WE are indebted to Congressman J. Harry Covington for a quantity of garden seed, which we shall be glad to distribute among our friends.

SENATOR JOHN WALTER SMITH is persistently fighting the consideration of the bill in the National Senate providing for federal inspection of grain at the Port of Baltimore. This bill has come up twice recently for consideration in the Senate, and on each occasion the Maryland Senator has succeeded in blocking it. This bill is in the interest of the great mass of farmers throughout the State of Maryland, who fail to see why Senator Smith should so persistently fight their interests.

AT LAST there is a good prospect that Chestertown is to have a standpipe system for use in case of fire. Hurrah! for our town's progressive Water Board. The TRANSCRIPT has been fighting for such a system for three years, and how glad we are that our Water Board is determined to provide this so greatly needed fire protection. Don't let the iron which is heated every time a fire occurs, get cold, keep the thing moving and don't stop until the standpipe is up on Reservoir hill. The town needs it, is able to pay for it and it should have it. That is the situation, meet it like men.

WE cannot agree with Senator Lee in reference to a change in the date for holding primaries. In our judgment it is a great mistake to spend so much time in a bitter primary contest. The voters are kept stirred up for months by the arguments and counter arguments of warring political factions, and the sooner a contest is ended, the more peacefully and quietly may the farmers pursue their labors. We are in favor of May or June primaries. If this is in the interest of Senator Smith's candidacy for re-election to the Senate, as many believe that it is, we are favorable to Senator Smith only to the extent of securing the greatest convenience to our voters. Senator Smith can be beaten as easily in a short primary as in a long drawnout one.

TOWN COMMISSIONERS SHOULD ACT.

A number of the merchants and property holders of the town, led by Mr. Arlington L. Sparks, circulated a petition this week to the Town Commissioners to appoint Mr. John T. Jester an additional night officer as a further protection to property from fire or theft. The petition was largely signed and presented to the board. We understand they failed to comply with the request on account of a lack of funds. This in our judgment is a mistake. This town is entirely too large for one night officer. In the absence of any proper fire protection, it is absolutely necessary to have the town patrolled at night, as a protection against fire, and also against petty thieving, and the night officers should be required to police the entire town all night. The merchants and property owners made the just demand, and it seems to us that the commissioners should grant the request, even if they are forced to economize in some other direction. There is no better man in this town for such a job than Mr. Jester, and the commissioners should appoint him.

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

Mr. Shallcross' bill to bond Kent county for $48,000 to build school houses in Millington, Betterton, Rock Hall and Chestertown has passed the House.

Mr. Beck's bills to bond Chestertown for street improvement and sewers have passed the Senate.

The Baltimore City News says that Mr. Beck's bill for early primaries is in the interest of Senator John Walter Smith's candidacy for re-election to the Senate.

Nothing doing in the oyster fight until next Tuesday. There was a "scuffle" in the Senate on Wednesday, when it was thought the Shepperd bill would go through. The Anderson bill providing for absolute repeal was killed as dead as hector, and so the merry game of politics goes on with the interests of the oystermen.

Mr. Shallcross has introduced a bill in the House enabling the mayor and council of Rock Hall to bond the town for $10,000 to provide an electric light system. Good bill, if the people down there want it, and why should they not?

Governor Goldsborough entertained the members of the Senate and a few guests at the State House on Thursday evening in honor of Senator Blair Lee.

Mr. Beck's purse net bill is meeting with opposition from the Maryland Game and Fish Protective Association.

Base Ball at W. C.

The basket ball season closed at Washington College last Friday, and all eyes are now turned to the base ball season which will open in about a month. Coach Kibler has had a remarkably successful season with the basket ball team, and he is very enthusiastic about the makeup in this year's baseball squad. There was a loss of but one man from the base ball team last year by graduation--Meekins and though he was among the best third sackers the college ever had, yet coach Kibler believes he has found a worthy successor in Spedden. There is also an array of fine timber among the younger students and the prospect is very bright for a successful season. Manager Walter F. Moore has arranged a fine schedule which is as follows:

April 4, Temple University, at Chestertown; April 16. Manhattan College, at Chestertown; April 18, Loyola College, at Chestertown; April 23, Lebanon Valley, at Chestertown; April 25, Gallaudet College, at Chestertown.

May 2, Mount St. Mary's at Chestertown; May 8, Rock Hill College, Ellicott City; May 9. St. John's College, Annapolis; May 15, Delaware College, at Newark; May 16, Polytechnic Institute, at Chestertown; May 23, St. John's, at Chestertown; May 27, Maryland Aggies, at College Park; May 28, Mount St. Mary's, at Emmitsburg; May 29, Western Maryland, at Westminster; May 30, Mount St. Joseph's, at Irvington.

June 6, Mount St. Joseph's, at Chestertown; June 13, Maryland Aggies, at Chestertown; June 15, All-stars, at Chestertown; June 17, Alumni, at Chestertown.

COLEMAN MURDER TRIAL.

The trial of Norman Mabel and James Paroway, self-confessed murderers of Mr. James R. Coleman, in the public road, near Melitota, on the night of December 23rd, 1913, began in the Elkton court on Wednesday. Herbert E. Perkins, Esq., of Chestertown; T. Alan Goldsborough, of Denton, and former Senator Omar Crothers, of Elkton, are defending the prisoners, while State's Attorney Vickers is being assisted in the prosecution by State's Attorney Constable. Sheriff Brown and Deputy Sheriff Bolton went to Baltimore early Wednesday morning and brought the prisoners to Elkton. There was considerable difficulty in securing a jury, Sixty or more talisman were challenged before 12 men could be sworn as jurors. As soon as the jury was sworn counsel for the defense moved to squash the indictment on account of them being illegally drawn. Their reason for this action was that two of the grand jury for Kent which had indicted Paroway and Mabel had talked with the prisoners in the Chestertown jail before an indictment was found. Messrs. Harry T. Rash and John T. Moffett, the two jurors in question, were present and testified that they simply talked with the prisoners in order to endeavor to implicate Blake, another negro. The court refused the request of counsel. Counsel for defense fought every inch of the road for their clients. They asked for separate trials and to have Paroway tried first. State's Attorney Vickers asked to have Mabel tried first which was granted.

Forty or more witnesses from Kent county and Baltimore, including the three sons of the murdered farmer, Mr. Nathan Lieberman, proprietor of the store at Melitota, where Mr. Coleman displayed his money and treated his murderers to cigars, and Detective Pumphrey, whose splendid efforts led to the arrest and confession of the murderers, were examined as were also a great many other witnesses. Counsel for the prisoners fought bitterly to prevent the confessions made by the prisoners to the officers in the jail here and repeated to the detectives in the Baltimore city jail, being admitted as evidence, but the court ruled that the confessions were admissable, and they went to the jury. There has been much hard fighting among the lawyers for every point of vantage, and the crowded court room was moved to tears as Mr. Grover Coleman, the son who found the almost lifeless body of his father in his carriage in the farm yard on the night of the murder, identified the clothes of his father and told of the dreadful experience of the finding of the murdered farmer. James Paraway testified that he struck the blow which killed Mr. Coleman and that Mabel knew nothing about the iron bar until he told him. Paroway also stated that the only thing Mabel did was to rob Mr. Coleman and that while they did not mean to kill Mr. Coleman, he alone had dealt the blow and Mabel knew nothing of it. Catching at this as a last straw in the case of Mabel, Mr. Goldsborough, counsel for the prisoners, in his argument, admitted Mabel guilty of robbery, but asked for an acquittal on the charge of murder in the first degree. Argument was continued all yesterday morning and the case was given to the jury about two o'clock.

At the hour of going to press (5 P. M.) the jury had not rendered a verdict. A phone message from Elkton at four o'clock stated that State's Attorney Vickers had just closed his argument for the State when the case was given to the jury. It was the general impression in Elkton that the verdict of the jury would be murder in the first degree.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

Millington, Md., March 3, '14.

THE TRANSCRIPT PUBLISHING CO.

Gentlemen:

Why do you people complain about Senator Smith prefering a Republican filling our postoffice rather than have Washington F. Collins, a good Democrat appointed by President Wilson, to become Postmaster here? It is an open secret that the Smith men in this county, some of them openly state they prefer a Republican to the confirmation of Mr. Collins, and that is the kind of a Democrat Senator Smith is. My way or no way, just as the Organization Democrats in Kent county say, "Take us or nobody." An Anti-Organization Democrat, no matter if he never split his ticket, never voted for a Republican, is not in their eyes as good as a Republican. In Senator Smith's eyes the Anti-Organization Democrats in Kent county are worse than Republicans. But who were the Wilson men in 1912? These same people who are now saying a Republican in the Millington postoffice is better than a Democrat, who is not a friend of John Walter Smith.

Yours truly,
MILLINGTON.

Parsonage Entered.

Rev. Dr. W. R. Graham and his family were aroused from their slumbers about 1.30 o'clock yesterday morning by the appearance of a thief on the sleeping of Christ Church parsonage. Mrs. Paul Graham, whose little daughter, Sarah, has been sick for several days, happened to be awake with the little one, and hearing footsteps in the upstairs hall, she called loudly, "Who is it?" That awakened Mrs. Graham, the elder, who cried, "What is the matter?" This scared the thief, and he beat a hasty retreat down the front stairs, followed by Mr. Paul Graham with his revolver in hand, and his father. The thief was too fast, and Mr. Graham failed to get a glimpse of him or he would have fired at him. An investigation showed that one of the front parlor widows had been left unlocked, and entrance was gained through that. Dr. Graham found the window full raised when he went down stairs. Upon investigating conditions outside foot prints close to the house from front to back and on out to Maple avenue were found, the intruder having gone out the avenue towards Cross street. The family have missed nothing but the remainder of a night's sleep, due to the excitement following the attempted robbery.

Loyal Order Of Moose.

Chestertown Lodge No. 1496, Loyal Order of Moose, was instituted in Chestertown last Friday night. This is one of the largest and most beneficial fraternal orders in the county, and Mr. John Gale Usilton was the moving spirit in its organization here. Some of the town's most representative young men are members of the loyal order. Director General M. J. Holland and Mr. Keller of the Organization Dept. were present and installed the following officers:

Director, Thos. Massey; vice-director, Robert R. Ayres; Prelate, Wm. H. McKee; Secretary, John Gale Usilton; Treasurer, Thomas W. Perkins; Past Dictator, W. F. Malin; Inner Guard, Robt. D. Moffett; Outter Guard, Foster Cannan; Trustees, Warren C. Hurlock, Frank V. Simpers and James G. Beck. 32 members were present and duly obligated. The lodge has a membership of more than sixty members.

Moore, will be assisted by Rev. J. F. Clark, the well-known Railroad Evangelist, of Delmar. In view of the moonlight nights there should be no excuse for any one staying away from these meetings. Everybody is invited to attend and hear this intensely earnest and interesting speaker. Mr. Clark was the evangelist in charge of the recent great revival at Betterton.

Bishop Thomas Bowman, the oldest Methodest Episcopal minister in the United States, and the founder of Dickinson Seminary, died on Tuesday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. B. D. Caldwell, Orange, N. J. He was 97 years old.

Bishop John G. Murray was unable to fill his engagement in Emmanuel P. E. Church on Thursday evening because of a severe cold. The members of the church and the citizens of the town generally regret the Bishop's inability to be here, as they would have heard him gladly.

A series of Pentecostal services will begin at Pondtown Mission, Sunday, March 8th, and continue about two weeks. Services week nights 7.30 o'clock. Evangelist H. J. Olsen will have charge. All welcome.

The subject for next Sunday in the Presbyterian churches of Kennedyville, Georgetown and Worton will be "The Lord's Tenth." There will be an interesting service at Worton, when Mr. George Cooper will be ordained elder and Messrs. Warren and Roy Simonds installed deacons. In keeping with the mandate sent forth by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church of America; and also in accordance with the desire of the sessions of the Kennedyville and Worton churches, Mr. Clews is sending out a circular letter to every member and adherent of his churches. The pastor hopes for, and solicits the support and sympathy of all in the movement which the letter itself explains, and prays that like one strong man, all will pull and work together with the necessary interest and enthusiasm to close the church year, which ends March 31, with all accounts clean and square.

The program of the entertainment as advertised in behalf of the Presbyterian Manse at Kennedyville to be given in Odd Fellows' Hall, Galena, is as follow:

"THE TWENTIETH CENTURY RELIGION."

FOURTH ARTICLE.

No doubt you have read in the papers recently that Dr. Charles F. Aked, pastor of the First Congregational Church, in San Francisco, has enlisted under the banner of Dr. Eliot and become an apostle and preacher of this socalled new religion, of which Dr. Eliot claims to be author. This Dr. Aked is a native of England, and was brought to this country a few years ago by John D. Rockefeller to be his pastor and to preach in his church (Baptist) in New York city. Dr. Aked came from Liverpool, where he was, first of all, a clergyman of the Church of England. He did not find himself at home there, left the church and joined the Baptists. Mr. Rockefeller took a fancy to him and imported him. Presently Dr. Aked found that little New York was not large enough for him, for a large and wealthy Congregationalist Church, in San Francisco, also took a fancy to him, offered him inducements to come to them, which he accepted, and bidding good-bye to the Baptists he became a Congregationalist. Now he tells us that he has grown tired of that society, and joined the ranks of the army of unbelievers, or Agnostics. An Agnostic is one who says, "I do not know," and, therefore, does not believe nor accept anything that God has revealed to man in His holy word, the Bible. What Dr. Aked will be next, no one knows. He does not know himself. Within the last ten years he has sampled three different professions of faith and is now busy sampling the profession of "no faith." In short, he has declared himself to be an infidel! A man who is as vacillating and unsettled as the wind cannot be my teacher and guide, and I trust, my friend, that you do not care to have such an one as yours. Now let me ask you to stop here and read carefully the 2nd chapter of St. Peter's 2nd epistle. I ask you to note especially the 1st verse of that chapter which says, "But there were false prophets also among the people. Even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord who bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction."

Now this weathervane, a short time ago, announced to his congregation that the Lord Jesus Christ is not God, and that no New Testament writer says that He is. Dr. Aked's copy of the New Testament must have suffered the loss of the first chapter of St. Matthew and St. Luke, or perhaps the pages were stuck together and so he missed, or overlooked, or did not care to read, what those chapters tell us. Read them, they will show you that Dr. Aked is grossly in error. I will not repeat the quotations from those chapters, for I gave them to you in my last article, and there are other passages which will prove that this eidevant Christian is telling you just exactly what is not so. Now, before I take up the matter bearing upon Dr. Aked's apostasy, which I will speak of in the next article, I would like to say this. The age in which we live is a clever age, or at least it pretends to be. It is a time when education of a certain kind can be had for nothing, when literature is abundant and cheap, when competition makes people very keen and eager to be ahead of their fellows, where everyone who would succeed must be up-to-date. There are advantages in this, but there are also grave dangers. It is quite possible to be too clever. You may polish a weapon or an intellect, until you rub all the goodness out of it. There are many who are more anxious to be clever or to be thought so, than to be good, who cultivate the mind to the neglect of the soul. In the dark ages when there was little or no education, Satan used ignorance as his chief weapon. Most of the wickedness done in former days was done because men knew no better. Now that everyone can read and write, and knowledge is making progress every day, the devil makes this the means of gaining men's souls. He uses the printing press and the pen of the writer, and the pencil of the artist, and the lecture room of the man of science for his purpose.

So we have newspapers which teach men to rebel against the laws of God and the laws of their country; to believe in the Gospel of Hate, and the righteousness of Nihilism and Dynamite. We have novels that sneer at all that men hold sacred, which openly make a mock at sin and deride the holy rite of marriage. We have scientific manuals which laugh at the teachings of the Bible and the church, as old wives' fables. We have pictures and plays and feasts which tear the veil of decency away and show humanity naked but not ashamed. We have songs which only excite evil passions, and amusements which minister to the lusts of the flesh, and in this way we see the wisdom of the serpent, the devil; we find him using literature, science, art, politics, the drama, society, even religion itself, for the ruin of men's souls. Formerly, Satan appealed to man's ignorance, now he appeals to man's cleverness. He teaches people to start new and advance ideas in morals and maners, to call themselves new men and new women, to advance so far that they leave the Bible and the church, and most things that are decent and pure far behind them. These people would have us give up the old paths and the old faiths, to disbelieve the old Gospel, and the atonement of the Son of God, and accept a faith which sneers at all that is holy, and gives us nothing in its place but a sunless creed which believes nothing, hopes nothing, and fears nothing. As I said, there is the great danger in these days of being too clever. If we are tempted to think overmuch of our cleverness, let us remember that the Devil is more clever still. The work of temptation which he began in the garden of Eden is going on still. The story of our first parents and our own is very similar. Before temptation and sin came, our parents lived in Paradise and were happy. The tempter came to them, the enemy appeared as a friend, and was listened to, and at once all was changed. Paradise was no longer Paradise for those who had forfeited their innocence.

Life had lost its savor, duty was no longer sweet to those who had eaten the forbidden fruit and thereby spoiled their taste. They had sought for knowledge and it only made them miserable. They knew that they were naked and were not ashamed. We are in Paradise as long as we are obedient, our home is a Garden of Eden. God is close to us and we love Him and trust Him, we believe and we hope in Him, and we feel:

"To do God's will, that's all that need concern us;
Not to carp or ask the meaning of it,
But to ply our task, whatever may befall;
Accepting good or ill, as He may send,
And wait until the end."
