LOCAL MATTERS

A Favor.—The firm of H. F. Jefferson & Bro., have very generously allowed us the use of their three column space this week on account of a rush of new advertisements and important reading matter which could not be omitted. This is not only one of the best business firms in the county, doing a splendid business because of a steady full of splendid goods, but they are cooperative in their relations and they never hesitate to do the TRANSCRIPT a favor when it is asked. We delight to assist such advertisers as H. F. Jefferson & Bro.

SOCIAL WORLD.

 Mr. and Mrs. Harland W. Huston, of Seaford, Del., are visiting in Newber, Mrs. Lillian Strong, on Queen street, Mrs. Rudolph Stam, of Baltimore, is the guest of Mrs. Annie H. Stam, on Princess street.

Mr. James H. Bfice has moved his furniture and household goods to Chestertown and will occupy the residence on Washington avenue, now occupied by Mr. Charles Baxter and family. Mr. Baxter, we understand, will remove to Queen Annes near Chester bridge, on the property adjoining the property of Mr. James T. Anthony.

Mr. John Jester, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jester, who had been in Baltimore more hospital for special treatment to one of his hands, returned home on Tuesday and is getting along very nicely. Mr. Jester underwent several operations while at the hospital. He will return to the hospital in about two weeks for an examination by Dr. Chambers. Meanwhile Dr. Frank B. Hines will give medical attention.

Miss Daisy Williams and Dr. Wille, of Baltimore, were guests last week of Miss Bessie Brice, Chestertown.

Mr. J. B. McIntire is visiting relatives and friends in Baltimore.
 Mrs. John Lindsey and children, of Media, Pa., returned home Friday from a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bacon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Masten and little daughter, of Harrington, Del., are guests of her mother on High street.
 Mrs. Rumsey Anthony and little daughter, are spending a few days with Mrs. Anthony's parents in Delaware.

Misses Fannie and Elizabeth Stealing spent the week-end with friends in Baltimore.
 Mr. Max Cohen, proprietor of the Globe Clothing Co., was operated on in Philadelphia last week for stomach trouble. At this writing he is improving steadily and hopes to be back next week.

Miss Miriam Hubbard, who left for Pontiac, Michigan, several weeks ago, where she was the guest of Miss Verina Palmer, classmate of Miss Hubbard at the National Cathedral School, Washington, has since been the guest of Miss Vera Long, daughter of United States Senator Long, at Wichita, Kan. Miss Hubbard is now a member of a party motoring through 101 Ranch, Oklahoma, and will return the latter part of the month to her home in Chestertown.

Miss Sue Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, of near town, is confined to the Municipal Hospital, Philadelphia, suffering with scarlet fever. Miss Miller first complained of feeling ill last Thursday. Her case was diagnosed as scarlet fever and she was removed to the Municipal Hospital Friday. Her recovery is expected.

Mr. Daniel Cox accompanied his daughter, Mrs. Charles Meredith and children back to her home in Baltimore, Friday. Mr. Cox will stay but a few days. Mrs. Meredith has been suffering with temporary loss of sight and other troubles.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Mr. Frank H. Howard is painting the home of Mr. John C. Davis on High street in attractive colors.
 The Chestertown D. of A. were entertained at an anniversary supper by the Rock Hall D. of A. on Thursday night.
 Dr. J. E. Graham chloroformed Mr. Harry R. Graham's big wagon accident on account of an incurable ailment.

The fine Indian Summer weather of the week has enabled the farmers to finish their fall work preparatory to the winter.
 There is a rumor that the State Road Commission will replace the present Chester bridge with a fine concrete bridge in the near future.

The following are having new phones installed in their homes: N. B. Ashly, Rock Hall; Edgar Culler, Gratitude; Wilbert Kendall and Albert Lewis, near Fairies.

Wild ducks have been plentiful in Chester river during the week, and gunners have had good luck. A party killed a large number off Skipper's Point on Monday morning.

The 115-acre Maxwell farm, near Warwick, has been bought by Mr. George Satterfield, the well-known horse trainer and breeder, of St. George's, Del., for $5500.

Soligano, Maryland weather prophet, predicts a severe cold spell and snow storm between November 22 and 27. Doesn't it make you shiver in this beautiful Indian Summer weather to think of such a thing?

Messrs. Stavelly & Bowers, the hustling Lynch contractors and builders, are erecting commodious outbuildings on the Raymond Bonwell farm near Locust Grove, to replace those recently destroyed by fire.

Mr. Herbert Skipper is improving his property in Queen Anne County, near the bridge, by putting in concrete posts instead of the old wooden ones. This is quite a novelty in this section, being the only one we have seen.

Mr. J. D. Bacchus had a bad fall at his office on Wednesday evening. A bruised nose is a severe shaking-up. Mr. Bacchus was standing on a bundle of papers reaching for something in his office, when the bundle slipped from under him, causing him to fall.

Dr. Frank Smith's automobile turned turtle on the bay shore road last Saturday afternoon. The doctor was not injured, though the car was badly damaged. The going was mighty slippery for autos on Saturday on account of the rain, but fortunately there were no other accidents.

Former Sheriff, Wm. C. Money, of Townsend, had a narrow escape from being killed on Monday evening. He was assisting a fallen horse out of a ditch, when the animal kicked Mr. Money over his right eye. He was rendered unconscious for a time.

Mr. Benjamin Rust, section foreman on the local railroad, has had a bad right hand as a result of striking it against something and knocking off the skin. A bad nail set in upon that, causing him much pain. Bad and painful though it was, it did not prevent Captain Ben Rust from going on duty and killing eight rabbits out of nine shots.

Reports from the large cities state that the supply of cold storage eggs is much shorter this year than last and that the price will continue to rise until the spring months. It should be remembered that eggs are no higher in price at this time than they were last Friday at the same time. They were retailing at 40 cents a dozen in November 1912 just as at present.

There is much complaint by the residents of the town and the traveling public of the lighting of the Pennsylvania depot at night. One would scarcely believe that a progressive and splendid system like the Pennsylvania Railroad company would tolerate the retention of the antiquated coal oil lamp to "light the way" for its many passengers, when gas or electric lights would be more progressive and less expensive.

Do not forget to go to church on Thanksgiving morning and give thanks for the many comforts and blessings you have enjoyed during the past year. If you are going to have turkey and cranberry sauce for dinner, thank the Lord that you were able to buy it or that you had a friend who thought enough of you to give you one. There are many who will have neither turkey nor cranberry sauce, but they will be just as happy because they may have a piece of good country ham and that will be just as satisfactory as a piece of juicy turkey. Blessed is the man, who makes the best of his circumstances.

We took an automobile ride to the beautiful little town of Still Pond one day this week with a friend. We saw the beautiful homes of Messrs. William Medders, Eugene Bonwell, Jacob Crowding, George Harper, Dr. Maxwell, Mrs. Mary J. Howard, A. J. Hackett, Mrs. Lavinia Harper, Jack Schofield, and Mrs. John B. Probst, which is being very prettily painted, and others. We also noted the improved streets, etc. We reached the conclusion that Still Pond is one of the prettiest towns on the Eastern Shore, and its people are among the best in the world.

OUR DEATH RECORD.

MRS. EMILY KENT ROBERTSON.
 Mrs. Emily Kent Robertson, wife of Mr. William H. Robertson, died at the home of her husband, on Princess street, shortly after noon Saturday, from a stroke of paralysis.

Some time ago Mrs. Robertson suffered a slight paralytic stroke, and, while she never entirely recovered, yet she was able to be about and attend her household duties.

Mrs. Robertson attended prayer services at Christ Church on Thursday evening before the day of her death, and her many friends remarked that she was looking remarkably well. Shortly after dinner on Saturday, Mr. Robertson left the house to get something for his wife, and when he returned he found her in a critical condition. Dr. H. B. Simmons was hastily summoned but Mrs. Robertson died shortly after the physician reached the house. We express the sentiment of the entire community when we say that Mrs. Robertson was one of the best women in the town. She was a most thoughtful neighbor, a devoted wife, and a Christian, who practiced in her daily life the principles of the religion which she professed and enjoyed. Her devotion to her husband and home was none the less beautiful than her loyalty to her church and to her friends, and being of a loving and sympathetic nature, she was ever alert to the appeals of the needy, or the calls of charity. One of the most beautiful traits of Mrs. Robertson's character, and a virtue so rare in our community, has sustained a serious loss by the death of this most estimable woman. Besides her devoted husband, who has the sympathy of the entire community in his grief affliction, the deceased leaves one daughter, Mrs. Annie T. Plummer, three brothers, Messrs. Samuel Davis, of New

MISS HALLIE COMEGYS IRELAND.

Miss Hallie Comegys Ireland, daughter of the late Mrs. Mary R. Ireland, died at her home on East Water street, Wednesday night, after a lingering illness of tuberculosis, aged 40 years. Miss Ireland was possessed of a sweet and loving nature, always seeing the good in others and ever ready to administer to the comforts and pleasures of those around her. Two brothers, Wm. P., of Philadelphia, and J. Herman, of Baltimore, and two sisters, Mrs. John Comegys and Miss May Ireland survive her. Funeral services were held at Shrewsbury Church yesterday, at 2 p.m., conducted by Rev. H. B. Martin, of Emmanuel P. E. Church, with interment in Shrewsbury cemetery. The bearers were: Samuel Emory, Paul and Spencer Comegys, Jessie Ireland, Edmund Hurrst and John Nivins. J. E. Ferguson, undertaker.

MR. FREDUS PRICE.
 Mr. Fredus Price, formerly of Cecil county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. G. C. Wroth, in Philadelphia, on Thursday morning, aged 65 years. Remains will be brought to Kent on Monday morning train and interment will take place in Still Pond cemetery, at 11.30. Rev. F. X. Moore officiating. Wm. H. Krusen, undertaker in charge.
