THE HUB'S BIG DOUBLE STORES, MILLINGTON, MD.

SPECIAL ANNOUCEMENT

On account of the extremely cold weather, some of my patrons were not able to attend the great ANNIVERSARY SALE. and in order to give every one of my friends an opportunity to participate in the great MONEY SAVING event, we will extend this sale until the end of this month.

NOTICE!

Some people are apt to form a conclusion that because the prices in this adv. are so low that we'll be unable to furnish the goods at the advertised prices. The FACTS are that we never advertise an article unless we have it in stock. It may have happened to you to attend a sale even on the first day and ask for a certain article as advertised and the clerk would tell you sold out. If we advertise it, we have it.

This Sale Will be Continued Until the End of This Month.

Dollars saved are dollars earned. The purchasing power of your dollar is what you make it. If we show you how you can get $2.00 actual value for only one, it's your own fault if you don't take advantage of it. Are you contented to pay regular price for your clothes, when you can come here and make your dollars go twice as far.

"DARING OF A MADMAN," SAYS JUDGE OF ROOSEVELT.

Howard Declares the Colonel is Determined Not to be Eclipsed by Fame of Caesar or Napoleon.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 28.—Colonel Roosevelt is bitterly criticised in a statement issued last night by Supreme Court Justice W. O. Howard, of Troy, who, though a Republican, refers to the Colonel as possessed of the "daring of a madman" and "the instinct of a beast."

"Roosevelt's platform is plain," says the statement. "The principles which he enunciates if applicable to the State courts, is, of course, applicable to the United States courts. And followed to a conclusion his platform reads: 'Let all things be decided first by the State courts, then by the United States Supreme Court, then by the mob.'

"No other public character in the nation would have dared to proclaim this alarming, this revolutionary doctrine. Bryan, who perhaps believed in it; Wilson, who could easily believe in it—neither of these promulgators possesses half enough courage to espouse it.

"But Roosevelt is a genius and he has the daring of a madman; the instinct of a beast. He reads the trend of the times by intuition. The temper of the populace he knows better than any other man alive. He it actuated by the appauling ambition.

"It is his fixed purpose that neither the fame of Caesar now the renown of Napoleon shall eclipse him. History shall write of him, so he has resolved, as it wrote of them.

"He ignores all obstacles; enemies, scruples, principles, promises, friends, criticism, commendation, pledges, the danger of disgrace. He is a stranger to cowardice. In battle he is ruthless. Opposition whets his ferocity. The hardest blows only make him grin. He is cunning like an Indian; wise like a wizard; tenacious like a bulldog; magnetic, versatile, tireless, fearless, restless, relentless.

"And this is the man that Taft, gentle, honest, safe, good-natured, must reckon with—Taft and the American people."

Celebrate Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Davis, of Flatlands, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding at their home on Monday. The Sunday Sun contained excellent portraits of Mr. and Mrs. Davis, and this is what it said about the popular couple:

"Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Davis will celebrate to-morrow at their home, near Chestertown, Md., the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. Mr. Davis is a native of Indiana, but has resided in Maryland since his marriage. Mrs. Davis was born in Cecil county. Both are enjoying excellent health, and only last summer were the life of a gay family reunion held at their home.

"There are 10 children, all of whom are living. Four reside in Baltimore—Mrs. E. H. Jewell, Mrs. John R. Parsons, Mrs. John W. Lentz and Mrs. Blanche Clayton. Mrs. Walter Fowler, another daughter, lives near Washington; Mrs. Eugenia Robinson, another, lives at Still Pond, Md. One son, Mr. John Davis, is a resident of Philadelphia. Another son and daughter, Mr. Joshua Davis and Mrs. Jennie Passwaters, are at the old home place with their parents.

"Mr. and Mrs. Davis have also 17 grandchildren and one great-grandchild."

The above omitted Mr. Thomas J. Davis, a son, who for 25 years lived in Flatlands, but now tenants the Riverside farm.

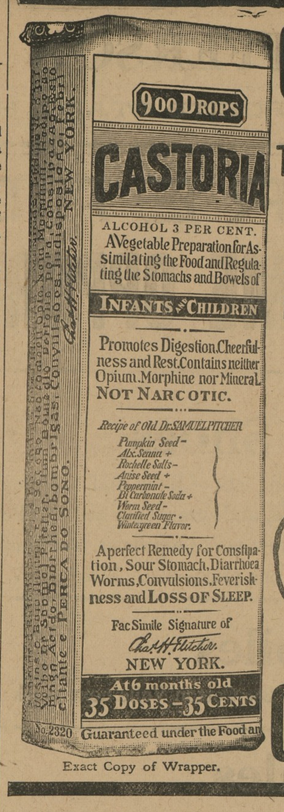

Almost A Tragedy.

This dangerous railroad crossing on Main street, Middletown, was once more almost the scene of a fatal accident on Thursday afternoon of this week. About midnight on the previous evening the Eastern railroad safety gate was blown down, and utterly demolished during the strong gale of wind that swept over this section at that time. This left the Eastern approach to the railroad without any warning gate. Mr. Richard Lockwood, a farmer living near Georgetown, Md., was returning from his uncle's funeral, driving a pair of horses and not observing the usual gate but mistaking the watchman's waving of his white flag for an invitation to come on, started to drive over the track just as the 4.45 north bound passanger train was approaching.

The engineer seeing the man's imminent peril set the emergency brakes, lessened the train's speed and brought the train to a prompt stand still. Mr. Lockwood realizing his danger quickly veering his horses to the right, drove them onto the concrete platform and escaped as by a miracle without any damage to horses or carriage. His escape was just the fraction of a second gained for him by the engineer's quick lessening of the train's headway, for as it was, his horses' noses were struck by the engine in passing.

This makes the fourth bloody casualty that has been averted by but a hairsbreadth at this point within the last six or eight months and most conclusively demonstrates the absolute necessity for gates there. The railroad company nevertheless insists that gates are needless!—Last Saturday's Middletown Transcript.
