semi-yearly examination with a very creditable mark and was offered this position with privilege of attending the lectures at the University. He is taking a four year course in two years.

Miss Elizabeth Walnut, of Phila., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Perkins.

Mr. Lemuel Marks, of Baltimore, and E. C. Walters, of Galena, were in town yesterday.

Charles Cranor, of Edesville, Md., is the guest of his son, Frank Cranor, of No. 1111 Lancaster avenue, Wilmington, Del.

Mr. Samuel Jones, of Philadelphia, is visiting friends in Chestertown. Mr Jones is now employed near Johnstown, Pa.

Mr. A. D. Albaugh, recently a resident of Chestertown, has again accepted a responsible position with the Philadelphia Traction Company.

Mr. Carl Lynch, affable clerk in Mr. W. A. Carroll's shoe store, was painfully bruised and wounded by being thrown from horse back, Tuesday morning. Mr. Lynch was turning the corner at High street and College avenue, when his horse shied at something in the road, at the instant a two horse farm wagon going at fast speed collided with Mr. Lynch's horse, causing the rider to be thrown violently to the ground. Mr. Lynch received an ugly wound in the head and was otherwise painfully bruised about the face and body.

Mr. Frank R. McWhorter who has been conducting a meat and grocery business in Church Hill for the past five years, sold out stock and good will to Messrs. Ezekiel Sparks and W. Arters. Mr. Arters has been associated with Mr. William Clark in the butcher business for the past year and understands the cutting of meats thoroughly; we wish them good luck.

Mr. Fred Kirsh, of Cliffs, was removed to Baltimore on Wednesday to receive hospital treatment; he has been suffering for some time with a gathering on the chin. Mr. Kirsh is about 70 years old and moved to Kent from Baltimore about 11 years ago.

Miss Nettie Elburn, of Chestertown, is the guest of her sister Miss Macy Elburn, of Worton Manor Beach.

Mrs. Deborah Anthony is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Albert, in New York.

Miss Louise Stam has been visiting her sister in Philadelphia this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Clark have returned from a pleasant visit to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Colgain, near Sassafras. Mr. Clark says game is very scarce. He went coon hunting with the "boys" but he says he don't want to go again up there!

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bryan, of Melitota, are receiving congratulations from their many friends upon their fine little daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram M. Brown returned Wednesday from a visit to friends in Cecil.

Miss Mable Toulson and Mr. Kemp Bordley attended the Boston Symphony orchestra concert at the Lyric, Baltimore, Wednesday evening.

Mrs. S. Lane and Miss Mary Vansant, of Wilmington, also Mrs. J. T. Kennard, of Atlantic city, who have been visiting Mrs. W. T. Lane, of Kennyville, have returned to their homes.

To the many friends who so kindly showed their sympathy to the late W. T. Lane and wife during his illness, she desires to express her great appreciation.

Mrs. John Lvord and son Edwin, of Sudlersville, are spending a few days with her brother James Jarman, at his home near Worton.

Mrs. Blanchve Clayton and Miss Gracia Meeks, of near town, are visiting friends in Norfork, Va.

A Worthy Example.—The residents of Perryville have contributed over $500 to the purchase of fire apparatus for the town. This is an example for Chestertown and there is no time better than the present to make a move for better fire protection for Chestertown.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Mrs. M. Louise Stockham, widow of the late John L. Stockham, died at her late home No. 1614 East Chase st., Baltimore, Wednesday, Feb. 14th.

Sereck F. Shallcross, one of the oldest and best known farmers of Delaware, died at his home near Odessa Tuesday in the 90th year of his age, from a sudden attack of pneumonia. He leaves two children, Thomas J., of Kent, and Mrs. Fanny Williams, of Odessa, Del.

The following tribute to Mr. Hall is by the Dist. President of the Order.

After a short illness of pneumonia and other complications, Brother George Hall was called by the Great Shepherd of his soul, from earth's barren pastures to a land of never-withering flowers, where eternal day excludes the night and pleasure banishes pain.

Brother Hall was a splendid citizen and a faithful member of church. His face was always lit up with smiles and cheerfulnes, and he was loved by all.

He lived with his mother, giving her the very best attention in her declining years, which number eighty, he being fifty-five, yet some how God saw best to call him first.

A dear mother, a brother and sister, and a son, and daughter, Mrs. Fred Miller, of Wilmington, Del., survive him. Mrs. Miller was with her father in his last hours and ministered to all his wants.

He was a member of the Jr. O. U. A. M. and the P. O. S. of A. of which he has been a member for five years. Brother Hall was a man of excellent memory and was very proficient in our orders. He could go through the duties of his office without the use of the ritual, and was filling the highest office in the gift of the order—Past President. Now his name has been called: "Come up higher." Brothers we have a vacant chair. The reaper of heaven has gathered another sheaf out of our Order; a faithful and worthy brother whose place with us cannot be filled. The golden tie that has linked us together so long as with hooks of steel, is broken, and our hearts are saddened. Brothers, let us look to Him from whence cometh strength, and be also ready to meet him in heaven; that in the morning we may clasp hands with our brother beyond the river, where the surges cease to roll, who so faithfully confided in his God, and trusted in a Being whose inspection and care nothing could escape; whose goodness created wants, but to supply them; whose bounty hath no law but that of infinite diffusion, who brightens the patriots' way, as the angelic host came at the mid day hour, to accompany our brother through the valley of the shadow of death to that home that knows no death and where the weary are at rest.

Mr. Hall leaves his family insurance policies for $500. His funeral took place on Tuesday and was attended by the Orders. The bearers were J. C. Davis, Arthur Pope, W. L. Fowler, John Hirons, S. P. Townsend and Edw. P. Beck. J. E. Ferguson, undertaker. Rev. Dr. D. L. Greenfield, of Christ M. P. Church, conducted the religious services, Rev. Mr. White being kept away by sickness.

Donald Martin Makosky, son of Rev. E. C. and Edith P. Makosky, born at St. James parsonage August 16, 1901, died of scarlet fever at Buckeystown, Md., February 11, 1906. Rev. J. M. Gill, of Rhode Island Avenue. M. P. Church, Washington, D. C., officiated at the funeral which took place Feb. 12, 1906, interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery. The little fellow was taken ill on Tuesday but was doing nicely until Saturday when his heart seemed to be weakening. Heroic measures were taken to restore him, the doctors worked faithfully but despite all he sank perceptibly and slept himself into the sleep that knows no awakening. Every one who ever knew Donald was impressed with his lovableness and sweetness of disposition, he was so bright and winsome that every one loved him. Why this sore affliction cannot be understood. His parents have the sincere sympathy of all in this community where his father was the beloved pastor of St. James for five years.

Mrs. Mary B. Illi, beloved wife of Walter Illi and daughter of Thomas and the late Laura Lofland, departed this life last Monday morning after a lingering illness at her home, Race St., Phila. She is survived by a husband and daughter, the deceased has many relatives in Kent, including Mrs. Guest and Mr. George Lofland, of Chestertown, M. Watts and John A. Watts, of Kennedyville.
