Call them what you will, but at the prices we have pinned on them we call them cheap, and so does the public, judging from the way they are getting into them. Now is your opportunity to fix up very, very cheap. Splice out the coat and vest with a pair out of this lot.

Overcoats and Suits all go now, and we still have a fair line. These reductions of ours are recognized as REDUCTIONS. Think of this.

Opening services of Holy Cross P. E. church were held last Sunday morning. Bishop Adams, of Easton Diocese presided, assisted by Rev. James A. Mitchell, of Centreville, and Rev. Albert Ware, of Massey. The stormy day prevented many from attending the solemn service. The chapel is considered one of the handsomest on the Eastern shore of Maryland.

The building is of frame construction. The exterior is finished in half timber work painted bronze green with panels filled with plaster which makes a very beautiful effect. At the front of the church there is a tower and belfry. The roof is covered with slate.

The interior is beautifully designed and finished in dark oak. The chancel is separated from the auditorium with arches and pillars. The choir space is to the left of the chancel and the vestry room to the right. The roof timbers are exposed and the ceiling is finished in wood. The windows are filled with soft tinted cathedral glass of appropriate designs. The chancel window is of unusual beauty and designed by Giessler, of New York. This window is the gift of Miss Julia Cacy. The altar, pews, pulpit, organ and furniture are all finished in dark oak. The interior and exterior present a very beautiful appearance and reflects great credit upon the rector, Rev. Albert Ware, the building committee, Dr. Comegys, J. E. Hurlock and W. F. Collins, and the entire congregation who so nobly went to work after the fire to raise money for a new church. William Draper Brinckle, of Wilmington, Del., is the architect. W. S. & A. M. Culp, of Chestertown, Md., are the general contractors, and W. L. Fowler, of Chestertown, Md., contractor for painting and hard wood finish. The total cost of building is about $4000.00.

The following list is a summary of the regulations furnished by his Eminence, the Cardinal, for the Catholics of the Archdiocese of Baltimore:

1. All the faithful who have completed their twenty-first year, unless exempt by dispensation or some other legitimate cause, are bound to observe the fast of Lent.

2. They are to make one meal only a day, except on Sundays.

3. A small refreshment, commonly called a collation, is permitted in the evening.

4. The faithful are reminded that, besides the obligations of fasting imposed by the church, this holy season of Lent should be, in an especial manner, a time of earnest prayer, of sorrow for sins, of seclusion from the world and its amusements, and of generous almsgiving.

At the fourth Quarterly Conference held at Galena last Saturday, the attendance was large, the reports showed the work of the churches to be in an encouraging condition, and the Pastor, Rev. T. C. Smoot, was extended a hearty and unanimous invitation to return to the charge for another year.
