MAUFACTURERS, JOBBERS & MILLS ARE

GLUTTED

WITH VAST STOCKS AND ARE SEEKING RELIEF AT THE MOST ASTONISHING PRICES ever known in clothing history. Owing to the unsettled conditions in the south (the cotton country), due to the war in Europe, three prominent clothing manufacturers—The Crown Clothing Co., The Royal Clothing Co., and The Clifton Cloak and Suit Co., all of Baltimore, Md.—have sold to us their high-grade clothing for men and women at 40c to 50c on the dollar, which we will offer to you, including our GRAND CLOTHING STOCK at corresponding prices, at our GREAT

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE

Which Starts January 2nd, and will last for 20 days only.

To those that aren't acquainted with the commercial world, can't understand the great importance in clothing manufacture. Clothes makers make winter clothing in summer time and summer clothing in winter time, and before one season is started the former season's stock MUST BE disposed of. That gives them cash capital for their next season's business. But this year they were GLUTTED with vast stocks returned and canceled from their customers in the SOUTH, and it gave us a chance to buy their best stocks at way down prices.

TO THE MANY inquiries we've had this season—How early were we going to start our January Sale, we are pleased to inform our friends and patrons that this Great Sale is NOW ON, and those that have waited for this great money-saving event will be greatly rewarded, as our reductions will average near ONE-HALF on all

FARMS SET NEW RECORD

Products in 1914 Had Total Value of $9,872,936,000.

Washington, Jan. 1.—American farms during 1914 eclipsed all records for combined value of their products with a total of almost $10,000,000,000.

A statement by Secretary Houston, of the Department of Agriculture, shows that the value of all farm crops, farm animal products and farm animals sold and slaughtered aggregated $9,872,936,000. That was $83,000,000 more than the grand total for 1913, the previous record year, and more than double the value of all farm products in 1899.

Crops this year were valued at $6,044 480,000 and the estimated total value of the animal products and of the farm animals sold and slaughtered was $3,828,456,000. The value of crop production this year was slightly less than in 1913 on account of the reduced value of the cotton crop brought about principally from the European war.

The corn and wheat crops, however, were the most valuable ever produced in the United States, bringing the year's crop value total to only $88,279,000 less than the total for last year, despite the loss of more than $300,000,000 in the value of the cotton crop.

PRICES GENERALLY HIGHER.

"The estimated value of the animal products on the farm in 1914," said the Agricultural Outlook to-day, "is distinctly higher than in 1913, which was itself a record year in the value of this class of products. This is due to general but slight increases in production, except for sheep and swine, and in prices, more especially to a small increase in the average farm price of eggs and to a more considerable increase in the farm price of cattle and calves sold and slaughtered

"It must be borne in mind that the amounts of these estimates do not stand for net wealth produced, nor for cash received, nor for profit, nor for income in any sense. Each product is valued, as in the census, when it reached commercial form and the grand aggregate of all items is to be regarded as an index number, or from a relative rather than from an absolute point of view."

There is sales of crops last year were estimated at $2,928,000,000; sales of live stock, $2,919,000,000; a total of $5,847,000,000. The estimated value of total sales per farm was $892 and sales per captia of rural population (excluding towns), $139.

The value of the principal farm crops this year was:

Corn, $1,702,599,000; wheat, $878,680,000; hay, $789,068,000; cotton, $519,616,000; oats, $499,431,000; potatoes, $198,609,000; barley, $105,903,000; tobacco, $101,411,000; sweet potatoes, $41,294,000; rye, $37,018,000; sugar beets, $27,950,000; rice, $21,849,000; flaxseed, $19,540,000, and buckwheat, $12,892,000.

YEAR OF BUMPER CROPS.

In the production of the above 14 principal crops this year's aggregate was about 10 per cent. larger than in 1913 and 6 per cent. smaller than in 1912, which year stands as one of the greatest in aggregate production in the United States. This year two important crops exceeded previous records—wheat, with 891,000,000 bushels, following the 1913 record of 763,000,000 bushels, and cotton, with 15,966,000 bales (preliminary estimate), the previous record being 15,693,000 bales in 1911.

The value per acre of all enumerated crops averaged about $16.44 this year, compared with $16.52 in 1913 and $16.15 in 1912.

HER DEATH IS PROBED.

Marks on Head of Mrs. Rio. J. Hudgins Lead Coroner to Investigate.

As a result of an investigation of the death of Mrs. Rio J. Hudgins, a widow, 72 years old, formerly a resident of this town, who was found in her room on the 3rd floor of 1124 East Madison street, Baltimore, last Saturday morning, Coroner E. J. Russell, of the Northeastern district, Saturday night asked Lieutenant Scott, of police headquarters, to assign two detectives to the case.

Detective Lieutenants Thomas J Quirk and John Mintiens worked until an early hour Sunday morning on the theory that the Woman met death by other than natural causes.

For many years Mrs. Hudgins had lived alone. A bankbook found in her room showed a balance of $500 in a savings bank.

It was learned late Saturday night that when the body was examined several wounds were found on the head. One wound indicates that the woman was struck with what seems to have been a claw hammer.

Mrs. Hudgins' body was found by a boy living in the house. Her feet rested in the bathroom and her form was lying across the doorway into her little room. It is said that the woman was thought to have been killed by gas, but Coroner Russell found that one light and a gas stove were burning in the room when the body was found.

The police were notified and the pulmotor of the Consolidated Gas Electric Light and Power Company was called, but the efforts of the operators were useless. Two $5 bank notes were found in the room by the police.

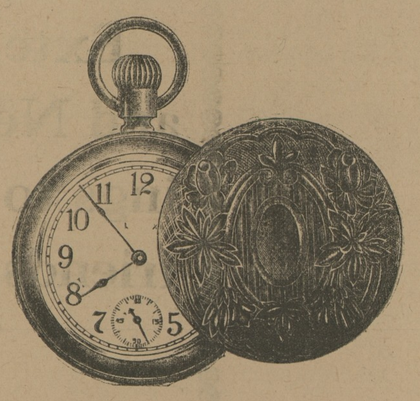

Mrs. Hudgins had been a widow for several years. She had been offered a home with relatives, but she refused. Before the holidays she drew a sum of money from the bank. She had one brother living in Cincinnati.

Detectives Quirk and Mintiens went to the home at midnight, after a consultation with the Coroner Russell, and made an examination.

The deceased and her husband formerly kept a bakery and candy store on Cross street, this town. A later report states that Mrs. Hudgins died of heart trouble.
