SERVICE FLAG AND HONOR ROLL DISPLAYED AT CHRIST CHURCH

Large Crowd Hears Dr. J. E. Clarke Make Eloquent Presentation Address in The Evening

A large crowd packed the beautiful Methodist Protestant Church, in Chestertown, on Sunday evening, when a pretty service flag was presented to the church.
At the afternoon service the Honor Roll of the church was uncovered in the presence of a large crowd, and impressive ceremonies attended the service.
The evening service was in charge of Postmaster Thomas D. Bowers, who arranged a splendid program for the occasion.
After singing of patriotic anthems by the choir and congregation, Dr. E. J. Clarke, Superintendent of the Kent County Schools, made the presentation speech for the Sunday School. Dr. Clarke's address was one of the most eloquent and eloquent that has been heard here for some time. The address was full of historical interest. Dr. Clarke told of how the despotic nation of the world had tried for world domination, of how great empires, drunk with power, had filled their niche in the world's past, and finally foundered on the rocks of their own greed. The address was enjoyed by all who heard it, and Dr. Clarke's address on Sunday night stamps him as one of the great speakers in this part of the state at least.

Misses Mary Knight and Francis Howard had charge of the placing on the white field of stars, which were handed the former by the Boy Scouts, who read their names and addresses, Miss Knight, in turn, pinning them on the flags.
When completed, Miss Knight had pinned fifteen stars on the white field, which were represented by the following names: James L. Bacchus, C. Norman Couch, J. R. Carter, N. J. Denny, Charles L. Gill, Webster Hague, E. Leon Hicks, Gaylord Hurlock, Bryan Newton, Wm. F. Russell, Jr., L. Bates Russell, Jr., Olin B. Stafford, Charles F. Smith, Galen Vansant, Walter Truitt.
A quartette, composed of Messrs. Hyde Thompson, Thomas D. Bowers, Fred G. Upton and Arlington L. Sparks, sang some delightful music, while Prof. Reed, of Washington College, sang a sweet baritone solo.
Little Miss Hazel Reed recited in a charming manner a patriotic piece. Dr. J. L. Ward received the flag with an appropriate address on behalf of the church.

WHEAT PROSPECTS

The April estimate of the winter wheat crop is 560,000,000 bushels grown on the largest area ever planted to that crop. The condition is five per cent below normal.
The Government had hoped for 672,000,000 bushels of winter wheat, with the year's total production touching the billion bushel mark.

CORNMEAL CRUST (Official Recipe)

One-half cup cornmeal, one-half teaspoon salt, one cup wheat flour, two tablespoons vegetable oil.
Combine ingredients, using enough liquid to make a dough that can be rolled thin. Bake in quick oven.
If the order had been given on the quiet to the bakers how many Americans would know that the amount of wheat flour allowed in their Victory Bread was on Sunday, April 14th, reduced from 80 to 75 per cent.

WAR PORTIONS

Put your production ahead of your profits or the Hun may reap both.
Democracy is guarded by four great walls—men, money, munition and meals. If one wall breaks down the enemy breaks through.
The amount of wheat flour being saved in public eating places is steadily climbing. Official figures put it at nine million pounds in December, 12 1/2 million in January, and 15 million in February.
The official estimate of the rye crop is now 85,000,000 bushels or forty per cent better than last year.

Why not use that saved hour of daylight for work in a war garden?

SAVINGS FROM GARBAGE WILL BLOW UP THE FOE

The big difference between an old-time cannon ball and a modern high explosive shell is that when the latter arrives at its mark it doesn't merely bowl things over. It blows up everything in sight. Some of the Baltimore-made shells on view at the "Over There" exhibition are capable of lifting a building a mile off fifty feet into the air where it just naturally falls to pieces. It doesn't top over as buildings do in movie shows. And the cause of this havoc is nitroglycerine, an explosive derived from animal fats such as to the extent of thousands of pounds daily, this warring nation is throwing away with its garbage.

The first thing derived by Reduction Plants is crude glycerine. From it is made nitro-glycerine and dynamite-glycerine without whose support our infantry would have as much chance in this war as if they were backed up by a battery of big popguns. We owe it to our boys to see that there is no shortage of the stuff that will strike terror into the hearts of the foe. We have got to save those fats.
Out of the garbage can the magicians of American industry can also procure the fatty acids that grease the motor trucks in which our men depend for shot, shell and supplies. And without red oil, another garbage product, there could be neither motor trucks nor guns, both great and small for the lathes which bite their gears and cut their bores must have that lubricant to do their work. You can't have your wastefulness, let the motors stall, the rifles jam and the cannon cease their fire.
This red oil is also used in the preparation of Summy's khaki uniform while stearic acid, another derivative, tans his shoes and, in candle form, is used to light his dugout. Pitch is also drawn from garbage and in waterproofing compounds gives shelter from the rains which worry the trench-pent soldiers almost as much as the enemy does. So clearly among the 200,000,000 pounds of garbage which Uncle Sam produces every year, lurks a mighty force which can easily help to win this war.

Where a Reduction Plant is at hand, the garbage of every community should be turned over to it for treatment. But there is not everywhere such plants, and then the Government urges every household to keep the least possible ounce of animal fats out of the garbage can.
The foremost way is to try as little as possible; never fry in deep fat; use little pastry and stick to pies with a single crust; go easy on soap and spare the butter. What fat you must employ use over and over again, clarifying it from time to time. And wherever possible have vegetable oils take the place of animal fats.
Corn oil is a wonderful substitute and besides it is the basis of a big new Maryland industry. Two table-spoons of corn oil suffice for a cup of flour.

The Allies are short of these essential fats; the Germans even more so. The U. S. A. has plenty—if it is kept out or taken out of the nation's garbage crop. That depends on every individual getting together on this big war duty. Save every ounce you can towards the army's needs. The rest can be fed to the pigs. But they don't need high explosives to fatten on. Let Uncle Sam's cannon feed that to the foe.
