PEOPLE YOU KNOW.

Mr. Henry Miller, of Wilmington, Del., spent the weekend with his sister, Mrs. Charles N. Satterfield, on Queen street.

Miss Reynolds, private secretary of Mr. John P. Ahern, of Millington, spent Sunday with Prof. and Mrs. J. L. Smith.

The waffle and chicken supper given at the home of Mrs. Dr. H. Benge Simmons on Friday evening last was largely attended and a splendid sum for the benefit of missions was divided among the Sunday school classes interested.

John Eliason, Esq., of Philadelphia, spent Sunday with his father, Mr. Wilbur Eliason, on Mt. Vernon Place.

Prof. J. Leo Brown, principal of the Painter, Va., High School, attended the Washington College Hop last Friday evening and was the guest of friends here for the weekend.

We are glad to state that Mrs. J. S. W. Jones, who has been quiet sick with pneumonia during the past week, is very much improved.

Mrs. George Snitcher has been quite sick during the past week.

Miss Jane Blackiston is on an extended visit with her brother in Cumberland.

Former president Harry Davis, and Mr. Samuel Hicks, clerk to the Board of County Commissioners, spent several days at Annapolis and Washington this week. Mr. Hicks says legislation at both capitals will go along more smoothly since their visit.

Road Engineer Isaac Gibbs, Jr., has been housed with the grippe at the home of his father, Mr. Isaac Gibbs, Sr., near Massey.

Miss Lillian Gale left this week for New York to inspect the spring and summer designs in millinery. She will go from there to her appointment in the South. Miss Maude Miller also left this week for her spring and summer duties in Illinois.

Miss Hammond, of North East, Cecil county, has been the guest of Mrs. S. E. Ford, on the avenue this week.

Mr. Harry B. Rote was in Philadelphia this week on business.

Miss Katie Trew, of near Pomona, has been on the sick list during the week.

Mr. Harry E. Taylor, of Worton, was raised to the sublime degree of a Master Mason by Chester Lodge last week.

Miss Bessie Perry, of Swarthmore, Pa., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. S. Scott Beck, on Princess street.

Miss Grace Wilkins has been the guest of friends in Norfolk, Va.

Miss Mary Evans, of Baltimore, is the guest of Miss Anna B. Smith, on the avenne.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Merchant, of Galena, gathered at their home last Saturday evening to celebrate with them the twentieth anniversary of their wedding. The occasion was one long to be remembered by all who were present. Mr. and Mrs. Merchant received many beautiful and useful presents, and every one hopes them many more happy anniversaries.

Miss Nora Baxter, of Sudlersville, has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Gove Everett, near Galena, during the week.

ONE OF KENT'S OLD FAMILIES.

Ancestors of the Trew Family Among the Earliest Settlers in This County.

One of the oldest and most highly esteemed families in Kent county is the Trew family, whose representatives living to-day are: Mr. Bartus Trew and his family, in Quaker Neck; Thos. W. Trew, of Lankford; Walter Trew, of Pomona; Miss Josephine Trew, of Chestertown, Mr. Joseph Trew, near Kennedyville; Mrs. Virgil Kendall and sister, of Chestertown, and Mrs. T. Benjamin Durding, of Rock Hall. The head of the Trew family came to this country in 1668, and settled in what is now known Quaker Neck. The original dwelling was a log cabin on the shore of Lankford's bay on the farm now owned by Mr. Bartus Trew. The family is of English or Scotch descent, and those who survive to-day bear the impress of their ancestral temperament and strong characteristics. The Trew family or at least the largest part thereof has lived in Quaker and Broad Necks ever since the establishment of the original homestead. They have impressed their individuality upon the community in which they have lived for years, and the history of Quaker Neck, all that pertains to its development in all walks of life, could not be accurately written without the inclusion of the great part which the Trew family has played in that development. Mr. Bartus Trew is the oldest living member of the family to-day, we believe. He has recently passed through an eventful epoch in his life, and upon a recent visit to our office he was in a reminescent mood. Mr. Trew stated that his ancesters came to Kent in 1668. The commodious brick mansion in which Mr. Trew has lived for these many years was built in 1781, and is, therefore, one of the oldest landmarks in the county. Mr. Trew has in his home a grandfather's clock which was brought to this country in 1668. It is in excellent running order to-day, and several years ago Mr. Trew was offered $250 for it. He can probably get double that amount for it to-day. There are also in his possession sheets made from flax grown on the farm and blankets made of wool grown on the sheep, and spun on the looms in the home. These relics are precious heirlooms, and are in a remarkable state of preservation. There was on exhibition at the Tolchester fair several years ago a beautiful quilt made by a member of Mr. Trew's family, and it is considerably over 100 years old. All these and more of the links that bind the past to the present may be seen at the old homestead, and the family takes commendable pride in its honored and prominent ancestry. The present members of this family are among our most highly esteemed and substantial families. They are mostly agriculturalits, and all have earned a competency from patient attention to duty and the strictest honesty and integrity. Kent county, especially Quaker and Broad Necks, has been made garden spots socially, physically and morally, largely through the influence and prestige of such families as the Trew family.

THERE is a deepseated conviction among Republicans of prominence throughout the state that President Taft, if nominated, cannot be elected. Judge Morter, of Western Maryland, is egainst Taft's renomination, and Frank E. Williams, editor of the Cecil Whig lets it be known that the Baltimore American is not the mouthpiece of the true Republicans in the state, in a ringing enitorial in a recent issue. Go it boys, the skating is fine.

Our Merchants.

In pursuance of our plan to boost the interests of our town and county merchants during the weeks of 1912, we make the subject of our sketch this morning Mr. Arlington L. Sparks. Mr. Sparks is the proprietor of one of our largest and best equipped dry goods, notion and miNinery stores. He came to Chestertown when quite a young man and entered the employ of Mr. Wm. R. Aldridge as a clerk. He subsequently accepted a clerkship with Mr. Ralph Bergen, with whom he remained until 1903, when Mr. Bergen disposed of his large business to Mr. Sparks and Mr. Harry F. Jefferson, with whom he formed a partnership, conducting the business under the firm name of Sparks & Jefferson. In 1905 this partnership was dissolved, Mr. Sparks purchasing Mr. Jefferson's interest in the business, as well as the store-room and valuable corner property. This purchase involved an outlay of some $20,000, but with his characteristic energy and good business methods Mr. Sparks waded in, and from that hour to the present he has conducted a successful business and enjoys the confidence of the entire community. Mr. Sparks' store is splendidly located in the heart of the town, is stocked with a large and varied assortment of excellent quality goods, and his saleslades are courteous, obliging and prompt in their attention to business. The TRANSCRIPT extends congratulations to Mr. Sparks, and wishes him coutinued success and prosperity in the future.

Getting the Price.—It looks like the farmers and packers are going to get together on a price for tomatoes this season, and it is believed that $10 per ton will be the ruling price. Mr. Oliver, of Harford county, who conducts the Still Pond cannery, is contracting with farmers of Still Pond and Kennedyville for $10 and the operator of Black's cannery is doing likewise. The farmers in the vicinity of Worton and Fairlee are in correspondence with Mr. Langrell, with whom they have heretofore contracted, and it is believed that he will also pay $10. Mr. Geo. W. Evans, who operates Millington and Crumpton canneries, will also pay $10. In the event that he will not, we understand that a cannery will be erected at Buck Neck or Fairlee and run independently by a number of Worton farmers. Keep the ball rolling. Don't stop until you all get together and get your price. Mr. Chas. W. Kibler, agent for Mr. Baldwin, is also contracting for $10.

Debate.—At the regular meeting of the Mt. Vernon Society last Saturday evening the following question was debated: "Resolved, That the Panama Canal should not be forfeited." Messrs. Crouch and Baldwin debated the affirmative side of the question, Messrs. Landing and Garrett debated the negative side. The judges decided unanimously in favor of the negative.

CHURCH WORK.

Preaching services will be held Sunday in the Presbyterian Churches as follows: Westminster at 10.30 A. M.; Grace at 3 P. M.; Worton at 7.30 P. M. Sunday school every Sunday morning at Worton at 10.30 A. M.

Rev. Dr. George Edward Reed, former president of Dickinson College, who has been acting minister of Grace M. E. Church, Wilmington, has accepted a call to become the regular pastor. Since filling the pulpit at Grace Church, Dr. Reed has met with a large measure of success. His popularity extends throughout the city. Since going to Wilmington he has been before the public on numerous occasions and he has always made an impression. Dr. Reed has had an interesting career. After an early life of more than ordinary interest he was graduated from Wesleyan University in 1869. After one year in the School of Theology at Boston University, he started on his active ministry. He has been pastor of some of the largest and most influential churches in the east. He served for more than 22 years as president of Dickinson College, retiring amid universal regret in July, 1911. He accepted the invitation to supply the pulpit in Grace Church during September last, and intended at first to remain only until March, but has been persuaded to become regular pastor.

Christ M. P. Sunday school, at its regular monthly missionary day last Sunday collected $37 as the monthly collection without any effort. Mr. J. D. Bacchus' class won the banner with a contribution of $10.61. Mr. W. W. Hubbard's class was second with a contribution of more than $8. Mr. Hubbard took dinner with Mr. Bacchus on Sunday, and as Sunday school time rolled around Mr. Hubbard said, "Come on now, Jeff, let's go to Sunday school. My class is going to get the missionary banner, and the attendance banner, too, to-day." Mr. Bacchus went along and said not a word. When the result was known Mr. Bacchus' class of boys had not only won the missionary banner but the attendance banner. You'll have to get Mr. Hubbard to tell you the sequel to this story.

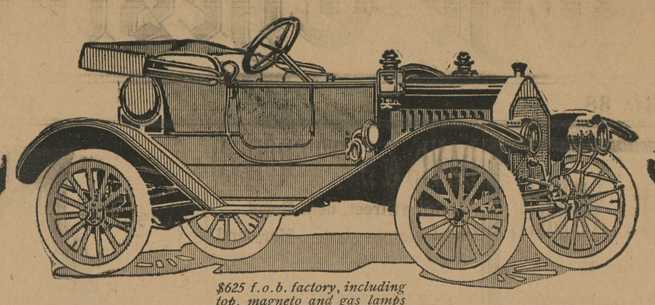

Services at I. U. with Holy Communion at 10.30 on Sunday morning, and at Betterton at 3 P. M.

The fourth anniversary of the new Methodist Protestant Church of St. Michaels. Rev. G. Q. Bacchus, pastor, was held recently and the church, built at a cost of $10,000, was entirely cleared of debt. Dr. Walter R. Graham, of Salisbury, preached at both morning and evening services. It is said that no other church on the Eastern Shore has accomplished as much in the last four years as this, considering that its membership, including children, is less than 100. The entire $10,000 was paid in addition to the regular expenses, and the endowment fund of the church was not touched.

The Sunday school class taught by Miss Bessie Wheatley in Christ M. P. Sunday school will give a "bake" in the Eliason building on High street next Saturday afternoon, February 24th. Go and get your Sunday pie, or cake. Mrs. F. H. Russell's class of the M. E. Sunday School, gives one this afternoon. Go and do likewise.

Chestertown M. E. Church, Rev. L. E. Barrett, D. D., pastor. Services Sunday, Feb. 18th, as follows: 10.30 A. M., preaching by the pastor, subject, "The Growing Man;" 2.15 P. M., Sabbath school and Pastor's Bible Class, 7 P. M., Epworth League Song Service, followed by brief sermon by the pastor. All invited. Come early and get a good seat.

A solo and mixed quartette composed of Mr. Jno. E. Barnes, 1st tenor, Mr. Carl N. Bordley, 2d tenor, Miss Fannie Stuart, alto and Mr. Walter T. Bennett, bass, was a feature at the session of the Chestertown M. E. Sabbath school last Sunday afternoon. This school every Sunday has special music of this kind which is enjoyed by all.
