LOCAL MATTERS

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

We shall be very glad if those of our subscribers who have removed to other places will kindly let us know at once their new postoffice or rural route address in order that they may get their paper regularly every Saturday. We make this request in the interest of the postoffice officials as well as for our own convenience.

BRIEF ITEMS OF INTEREST

Mr. See, the aged father of Mrs. Charles Bailey, at Eearlville, recently fell and fractured his hip.

The heavy rain on Saturday last somewhat damaged the big pipe organ in the M. E. Church.

Mr. Wm. J. Story has rented and removed to Mr. Robert J. McWhorter's farm in Queen Annes, near Millington.

The "Red Light" electical advertisement of the celebrated "Ralston" shoe, Vansant & Newsome's leader in the shoe line, is a winner, and has attracted much attention during the week.

Mr. Samuel Chairs, one of the most prominent truckers of Queen Annes, has rented Mr. Thomas Clements' farm near Chesterville, and has removed there. Welcome to Kent, Cousin Sam.

Miss Mary Clark, of Earleville, was recently seriously burned when her clothing caught fire from a hot stove. The flames were extinguished by her sister, otherwise the accident might have resulted fatally.

Mr. John Bartley, Chestertown's leader in furniture has a unique advertisement of "Valdspar" varnish in the form of a submarine boat, painted with "Val spar," which illustrates its stability, in his window on High street.

The postoffice will be located in the corner room in the Lyceum Theatre sometime in the near future, just when the officials are not able to state. The removal of the office is like the appointment of Mr. Thomas' successor. The appointment will be made, but just when, we are not able to state.

The Rich Neck Farmers' Club, at a meeting held at their office in Chestertown last Friday afternoon, decided to open the stock to Kent County farmers also. The price of the stock is $10 a share and no one will be able to hold more than ten shares. The club has heretofore been composed of only Queen Anne's farmers.

At the annual meeting of the Bertie E. Tull Co., whose boats run from points on the Sassafras River to Baltimore, and from Crumpton to Baltimore, touching on all points along the Chester River, officers were re-elected in Baltimore Jan. 1, as follows: President, A. Parks Rasin; vice president and treasurer, E. M. Sills; B. H. Cosden, manager. The same directorate as in 1913 was re-elected. The company had a prosperous season in 1913.

The storm which swept down the Atlantic coast during Saturday, attended by a gale that at times had a velocity of more than a hundred miles an hour, left a long trail of destruction in its wake. The ocean shore from New England to below the Virginia capes was ravaged as it had not been for many years.

Mr. James H. Barrow, salesman for the calendar firm of Thomas O. Murphy, was quite painfully injured in a runaway accident on Cross street last week in which the Voshell House and Hotel Imperial hacks participated. The horses drawing the hacks got frightened while at the station, and the Voshell House hack passed over Mr. Barrow's body.

One of the heaviest rain storms in years visited Kent county and Chestertown all day Saturday and the greater part of Sunday. The wind blew a gale on Saturday, and the felt roofing on the double house on Calvert street belonging to Mrs. John N. Dodd, was blown off, the interior being damaged considerably by the rain.

Miss Mayme Thompson, assisted by a number of the young people of the town, will give a fine entertainment either in the Lyceum Theatre or in Firemen's Hall the latter part of this month for the benefit of the Woman's Relief Society. The entertainment will be in the nature of a suffregette convention and minstrel show, and you will get your money's worth in fun.

Edward Hutchins, an honest and respectable colored boy of this town found a gold ornament in the shape of an acorn in front of the law office of Hope H. Barroll, Esq., on Wednesday morning. He took the ornament to Mr. Barroll to ascertain the owner, and failing he brought it to the TRANSCRIPT office to have it advertised. He also took it to Jeweler Harry Rote to ascertain its value. This was a very commendable act on the part of Hutchins, and the more of such acts the members of his race perform the greater will be the respect and confidence of the white people for and in them.

Banquet in Honor of Mr. Howard Turner.

[COMMUNICATED.]

The citizens of Betterton, desiring to express some of their appreciation of his worth and ability, gave a banquet Monday evening in honor of Mr. Howard Turner, a delegate to the Maryland Legislature. The feast, which was served in the famous Chesapeake House style, whs enjoyed by more than a hundred persons. Mr. Reese young, in behalf of the town people, presented Mr. Turner with a gold mounted fountain pen, reminding him that "the pen is mightier than the sword," and that with this little weapon the Betterton people expect him to fight great battles for his county and State.

Mr. Turner very fittinly replied to this speech, thanking his friends and neighbors for their belief in his character and principles, and assuring them that it would be easier to stand for the right in the legislative halls knowing that he had the moral support of his home people. He surveyed some of the questions which will probably claim the attention of the Legislature this winter, and promised in so far as he is able, to make the session as clean, honest and business like as possible.

After Mr. Turner's speech had been roundly applauded, the guests were entertained by exquiste music played by Mrs. Jones, Miss Tull and Mr. C. W. Gooding. Then Capt. Harvey Brice proposed the toast, "Our Friend, Mr. Turner," which all were delighted to drink. Next on the program was the singing of several popular songs by Mrs. John Owens, Miss Marie Brice, Messrs. Charles Brice, Littleton Crew, George Brice, Raymond, Herbert and Ernest Briscoe.

Mr. Harry Willis then spoke about the farming interests and our county schools, of the close relationship existing between them, and of the great desire of the Kent farmers that the Kent schools be better fitted to teach farm boys and girls to be better farmers.

The musicians played another selection and then Mr. J. F. Green talked on the national questions—peace, the tariff and the currency. The guests then departed for home, feeling glad that Mr. Howard Turner is to represent the town of Betterton and Kent county at the Maryland Legislature.

Our Merchants' Interests.

Start the new year right by going to B. S. Sutton, the wise merchant, to do your dealing. He knows how to buy to attract the trade, and he considers the interest of his customers in what he offers for sale. Be wise and see what he offers for Wednesday—His Bargain Day.

Special sale on the celebrated Selz shoes at Brown Brothers' big store for the next ten days. And by the way have you seen the latest in neckwear at Brown Bros.? They are the newest in plaids and checks and they are rich.

Be wise and advertise in—the TRANSCRIPT—the paper with the circulation that counts—because its patrons are the people who have the money to pay as they go.

If you are figuring on building materials for use during the coming spring, you can get a square deal at John P. Ahern's emporium in Millington and remember he also sells coal and Fire Insurance.

Jefferson made them himself. What? The storm doors that afford a warm place for the people to warm themselves while watching events, and also to keep his customers comfortable when he gets them inside his big store. Big reduction sale going on. Step in and keep warm while you buy.

Annie we miss thee from our home dear,
We miss thee from thy place;
A shadow o'er our life is cast,
We miss the sunshine of thy face.

We miss thy kind and willing hand,
Thy fond and honest care,
Our home is dark without thee;
We miss thee everywhere.
