Issue Not Lost.

The "Gormanism" cry must now be dropped. But a rose by any other name will smell just as sweet.

A Great Man Gone.

Our community was shocked last Monday by the announcement of Senator Gorman's death. He was better known in a general way than any other Marylander, and he had numerous warm personal friends in Kent. No man was ever so distinguished and looked up to as a political leader in this State, and no one has gotten closer to our people as one fitted to direct public affairs. Kent county has been ready to support Arthur P. Gorman for any position, even for President of the United States, for the last twenty years. He had his enemies here as elsewhere, as every man of mark will have, but the people generally recognized his great abilities. His numerous friends admired and loved him, while his many enemies feared and denounced him. He never asked for an endorsement in Kent county that he did not receive it, fully and freely.

Senator Gorman was an ideal party man. We do not, o' course, pretend to say that he had no faults, or that he has not made mistakes. This would be to say that he was not human, but we believe his mistakes were never of the heart.

It was not only his great ability and wisdom that always appealed to the members of his party, but it was their perfect confidence in his strict political integrity. He had a full measure of State pride and as a true Marylander served his State so well that the Old Commonwealth was the greater for his living. He was a Democrat of never wavering steadfastness; his enemies could not cajole or drive him from the old faith and though he was often hurt by the ingratitude and slights of men who had been made all they ever were by his favor, he was patient and of pleasant demeanor under it all, and generally found the opportunity to effectively strike back where his party interests necessitated such procedure.

The death of Senator Gorman leaves a place that no one can fill at once as a party leader; whether in the near future such an one will come to the front remains to be seen. Many of the wisest leaders of the Democracy believe that it has been through the dead Senator's wisdom and leadership that the State has been kept so long—with but a single break—in the control of Democratic men and policies. Some will argue and it may be true, that while there may not be any one leader to take his place, a number will step into the breach, and it is better, after all, that such leadership and wonderful influence as Gorman possessed should be shared by many rather than by a single individual. The Democratic party has within its fold in Maryland many able men and we hope to see some one selected with recognized character and ability to fill the high post of United States Senator and become a true representative of our State in the National Congress and also a trusted leader of the people in all State affairs.

The Eastern Shore is entitled to the vacancy now occurring. And we have the man—fully qualified by reason of character and brains—and with eminent political claim for such honors at this time. May the Governor find this one. The people would surely endorse his selection.

THE National Liquor Dealers Association, which opened its annual convention in Louisville Tuesday, issued an address to the people of the United States in which the belief of its members in temperance is expressed; obedience to the law is indorsed; the work of the various temperance societies is commended, and the statement is made that intoxication should be considered a crime! Well, well, well, what a mockery! They sell the vile stuff which causes the very intoxication considered by them to be a crime.

THE Governor will name a successor to the late Senator Gorman early next week. The man selected will not serve out Senator Gorman's full term, which does not expire until 1909, but only until the next General Assembly meets, in January, 1908. At that time the Legislature will be called upon to elect two United States Senators, one for the short term of less than a year, and the other for the long term of six years. It would be possible, it is said, to elect one man for both the short and the long term, or different men may be chosen. In any event, in a State where there are men of Senatorial aspirations in every section, and with no one man to take complete charge of the party organization, an interesting struggle is predicted at the next session.

The expose of the vile conditions in Chicago's packing houses has opened the eyes of the public and Armour's meats are at a discount. Fish and eggs have replaced the dirty meats. Local meat dealers can draw a wholesome lesson from the expose and keep their shops as clean and pure as possible.

CHURCH NOTES.

The Chestertown M. E. Sunday school received their elegant Chickering Grande piano Tuesday and it was safely placed in the church Wednesday under the watchful eye of Superintendent, J. T. Anthony. A special program has been arranged for Sunday afternoon. A new carpet has also been placed on the S. S. room.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Kent Co. C. E. Union, held at Christ M. P. Church, Chestertown, on Tuesday last, it was decided, upon invitation of Rev. Geo. J. Hooker and delegate, to hold the annual C. E. Convention in the Kennedyville M P. Church, the date to be fixed by a committee to be named by the County President.

Endeavorers throughout the County will be delighted to have the privilege of attending another convention at Kennedyville.

Chesterville Sunday school will celebrate Children's Day June 17 at 10.30 A. M. instead of June 10th as stated in last week's issue.

The Convention of the Protestant Episcopal church for the Diocese of Easton met in Easton this week. Hon. James A. Pearce, of Chestertown, was elected grand chancellor. Judge Pearce, Dr. W. F. Hines, E. Thomas Massey and George Bell were present from Kent.

The convention was called by Bishop William Forbes Adams, of the diocese, and was opened with morning prayer, after which Rev. A. J. Vanderbogart, of Salisbury, preached the convention sermon.

The Bishop reports that during the year there have been two new churches built and consecrated, one at Berlin, Worcester county, and the other at Millington, Kent county. He also reports that the two churches which were burned have been rebuilt, and one of them is completed, paid for and ready to be consecrated. There have also been added during the year one rectory and two new parish houses, and valuable improvements have been made to the churches in Shrewsbury Parish, Kent county, and South Elk Parish, Cecil county. He reports that all the parishes in the diocese, with the exception of Augustine parish, Chesapeake City, have rectors and are in a good and flourishing condition.

At the afternoon session Bishop Adams named the following standing committees:

State of the Church—Rev. W. B. Stehl, of Centreville; Rev. Wm. G. McCready, Easton; Rev. E. W. McMaster, Pocomoke City; Edwin S. Valiant, Church Hill; Thos. B. Baker, St. Michaels.

On Canons and Other Business—Revs. James A. Mitchell, Centreville, and A. Battle, Queenstown; Judge Jas. A. Pearce, Chestertown.

Rev. Edward R. Rich, of Easton was elected secretary of the convention for the ninth consecutive time. Rev. F. B. Adkins was made his assistant.

Cambridge and Port Deposit both gave invitations for the convention of 1907, and that of Port Deposit was accepted.

The evening session was devoted to hearing reports of the various committees.

A splendid program was presented at St. James M. P. Church Sunday on the Children's Day occasion. About $23 was raised making $38 contributed by the two churches, Lynch's and St. James.
