WOMAN'S suffrage was defeated in the House of Representatives on Tuesday by a majority of 30. The advocates of suffrage put up a great fight for their rights, and they are not discouraged by the result of the first effort to secure national suffrage, and will continue their fight.

GOVERNOR GOLDSBOROUGH and the members of the Maryland Commission to the Panama Exposition will leave Baltimore on a special train on March 8 for California, arriving there March 17. The commission will have a finely equipped train, and will take in the San Diego Exposition on the trip out. Wm. W. Beck, a member of the last Senate which created the commission, is a member of the commission.

THE friends of State Comptroller Emerson C. Harrington are quietly pushing his candidacy for Governor. Mr. Harrington is expected to throw his hat in the ring very shortly, and he is practically certain of the support of that faction of the party led by Senator John Walter Smith. So far Congressman J. Charles Linthicum is the only avowed candidate in the field, and he is reported to have the backing of Frank Kelley, a powerful factor in the Baltimore city organization, but in view of the close friendship existing between Kelley and John Walter Smith it is interesting to know where Kelley will land should Senator Smith get behind Harrington.

JUDGE BRASHEARS of the Anne Arundel county court has decided against Messrs. Hammond and Beck in their case to compel Comptroller Harrington to pay their salaries as counsel to the State Tax Commission. The case will now go to the Court of Appeals, and it makes no difference which way it is decided, the tax-payers of the State will be compelled to pay the costs in the case, including the fee of Attorney Isaac Lobe Straus, who has been retained by the State Tax Commission as special counsel to defend Messrs. Beck and Hammond. The State Tax Commission is going to prove one of the most expensive luxuries the people of this State ever had to swallow.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S speech in Indianapolis last Friday was an "eye-opener" to the Republican party, a number of whose leaders have been clamoring for a tariff commission. The President by way of giving out a little news, let the Republicans know that the Trade Commission bill provides the members of the commission with powers such as Republican leaders are advocating for a tariff commission. This was the great issue upon which the Republicans were expecting to go before the country on in the next presidential campaign, and lo, and behold, our shrewd President has taken the wind out of their sails. You can't beat Wilson. He is the greatest President this country has had since the days of Washington.

DON'T MAKE SUCH A BLUNDER.

It is reported that an effort will be made to have the present Legislature of Delaware repeal the Hazel anti-shipping bill and substitute the Maryland gallon-a-month law therefor. If the Legislature of the State of Delaware has any regard for the moral welfare of the people of that State, we beg it not to make such a blunder as that. The Eastern Shore gallon-a-month law is the most iniquitous law ever forced upon the people of this State. It is demoralizing the young men and even young women in many instances as no other influence has done in years. If the Legislature of the State of Delaware wants to open the floodgates of every wholesale and retail liquor house in the country upon the State of Delaware, let them repeal the Hazel law and enact the Eastern Shore gallon-a-month law, and it will set the seal of iniquity and vice upon every town and hamlet in the Diamond State. Don't pronounce such a curse upon Delaware, as the Maryland Legislature put upon the people of the Eastern Shore.

MR. CHARLES L. DODD announces in this issue his candidacy for clerk of the circuit court. There are now two avowed candidates for clerk in the Organization camp. Mr. James T. Dixon, the present incumbent, has declared within the past week that he is a candidate to succeed himself, and proposes to make an active canvass. He has not yet made a public announcement of his candidacy, but his close friends state that he will undoubtedly be a candidate, and that when the proper time comes he will publicly declare his candidacy. Mr. Dixon's friends are also claiming that he will have the support of the Organization when the lineup comes, and they base these claims upon Mr. Dixon's undisputed large political and personal following in the county, and to his shrewd political tactics. Mr. Dixon has played a shrewd game thus far. He has been quietly at work for some months posting his friends and straightening his fences, and he has the Organization leaders all split up over the clerkship. He holds the trump card, so his friends claim, and it will not be long, they say, before Mr. Dixon will show his hand, and when he does, he will show the Organization forces back of him and Mr. Dodd out of the fight. Meanwhile, Mr. Dodd is making an active canvass, but Walter H. Hadaway will be the next clerk of the circuit court.

APPOINTMENTS CONFIRMED.

The Senate confirmed all the Maryland appointments, including the three Kent county postmasters, last Friday. Senators Lee and Smith secured hasty action by the Senate, and all the appointments were unanimously confirmed. President Wilson played a shrewd game of politics in defending his friend, Hope H. Barroll, while at the same time making Senator Smith a much stronger supporter of the president than he had ever been. The one great wish of Senator Smith was to have his friend and political adviser, Samuel K. Dennis, made United States District Attorney. He would have sacrificed everything else in these appointments for the sake of landing Dennis. President Wilson not only gratified that burning desire on the part of Senator Smith but he gave him two other important places. Senator Smith could therefore neither afford to turn down any of the President's appointments, nor can he afford, for the sake of his political failure, to be any other than the staunchest sort of a supporter of the President and his policies. We predicted sometime ago that Senator Smith would get more out of the Maryland appointments than the Kent county reactionaries, who were loud in their denunciation of the President after he made the Kent county postoffice appointments, and there were not a few of them who were saying that Wilson can never be President again, just as if their insignificant efforts were going to keep Wilson out of the Presidency. A county primary is fast approaching, and we imagine that there will be more than one Organization candidate who will seek to ride to victory on the back of President Wilson. But it is time for the people to know that there is not a candidate on the Organization ticket, either announced or talked of, who has any more sympathy for President Wilson and his policies than they have for Hope H. Barroll and his policies. President Wilson and the Kent county reactionaries are as far apart as the poles, and there is absolutely nothing in common between them. If you doubt this just await political developments in the near future. The appointments are all for four years from January 8th, 1915.

Summary of the Year's Work.

DEAR LADY OF THE GARNER:

Now that the glad Christmas season is at hand it seems only meet and proper for us as Grangers to review the past year.

At every week-day meeting we hear the words: "The grange helps to elevate the character and increases the influence of its members," and it seems best for us at this time to pause long enough to consider well if we have made those words of good effect in this year of 1914.

The Grange Garner is to-day presented to you for the seventh time this year. The success of this paper from month to month and year after year shows that mental activity is not at a standstill. This paper of original thoughts and messages is not the product of one person. It is not my paper or your paper, but it is our paper, and it is another medium of education through which it is intended for us to extend our influence.

Early in the beginning of this year the bad roads began to cause our grangers thoughtful consideration, and we discussed the question pro and con. We appointed a committee to confer with the State Roads Commission, and we finally advocated a State road to be built from Chestertown by way of Fairlee to some desirable point on the bay. We immediately began to pull the wires of legislation to bring about this desired result. Later on other powers began to work for the same end. The State road to-day from Fairlee to the camp meeting woods is the direct result of the agitation for a State road which was started in Fairlee Grange last winter.

Early last spring one of our members brought before Fairlee Grange the advisability of having a department of home economics in our county schools. The grange took action on the matter and we immediately set to work to bring this thing to pass. When our first application went in to the State department at Annapolis we were assured that all the money for that purpose in Maryland had already been used, and there the matter rested until fall. The earnest co-operation of our county school board was readily secured, and now, after much writing, much talking and much telephoning, it is accomplished, and a demonstrator in home economics for Kent county for the year 1915 is assured through the untiring efforts of Fairlee Grange.

During the summer, when there was a lull in the business meetings, we met on an annual picnic on the bay shore and thoroughly enjoyed a fish fry.

Again in August the pleasure of meeting other grangers of the county and State at Tolchester Beach is something for us to look back upon with profit.

The co-operative buying of coal and meat scraps for poultry was much to our financial benefit.

In July the Fairlee Grange baby contest came off with flying colors. It was an occasion of pleasure all around. The babies were happy and the mothers were happy, and when one of our grange babies brought home a silver cup from the county fair contest, and the chairman of the committee had made her final report, everybody was happy.

In September we began to talk and plan for the great event of the year—our exhibit at the Horticultural Show. It is not necessary to mention the success of that plan in this article. The triumph of being the first organization in Kent county to exhibit at the Horticultural Show and of winning third prize in spite of strong competition is already fresh on the minds of every one, and it is only natural that we should feel pride in ourselves, pride in our grange, and thankfulness for the evidence of true fraternity manifested so clearly in the harmonious working together of so many willing hands.

Last, but by no means least, in our effort of widening our influence, is the action of Fairlee Grange to donate funds to the destitute poor of Belgium. In these days of full and plenty for the grangers of Kent county, how could we do otherwise than to give of our abundance to those in such sore distress? May we as grangers and as individuals pray that the day may be hastened when "peace on earth and good will to men" shall prevail in earnest in all the world.

As we review the past year with pleasure and intense satisfaction for the many worthy achievements, may we with courage and steadfastness of purpose continue in the good work for the coming year.

Worton Grange Notes.

Worton Grange surely began the new year alright. Election of officers was the principle business, which resulted in the following being chosen to serve the term of one year: Master, B. F. Rash; overseer, Theodore Jewell; steward, Samuel Loller; gate-keeper, Thomas Bryan; Chaplain, C. G. Hadaway; lecturer, Ida Loller; secretary, Florence Jewell; treasurer, Harry Williams, assistant steward, Lester Carter; L. A. steward, Annie Parsons; ceres, Mamie Turner; pomona, Grace Clark; flora, Mary Parsons. All were installed with proper ceremony. Brother James T. Anthony and Sister Ida Crew being present, assisted in this work. At the close of this meeting Sister Turner, the retiring lecturer, served all to lovely winesap apples, which was indeed a splendid treat.

Last Monday night most of the officers being in their places the various committees were appointed for the year, which promises to be a great one in the history of Worton Grange. Now let each one do his or her part to make it so.

Bro. B. F. Rash, wife and daughter, Mrs. Barney Cooper, left Tuesday morning for Wilmington, to visit their daughter, Mrs. Howard Carter, and to attend the Horticultural meeting in that city.

We are sorry to report that several of our members have been very sick and hope for their speedy recovery. Among them are Bro. Geo. T. Williams and Bro. Jos. Atwell.

Several application blanks were taken out at our last meeting, which means that we are to have some fun in the near future.

Still Pond Grange Notes.

One of the largest attended meetings of Still Pond Grange was held in the Grange Hall on Saturday afternoon. After the business meeting the following interesting literary and musical program was conducted by Mrs. Lillie Kelley, lecturer: Instrumental solo, Mrs. Harris; paper, "What Constitutes a Good Grange", Mrs. Medders; quiz in U. W., by members of the grange; music by the grange; paper, "Does the Average Farmer Need Less Land, More Labor, or More Education?", Rev. S. S. Hepbron. It was Mr. Hepbron's opinion that the land and labor would be without profit unless the farmer has sufficient education to make the best use of them.

The Pomona Grange will be entertained at Still Pond Saturday, January 16. The meeting will be called promptly at 10.30.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

DEAR SIRS: I am nothing but a plain country farmer, but I notice that the banks in Chestertown pay 4 per cent. on all deposits. I hope the School Bonds, which brought such a good price, will be enhanced in value by depositing the proceeds in our good banks at 4 per cent. interest, and show the true spirit of economy. I know I voice the views of those around Kennedyville, although of course, all of us were interested in the bonds generally.

SCHOOL BONDS.

State Faces $1,000,000 Deficit

Comptroller Harrington's report to Governor Goldsborough shows that in the present fiscal year the State's receipts will be approximately $1,000,000 less than the appropriations.

This, the Comptroller says, is due to the evil of "continuing appropriations;" to the expenditures caused by creation of new bureaus and commissions, and to old-fashioned and out-of-date methods of handling finances in the Legislature.

He recommends that "continuing appropriations" be abolished; suggests there possibly is a way to reduce the expense of the new bureaus and commissons by eliminating waste and duplication of effort and cost, and proposes what amounts to a "budget system" for handling state finances in the Legislature.

The shortage will not affect the credit of the State or the security of its bonds. Interest and sinking funds for the bonds are provided by direct tax. That is leived and is sufficient for the purpose.

Betterton Notes.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society was held at the home of Mrs. John Jester on Friday afternoon. The treasurer reported that $145 had been collected by the members of this society in various ways during December and January, $74 having been raised by the "little traveler."

The first meeting of the "sewing circle of the Betterton M. E. Church" was held at the home of Mrs. Archie Crew on Tuesday evening. Everybody is cordially invited to attend these meetings which will be held every week. The Articles made will be sold at a bazaar held in the summer and the money thus made will go toward clearing the debt on the new church.

Mrs. Arthur Emerson entertained the embroidery club at her home on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Josiah Massey and Mr. Eugene Gooding spent several days with their mother, Mrs. Hannah Gooding, who has been quite sick the past week.

Miss Jennie Bowers, having been ill, was unable to attend to her school duties several days this week.

Miss Elizabeth Brice spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Charles Gooding, in Wilmington.

Old Mansion Burned.

The old colonial mansion at Worton Manor Beach, one of the historic spots in Kent county, was destroyed by fire early Saturday morning with its contents. Mrs. Costello the owner of the property was in Baltimore at the time of the fire, the origin of which is a mystery. Mr. Allen, the superintendent and his daughter were aroused by smoke, which is the first they knew of the fire. Only a part of the fine furniture was saved. The loss on the dwelling $6,000 and furniture about $3,000. The loss is partially covered by insurance in companies represented by E. P. Beck and James G. Beck.

This was one of the most picturesque homes in Kent county. It commaned a beautiful view of the Chesapeake bay, and was for a long number of years the hospitable home of the late John Gale. Mrs. Costello has owned the property a number of years.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER MACHINES

More About the Strong Points On the Low Spread Spreader

THE most critical spreader-buying farmer finds it hard to quarrel with the general design and construction of the Low Spread spreader. Arrangement of low steel main frame and mechanism cannot help pleasing him.

When he buys he gets the excellent service he expects and more, and for many years, because of the many details of correct build. His Low Spread spreader continues to run easily because of the right arrangement of beater and apron drive. His horses are spared, by the independent tongue and the apron rollers. He has always plenty of traction because the rear axle is well under the load and the wheels have Z-shaped lugs.

The gears that run the beater and the apron positively never spring apart, and the apron drive gears are reversible, hence double wearing. Apron driving parts are thoroughly protected by shields.

These are only suggestions. To know the Low Spread you must see it on our floor.
