IT STILL PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

Buy a horse and race away,
If you like that kind of play;
Strait laced folks of long ago
Railed against it, well we know.
Now they're gone, we don't care where,
It probably doesn't matter there;
You shouldn't care what people say,
People talk, anyway.
No matter if you're good or bad,
No matter if you're gay or sad,
You do your best, or do your worst,
By some you're blest, by some you're cursed.
The man worth mention must
Make up his mind to be discussed;
The man not talked about
Is not worth while—he is a lout.
You never hear of people who
Accomplished naught their whole lives throu
The men who work, the men who strive,
Are talked about, that's why they thrive.
So let them talk, to this get wise,
It always pays to advertise.
Be lean and work, push on ahead;
It doesn't matter what is said
By jealous cats who fail themselves
And are pushed back on the shelves.
Each knock's a boost, and that is true,
They hurt themselves who would hurt you.
No matter what you do or say,
If you succeed and win the day,
The tongues will wag on just the same—
It is a part of life's great game.

Postmaster Thomas Entertains

Postmaster M. W. Thomas gave his postoffice employees and friends a supper at the Voshell House Monday night. Those present besides the host, Mr. Thomas, were: Col. Wm. J. Vannort, Harry R. Graham, R. Frank Elburn, Harry F. Jefferson, Alvin Coleman, J. B. Russell, Thos. D. Bo[illegible], R. Sn[illegible]den Thomas, Chas. E. [illegible]oods, Thos. Willis, Fred S. Russell, H. Shimp, James Dunbracco, A. Parks Rasin, William B. Usilton and David B. Kendall. A splendid menu was served by Proprietor George E. Lambert. It consisted of oyster cocktails, oyster patties, roast turkey, cranberry sauce, hominy, ham, potato salad, cold slaw, celery, Maryland biscuits, hot rolls, pickles and jellies, harlequin cream, cake, confections, coffee, cigars and cigarettes. Speeches were made by a number of the guests commending the administration of Postmaster Thomas in the highest terms and also wishing him much success in his new field of labor. The obliging office force, rural carriers and mail clerk were also highly commended for their excellent service, and all were wished a happy and prosperous New Year. In our judgment Postmaster Thomas has made one of the best officials the town has ever had. The occasion was a most enjoyable one.

Will of Wm. M. Clendaniel.—The will of Wm. M. Clendaniel was admitted to probate in the Orphans' Court on Tuesday. The will leaves the entire estate to the widow, Mrs. Laura E. Clendaniel in fee simple, she being named as executrix.
