WHOSE money is paying for the expert accountant?

HAVE NOT things come to a pretty pass when a Republican has to meddle in Democratic politics?

THE road engineer did not even save the 83 cents. He spent the whole business—$21,231.83.

THE primaries will be held throughout the State on Monday, September 8th. The registration sitting for new voters and transfers will be held on Wednesday, September 3.

WHAT is the use of saying anything more about politics in the schools, when Mr. John D. Urie, one of the School Commissioners, himself admitted to a gentleman in Chestertown last Friday that he is playing politics with the schools?

THE trial of Contractor T. Jackson Willis against the Board of County Commissioners of Cecil county for building abutments and filling in a bridge, and which consumed four days and two nights here, was the most glaring illustration of incompetent road management, that we could have had in this campaign. It simply showed to the tax-payers of this county how really expensive and extravagant incompetent road management is, and yet we presume there are still a few people left in Kent who think that the County Commissioners should have given more money to waste on the roads after Kent's road engineer had spent $25,000 n stead $18,000 as his law allowed.

MR. JOHN D. URIE is the head, neck and shoulders of the Organization faction in Kent county. A lady very aptly expressed this fact one day this week while discussing Mr. Urie's interference in Democratic politics. She said that when the old Organization leaders were living they had all the political sense and acuteness that was necessary to lead their faction, but since their death there is no one man or combination of men who have political shrewdness enough to run the faction, and regardless of the principle involved in a Republican interfering in Democratic politics, the Organization faction has been compelled to get Mr. Urie to help them fool the tax-payers. When the ladies see what is being done, why should the voters be so blind?

MR. TAX-PAYER, the great thorn in your flesh is the Road Engineer. He spent $25,000 on the roads in this county in 1911-12, and we are satisfied that he has spent between $25,000 and $30,000 the past year, when the law allowed him $21,236. The Road Engineer is being kept in office by William W. Beck, the Organization Democratic leader, and by John D. Urie, the Organization Republican leader, and if you will take the trouble to read the Road Engineer's report in this paper, you will find that three-fourths of those who did work on the roads and furnished supplies, etc., are Organization Democrats and Urie Republicans, and that is the reason the Road Engineer is kept there. He is being used by Beck and Urie to further their political interests, and Mr. Beck is reported to have made the statement sometime ago that so long as the people allow those who control the Road Engineer to play politics with the roads, they will play politics with them. If Mr. Beck made this statement, which is an acknowledgement that the roads are being used for political purposes, and a single tax-payer in this county votes the Organization ticket in the primaries, you vote to allow Mr. Beck and Mr. Urie to play politics with the roads, which is the greatest leak in the county finances. The roads in this county are in worse condition than they have ever been, and the Organization and their leaders, Beck and Urie, are responsible for it. Let any one in this county vote for Howard Turner in this primaries, and you will see what Urie will do with the county finances.

LET IT BE COMPLETE.

It is to be hoped that there will be an exhaustive investigation of the county finances by the expert accountant, who is employed by some one unknown to the people, but presumably in the interest of the Organization. Let us have an investigation of the Road Engineer's accounts, showing how much money was spent over the annual appropriation, during the past two years, of the School Board books to see just how they stand, as well as of the books in the commissioners' office. The auditing committee began its work of auditing the county finances about two weeks ago, but they stopped because some of the accounts were not in shape, we understand. Let us have a thorough investigation.

OUTSIDE INTERFERENCE

Concerning Which Some Statements of Facts Are Made to Which the State's Attorney Should Give Serious Consideration.

When Hon. William L. Marbury announced his candidacy for the long term in the United States Senate to succeed Senator John Walter Smith, and it became noised abroad that Mr. Marbury's candidacy is acceptable to President Wilson, a great hue and cry went up all over the State from Organization politicians and lesser lights, that the people of Maryland were capable of making their own selection of a Senator, and the imputed interference of President Wilson was very bitterly criticized, his critics going so far as to style the President's interest in Maryland politics as "Outside Interference." One of the Organization lesser lights in Chestertown got so wrought up over the matter that he publicly declared that the President's administration will be a signal failure, because he contemplates appointing a successor to Postmaster M. W. Thomas in Chestertown when the latter's term expires. We have a condition in Kent county politics, which, though analogous to the Organization's interpretation of President Wilson's interest in Maryland politics, is in no sense founded upon the basic principle of right and justice. We refer to the active and open participation of Mr. John D. Urie, a Republican, and the recognized leader of a certain element of the Republican party, in the present Democratic campaign, using his influence to further the interests of the Organization ticket, and, we believe, of himself as well. Upon what grounds of justice and right has the Organization faction accepted the assistance of Mr. Urie, and why should he, unless he expects to reap some reward, be so actively engaged in getting this one and the other one to vote the Organization ticket in the primaries? He has no moral right to participate in the Democratic struggle, and yet we are in possession of two facts that bind him absolutely to the Organization in this contest. Mr. Urie's anxiety to assist the Organization faction, and the apparent great willingness of the latter to accept that assistance without a murmur, has got Mr. Urie into a most unenviable position, and proves beyond a question of doubt that he is using his office of School Commissioner to further the interests of a Democratic candidate for office. The following conversation took place one day last week between Mr. Urie, one of the School Commissioners, and a well-known, prominent and thoroughly reliable gentleman of this town, who volunteered this startling information. Meeting Mr. Urie on the street, Mr. Urie said:

——, I see your son has taken the examination for a scholarship at St. John's College."

The gentleman replied: "I did not know anything about it until it was over."

"Well," said Mr. Urie, "I like the appearance of your son, and I think he would make a very creditable representative from this county in St. John's College, and I am favorable to his appointment. I know he did not get as good an average as some of the others who took the competitive examination, but I have been talking to Smyth about your son, and Mr. Smyth says he believes he would make the best all-round representative. HOW DO YOU STAND ON AHERN? WHY DON'T YOU WRITE TO AHERN?"

"Well," said the gentleman, "I know Mr. Ahern, and speak to him when I see him. BUT I DIDN'T KNOW THAT POLITICS WAS MIXED UP IN THIS THING. I thought the one who made the highest average got the place."

"Oh, well," said Mr. Urie, "you know it is like everything else, there has to be a little politics in everything," and here the gentleman left, and has not written to Mr. Ahern yet.

We withhold the name of the gentleman who was approached by Mr. Urie, but we are prepared to furnish the State's Attorney with the name if he deems it his duty to investigate the matter. Here is the most glaring illustration of the use of a public office by the holder thereof for political purposes, as well as a most forceful attempt to secure the vote of a gentleman for a political candidate, through the offer of support for a college scholarship for his son. Had Mr. Urie been anxious that the gentleman's son should receive the appointment without seeking to influence the gentleman's vote for Mr. Ahern, who is not only a member of the School Board, but a candidate for County Treasurer on the Organization Democrats' ticket, he could very readily have secured the appointment through the assistance of Mr. John N. Bennett, who is politically friendly with Mr. Urie. Instead of that he asked the gentleman how he stood on Ahern, the inference, of course, being whether the gentleman would vote for Mr. Ahern.

As a second illustration of Mr. Urie's outside interference we state it to be a fact that Mr. Urie wrote a letter to a gentleman near Still Pond by the name of Mr. George Smith, and asked him to come to see him on important business. Mr. Smith did so, and he found that the important business which Mr. Urie had with him was to make this statemnet to Mr. Smith:

"Now look here, old fellow, I have sent for you so that I could talk with you. I am very much interested in Howard Turner and Bob Shallcross, and I certainly would be glad if you would vote for Turner and Shallcross for the Legislature. Old man Bun Taylor is a nice old fellow, but I shall certainly appreciate it if you will vote for Turner and Shallcross."

In speaking of it to a relative afterwards Mr. Smith said: "What do you think that fellow wanted me to do?" "Don't know," said his uncle. "Why, he wanted me to go to the primaries and vote for Turner and Shallcross." "Well," said his uncle, "if you do that you vote against my interests, as well as the interests of every other tax-payer in this county." "You needn't worry," said Mr. Smith.

Why should Mr. Urie be concerned in Democratic politics, unless he expects to profit by his interference? Why should he, a recognized Republican, subject himself to a charge of openly violating the Corrupt Practices Act, and be placed in the position in the community of using his office as a School Commissioner for political purposes, unless he expected to profit to a large degree, and why should the Organization Democrats, who have pretendingly unfurled the banner of ECONOMY, TEMPERANCE and FITNESS be willing to accept such a service and have the stigma of having their candidates nominated for office by the assistance of those who have absolutely no interest in the Democratic party or the tax-payers generally, except a purely selfish one? Is it not time for the State's Attorney of this county to be investigating such political conditions as these, and is it not high time that the substantial element, both in the Democratic and Republican parties, protest against such political methods as these to thwart the will of the people?

EFFECT OF ONE MAN POWER

Appropos the long editorial in the Urie organ last Saturday on "One Man Power," we have asked permission to publish the following letter which Mr. Barroll received on Monday, just two days after said editorial appeared in the Urie organ, from one of the county's most representative citizens. It is as follows:

Still Pond, Md., July 14, 1913.

HOPE H. BARROLL, ESQ.,
My Dear Mr. Barroll:

Keep the tax rate question before the people. YOUR COURSE HAS SAVED THE TAX-PAYERS THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS. With best wishes,

Yours sincerely,

What a stinging rebuke to the pitiful cry of "One Man Power."

THE GREAT DIFFERENCE.

The TRANSCRIPT has not a word of criticism to offer against the personal character of a single candidate on the Organization ticket. In politics, it is not so much what a man is personally, but the great point at issue is for what policy and principle does a man stand when he is a candidate for public office. He may be a splendid gentleman personally, but if he advocates a wrong principle, if he is identified with a party or faction whose policy has been proven by experience to be one of extravagance and wastefulness, we don't care how good a man he may be personally, he is a dangerous man to elect to public office, because he would be prevented by the political influences he represents from doing what he personally would like to do. Every candidate on the Organization ticket is identified with reactionary policies. They are the representatives of a faction that has been proven to be unworthy of holding public office, because they have burdened the people with excessive taxes, and have been exceedingly extravagant in the conduct of the people's business. The policies and principles of the Organization faction are against the PEOPLE; they are not in harmony with the people's interests, and we do not care how good their candidates may be personally, it would be a great mistake politically to nominate any of them for public office because of the principles and policies for which they stand. On the other hand the Anti-Organization candidates are not only good men personally—every one of them is a high toned and upright citizen—but they stand for Progress and Economy, they are Woodrow Wilson Democrats, and every one of them stands for the same policies and principles of government for which our great President stands. The Anti-Organization candidates are administration Democrats, while the Organization candidates are John Walter Smith or Reactionary Democrats. If you believe in assisting President Wilson's administration, you can't help voting the entire Wilson Democratic ticket in the primaries, and that is the Anti-Organization ticket.
