A Successful Experience With Gravel Roads.

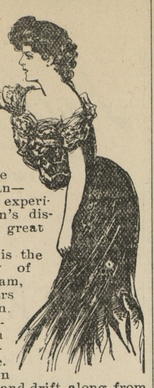

In very many sections of Queen Anne's county gravel is found in great abundance. The following extract from article on roads by an experienced western farmer is therefore of special interest at this time:

"We will briefly describe a road that we have done much hauling over. From fence to fence it is 40 feet. No plowing was done. A six or eight horse grader was used, which commenced within four or five feet of the fence, up one side and down the other, until the road in the centre was two feet higher than the bottom of the side ditches. Slope from centre to ditches gradual, but enough to give immediate drainage to water falling upon it. After the grading was completed there was put on a coat of gravel one foot thick by 16 feet wide. Gravel cost nothing except for hauling it an average of about 2½ miles. I am informed that this road cost, including everything, $1.60 per ten square feet of gravel, which would make the total cost per mile about $1,200, if I have figured correctly. This road has been in use ten years or over, and during the time it has required but little repair and is always firm and apparently dry. It is a nice appearing road and is just as good as it seems. You can drive anywhere on it with a ton of hay with one side of the wagon in a ditch with no danger of upsetting your load. The land through which this road passes is as flat as you ever see land. The soil is black and in places poachy."

THE California earthquake of April 18 far less destructive than that of Lisbon, in 1531, in which 30,000 lives were lost; or that visiting Sicily in 1693, in which more than 100,000 lives were lost; or that of Japan, in 1887, the official estimate of which is 50,000 houses destroyed and 4,000 people; or that of Ecuador and Peru, in 1868, in which 25,000 lives were lost, yet it will be classed with the fifty or more great destructions of life and property by earthquakes and volcanic eruptions, beginning with the terrible earthquake at Pompeii, A. D. 63.

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years.

Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, and for many years under her direction and since her decease, she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

A Chicago man has just married father's divorced third wife. That makes him his own father, his own son, his brothers stepfather, brother-in-law's father-in-law, his grandfather's son-in-law and his wife's son. A man willing to acquire such a complex lot of relatives certainly has nerve.

IF you are superstitious about the number 13 you had better give the NEWS your quarter dollars, for each one are 13 stars, 13 letters in the scroll of the eagles beak, 13 leaves on the olive branch, 13 arrow heads, and 13 letters in the words "quarter dollar." Now it's not safe to keep them so just bring them in and get credit on your subscription for the full amount.

Increase in the Cost of Living.—That we are now living in an era of high prices is apparent to every housekeeper. It is not necessary to refer to statistics for information, as the fact is forcefully demonstrated by the mere expenditure of money for the necessities of life. Still the story is most completely told by comparison in prices and the New York World does this very effectively by printing a table of the wholesale prices for a number of articles in 1896 and 1906, the space of only ten years. Here are some of them: Butter 14 cents a pound in 1896, now 20; cheese, 9½ cents, now 14½; macaroni, Italian, 5½ cents, now 7; tapioca, 2½, cents, now 4½; lemons, $2 per box, now $2,72; oranges, $3.50 per box, now $4.50; bananas, $1 per bunch, now $1.65; apples, $2.75 per barrel, now $5; Ceylon tea, 24 cents per pound, now 45; Italian olive oil, 50 cents per gallon, now $1 75; turkeys dressed, 14 cents per pound, now 20; chickens, broilers, 30 cents per pound, now 40; veal, 7 cents per pound, now 9½; mess pork, $11 50 per barrell, now $17.75; beef hams, $16 per barrel, now $21; prime lard, $4.50 per tierce, now $8.85; boneless codfish, 7 cents per pound, now 9. The increase range from 20 to 100 per cent. They are fairly appalling to the housekeepers who realize their extent, and who also realize that their salaries have not begun to keep pace with their increase in the cost of living during the lapse of ten years. In fact, many people find themselves worse off on the same salary and some even with increased wages.

Horse Notes.—Mr. J. Walters Paynter, of Sudlersville, has sold his 6-year Advance mare to Mr. Cooper Tarbutton, of Crumpton, for a Wilmington party. The price paid is said to be $600. She is a beautiful dark bay, good size, excellent driver and gives promise of considerable speed.

A HOG SOLD FOR $2000.

Walter Williams writes in the East Window (Missouri) column:

That Missouri is leading in hogs as well as much else is known to those who have given attention to the subject. Nicholas H. Gentry, of Pettis county, sold a Berkshire hog for $2000, the largest price ever paid in America for a Berkshire hog. At the home of its owner, George W. Null, of Lafayette county, a Poland China hog has just died, for which $1575 was paid. This hog held the world's record for farrowing the highest priced litter of hogs ever known, eight bringing $3055.

GOLD GALORE.

The finding of gold on the farm of L. O. J. Atwood, on Red Hill, Cecil county as was recently reported in the Cecil Democrat, is no hoax, as some people have been inclined to believe it was. Since the assay of the ore was made, which showed $5.00 worth of Gold to the ton, two other assays have been made. One showed $16.00 worth of gold to the ton, and the other $30.00 to the ton. The ore was struck by workmen digging a well. There seems to be three veins, the richest of which runs through the centre of the well. It is understood that a company will be organized to mine the ore. The farm is the one formerly owned by the late John E. Wilson, Esq.

To A Smart Property Owner.

Painting is practical work. Skill wins. It's the same with paint making.

You know 4 gallons L. & M. mixed with 3 gallons Linseed Oil makes enough paint for a moderate sized house--the best paint money can buy--because the L. & M. Zinc hardens the L. & M. White Lead and makes the L. & M. Paint wear like iron.

Buy L. & M. and don't pay $1.50 a gallon for Linseed Oil, as you do in ready-for-use paint, but buy oil fresh from the barrell at 60 cents, and mix with the L. & M.

L. & M. costs only $1 20 per gallon.
