Women in Our Hospitals

Appalling Increases in the Number of Operations Performed Each Year—How Women May Avoid Them.

Going through the hospitals in our large cities one is surprised to find such a large proportion of the patients lying on those snow-white beds women and girls, who are either awaiting or recovering from serious operations.

Why should this be the case? Simply because they have neglected themselves. Female troubles are certainly on the increase among the women of this country—they creep upon them unawares, but every one of those patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in that bearing-down feeling, pain at left or right of the abdomen, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back, dizziness, flatulency, displacements of the organs or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female organs, and if not heeded the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation. When these symptoms manifest themselves, do not drag along until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an operation—but remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved thousands of women from surgical operations.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating (or flatulency), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings they should remember that this one tried and true remedy.

The following letters cannot fail to bring hope to despairing women.

Miss Ruby Mushrush, of East Chicago, Ind., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I have been a great sufferer with irregular periods and female trouble, and about three months ago the doctor, after using the X-Ray on me, said I had an abcess and would have to have an operation. My mother wanted me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a last resort, and it not only saved me from an operation but made me entirely well."

Mrs. Alice Berryhill, of 313 Boyce Street, Chattanooga, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Three years ago life looked dark to me. I had ulceration and inflammation of the female organs and was in a serious condition.

"My health was completely broken down and the doctor told me that if I was not operated upon I would die within six months. I told him I would have no operation but would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. He tried to influence me against it but I sent for the medicine that same day and began to use it faithfully. Within five days I felt relief but was not entirely cured until I used it for some time.

"Your medicine is certainly fine. I have induced several friends and neighbors to take it and I know more than a dozen who had female troubles and who to-day are as well and strong as I am from using your Vegetable Compound."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice and medicine have restored thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Why Eat So Much?

Is It Necessary for Maintaining Good Health—Example to Prove the Negative.

Did you ever hear a person say, "Well, I eat too much; I don't feel good—I'm going to stop it?"

It has been said a thousand times, and yet the person who utters this threat against his appetite goes on eating just the same—just as much as ever.

Now, there is employed in the Treasury Department at Washington (to be specific, in the office of the Auditor for the War Department) a man who twenty years ago made a resolution to eat less, and he has kept it ever since. He made this resolution for two reasons—one was that he thought it was not good for him to eat heartily, and the other was he knew it would lead to economy. He owed a large debt, which misfortune had shouldered on him. He said to himself, "I will eat less and pay more," and the present time finds his debts all paid, his health good, and him a hale, hearty and happy man at 74. The remarkable feature is that he lives respectably and comfortable on less than four dollars a month, or at least he has not exceeded that expenditure for eatables per month for the last seven or eight years. Later on in this article I will tell you how he does it.

His name is A. W. Riley, and he is a $1200 clerk. He is a well-preserved old gentleman, about five feet five inches tall, weighing in the neighborhood of 125 pounds—a good weight for his height—full grey beard, a kindly face, and a bright keen blue eye. He comes of Revolutionary stock, and shows with pride a certificate of discharge of his grandfather from the Continental Army, signed by General George Washington.

Having a doubt as to the ability of Mr. Riley to live so cheaply, I paid him a visit to ascertain, if possible his method, for the purpose of really doing a favor to the extravagant by giving them a "pointer" on economy.

I found him neatly and comfortably housed (as you would expect a $1200 clerk in Washington to be,) with his surroundings indicating extreme tidiness and care, the presence of books and pictures and painting attested his love of study and art. His great attachment to literature has prompted him to commit to memory many of the famous poems such as Gray's Elegy in a Country Church Yard, Bryant's Thanatopis, and other long and familiar productions.

"Thi syou see," said Mr. Riley, surveying his paintings and books, "shows my method of living conduces to brain strength, as I will prove to you."

He then gave me a demonstration of his ability as a declaimer.

"Now, Mr. Riley, I want to see your bill of fare, said I after having given him a hearty encore for his effort at declamation. He complied with my request; and here are the articles, with their prices, on which he lived for the month of March, 1906. They were all cooked or prepared by himself in a little kitchen four by six feet, which is kept as neat as a pin:

Meat, etc: Beef, 5 cents; clams, 10 cents; fish, 15 cents.

Bread, etc:—Bread, 41 cents; cake, 50 cents; pie, 20 cents; pretzels, 3 cents.

Milk, etc:—Milk, 20 cents; butter, 30 cents; cheese, 6 cents.

Fruit and Vegetables:—Bananas, 5 cents; apples, 35 cents; onions, 5 cents.

Miscellaneous:—Nuts, 18 cents; lunches, 60 cents; eggs, 46 cents; sugar 46 cents; sugar, 12 cents; tea, 10 cents. Total $3.91 for the month.

Recapitualted, the foregoing gives:—Meats, etc., 30 cents; bread, etc., $1.14; milk, etc., 56 cent; fruit and vegetables, 45 cents, and miscellaneous, $1.46—a total of $3.91.

The bill of fare for April 24, 1906, was as follows:

Breakfast:—1 scrambled egg, with cream, 1 biscuit and 1 cup of tea.

Luncheon:—1 biscuit, crackers and cheese, 1 cup of tea, cake and canned apricots.

Dinner:—Bowl of Potato soup, 4 slices of bread and 1 cup of tea.

(No butter except what was used in seasoning the egg and soup, and no other seasoning except salt. Uses no pepper or any of the manufactured sauces, believing them injurious compounds for mixing food. Cost of food for the day, 12 cents.)

The cost of 12 cents given is recapitulated as follows: Cost of egg 1 cent and a fraction, bread 1 cent and a fraction, 3 cents.

Apricots	2 cents
Cheese	1 "
Cake	3 "
Soup, tea, butter and cream	3 "
Total	12 cents

Physically, as well as mentally, Mr. Riley is strong. He walks from five to ten miles a day in the course of performing his duties, and only recently he walked from Washington to the Great Falls of the Potomac and back in the same day, a distace of 34 miles.—M. S. J. in Westminster Advocate.
