NEIGHBORHOOD SHORT COURSES MEET WITH ENTHUSIASM.

Holding Of Local Schools In Practical Agriculture Proves Popular.

Neighborhood short courses in subjects relating to better methods of farming and homemaking as they are being conducted in many States by the Extension Service of the local Agricultural College are meeting with much appreciation. In Maryland where these courses are now being held for the first time, they are filling the long felt demand of the rural people for having brought to them first hand from their Agricultural College the latest information that is at its command and in a form which they can put to practical use on their own farms.

An interesting example of this work, was the neighborhood short course held early in February at Principio, Cecil county. It was held under the management of the local farmers' organization, Valley Grange, No. 288, which through its secretary made arrangements with the State Extension Service to give instruction in Dairying and Poultry Keeping, the charge for each person taking the course of sixteen lectures and demonstrations being fifty cents, with the additional advantage of the student being able to return home each night, and absent only part of the day from his business.

ATTENDING A DEMONSTRATION.

Under dairying, the instructor, Mr. G. E. Wolcott, of the Extension Service, spoke on feeding dairy cows, breeds of dairy cattle, grading up the herd, raising calves, producing clean milk, and on the value of cow testing and breeders' associations. He also gave a practical demonstration of the Babcock test, and ended his part of the course with a local stock judging contest that aroused much interest. Many of his lectures were also illustrated with lantern slides, that showed much more plainly than words the lessons he wished to teach.

Mr. C. L. Opperman, of Ridgely Subexperiment Station, handled the instruction in poultry keeping, taking up in turn the subjects of incubating and brooding, building hen houses, feeding laying hens, making up a poultry ration, common poultry diseases, marketing poultry products, and the many other problems that worry the keeper of the farm flock. He included in his work a practical demonstration of eggs for selecting eggs for setting and the placing of them in an incubator and operating it, using in this demonstration a machine of standard make, the whole idea of the neighborhood short course being to teach by seeing and doing rather than by simply hearing of what ought to be done to secure better results. An interesting part of the course was the asking of questions by local people and the discussion of neighborhood problems in dairying and poultry keeping by the instructors and their students.

COUNTY AGENTS ARE MAKING PROGRESS.

Will Hold Their Annual Conference At the Agricultural College Next Week.

Active steps are being taken in many counties of the State to employ a County Demonstration Agent such as have been employed in Southern Maryland for the past three years. Such a man, representing the combined work of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the various branches of the Agricultural College, under what is known as the Extension Service, devotes his time to furnishing the people of his county with information on agricultural subjects, and in co-operating with them in putting into successful practice the methods advocated by the Extension Service.

The conference of county agents to be held at the Agricultural College, beginning February 24, will be attended as well by the leaders in the U. S. Demonstration Service, among them being Dr. Bradford Knapp, Jesse M. Jones, O. B. Martin together with local men whose special lines of work are of direct use to the county agent. State Agent G. H. Alford will include in the discussions the subjects of orchard inspections, demonstrations, and management inoculating hogs against cholera, improvement in the care of live stock, improving grain crops and yields, controlling plant and animal diseases, promoting farmers' co-operative organizations and clubs, and in making known to the people of his county such practical information of his activities and results obtained as will be of immediate us to them.

WHY NOT UNANIMOUS?

A number of gentlemen were engaged in conversation the other day in reference to a candidate for State Senator when one of them said, "Well, I don't see why the Organization faction don't make the nomination of Brad Copper unanimous. When you can induce such men as Mr. Copper to become a candidate for an important office like that it seems to be foolish to stir up any opposition to him. Brad Copper is the very man for that place; he is close to the people; he is capable; he is honest, and he is as straight as a string, and in my judgment the Organization had better save its face by indorsing Mr. Copper." Such a statement is a compliment to any man, but it is not too much to say of Mr. Copper. He is one of the most capable men in Kent county to represent the people in the Senate of Maryland, and his character is such that no man would dare attempt to besmirch it.

DON'T TAKE THE TROUBLE.

After the stinging rebuke administered to the Beck organ by the TRANSCRIPT in its last two issues against their cry of BOSS and BOSSISM, this is the character of the answer to our articles which have occasioned such wide-spread comment:

"The Barroll organ ADMITS after several campaigns of proof after proof that BARROLL IS A BOSS! Watch the News for fuller details."

Now isn't that a beautiful argument? Boys, don't trouble yourselves to give any fuller details. The TRANSCRIPT has given such full and forceful details as to the quality of Bossism which characterizes the head of each faction that it is utterly useless for you to endeavor to give any fuller details. YOU CAN'T DO IT, if you try a month of Saturdays. So get another and more effective issue quick, or you'll be swamped on the sea of BOSSISM.

Celebrates 80th Anniversary.

A large and jolly crowd gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Caldwell, near Galena, on Saturday to spend the day with their father, Mr. Samuel Caldwell, Sr., the occasion being his eightieth birthday. Among those present were: Mrs. Belle Murphy and son, Mr. Norman Murphy, of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis King, and daughter Miss Wilhelmina. Messrs. Hanson and Samuel King, Mr. and Mrs. Price King and little son, Norman, of Warwick, Md. Mrs. Sallie Norris, Mr. Carl Norris and Miss Mabel Norris of Still Pond, Mrs. Jno. Smith of Millington, Mr. and Mrs. James Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Sam'l Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Caldwell, Mr. Sam'l Caldwell, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Dempsey, Miss Carrie Dempsey, and Master Walton Theodore Connelly, Misses Emily Caldwell, Mary Caldwell, Marian Caldwell, Martha Caldwell and Anna Caldwell, Messrs. Herbert, Samuel, Henry and Edward Caldwell.

In Memoriam.

"Asleep in Jesus! peaceful rest!
Whose waking is supremely blest!
No fear, no woe shall dim that hour
That manifests the Saviour's power."

"And thus we say of Mrs. Charlotte Wickes Strong, wife of the late Hon. T. Romie Strong, and daughter of the late James Page and Charlotte Spencer Wickes, and a representative of the oldest and most prominent families of Maryland, who died on Tuesday, Feb. 16th, 1915, aged 73 years. The deceased was well-known and beloved by all who knew her, for her quiet tender nature and great depth of character. She was a grand, highminded christian woman, and a most devoted wife and mother, weilding an influence over all around her in such a manner that all who came in contact with her, could but be uplifted. Too much praise cannot be given her, and here we are p.one to give special mention of the training of her children, of whom it may be said by all who knew her best, 'They are most truly a living monument' to her memory."

She had been an invalid for some years but health began to fail rapidly in the past few weeks, and those devoted children were constantly at her bedside, and everything that careful nursing and medical skill could do was done for her. She had the skillful attention of Drs. W. O. Selby, J. Page Strong, Merritt Brice, and also Dr. Pearce Kintzind, a specialist of Baltimore. But, nevertheless, God called her to his own and she fell—

"Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep
Fromw hich none ever wakes to weep."
