Peninsula Horticulture Society Meets

The Executive Committee of the Peninsula Horticultural Society met at the office of the Secretary in Dover Monday morning, April 22, to fix the place for the next meeting and to revise the rules and premium list of the next annual exhibition. Those present were: Warren C. Newton, President of the Society of Bridgetown; Walter E. Harris, Worton; F. J. Dukes Girdleiree; J. L. Soper, Magnolia; and Hon. Samuel L. Byrn, of Cambridge.

The premiums to be offered amount to more than $2000, including three prizes, amounting to $450 for the best general display of all fruits; $50 for the best single box of apples (competition open to the world); three prizes amounting in all to $50 for single boxes; prizes for the best three boxes; the best five boxes and the best ten boxes, also prizes for the best single boxes of all the leading commercial varieties. There are also prizes for hampers and barrels of apples and pears. Prizes are offered for plates of all the leading varieties of apples. Prizes for Delicious, Paragon, Stayman and Winesap are higher than for the others, namely $2.00 for first, $5.00 for second and $3.00 for third for five plates of each variety.

The next meeting will be held in Bridgetown January 14, 1919, when arrangements will be made for the best and biggest fruit and vegetable show that was ever held on the Peninsula.

WESLEY WEBB, Secretary.

Sell Your Hens Gradually.—The United States Department of Agriculture advises Kent county farmers to sell their hens gradually and not to sell them in one lot. This restriction against the sale of hens is removed. This will stabilize the market and will mean more eggs. Every laying hen at this season produces eggs far less cost for feed than during the winter.

POLICE ARE NOT NEEDED TO BACK UP FOOD LAWS

Infraction of the food regulations requiring the partial substitution of other cereals for wheat has brought several offenders on the carpet before the Maryland Food Administrators. The penalties imposed have so far been very light, usually the closing for one day of the culprit's place of business and the posting of a pledge to conform rigorously to the new rules. This does not mean the measures against wheat-wastage will be half-heartedly enforced. It does mean that the authorities hold the view that the infractions were the result of ignorance, not defiance; and, in that belief, they are expecting penitence for misjudgment rather than exacting punishment for wrongdoing. But there will be small mercy for any who may deliberately break the law and make their fight against their own Government instead of against the Hun.

"The spirit of the people back of the lines must be a vital determining factor in a long-drawn war," declares State Administrator Baetjer. "Slim would be the United States' chance of success, if, at the very outset, it were necessary to drag on food-dealers into compliance with the law and threaten housekeepers into that food-thrift which was America's first pledge to her allies. There isn't much punch to the patriotism that needs to be enforced by the police. So the Maryland Food Administration is not putting its dependence upon penalties in its cereal-saving campaign; it counts on the loyal spirit of every citizen of this State to impel him to play the game and stick to the finish."

CANADA'S SCHOOL BOYS ENLIST IN FOOD ARMY

Quebec, March 25.—The Provincial Legislature is considering closing all public schools for the five summer months to release the pupils for farm work. While the importance of education is not forgotten, the supporters of the measure point out that just at present it is being decided in Europe whether or not the German language is to be forced upon all adults and school children alike, and that the production of food on this Continent will have a lot to do with settling that question.

Throughout Canada school boys up to nineteen years of age are enlisting for farm work and are being supplied with khaki uniforms as soldiers of the soil. After three months service a bronze badge of honor is awarded by the Government.

Special effort is being made to get town boys interested in farm work, not merely for the value of the food products but also as the beginning of a real back-to-the-land movement.

TWO LOAVES A WEEK.

One pound and a half of wheat flour per week is allowed by the new food ruling for each man, woman and child in the U. S. A.

Two loaves of Victory Bread—one of 16 ounces and the other of 12 ounces—can be bought by the housewife for each member of her household without exceeding the new limit.

SHORT RATIONS.

Every housekeeper's apron should be a uniform showing that she is a volunteer in Maryland's army of food savers.

Canada's greatest department store has been trying out women in its stables and they have been so successful in handling even the biggest Clydesdales that the headquarters of these "farmerettes" has been deluged with demands for help from agriculturists.

The bread ration of the French soldier has been cut from 25 to 21 ounces a day, while the civilian's bread card now calls for just half of that. No do all get even that much. M. Andre Tardieu, French High Commissioner, made the startling announcement in Baltimore that there are districts in France which for days have suffered a complete, absolute deprivation of bread.

Don't help the Hun at meal time.

The wasted food that goes into your garbage can is a message of comfort to the enemy. Don't cheer up the Huns.

Make your food go as far as you can. Make every ounce you can spare go from Maryland to France.

Mr. Civilian, who is really getting your help—the Kaiser or the Food Administration? You can't aid in winning the war by tongue-thrashing the Hun and fooling with the Food Laws.

Not during one week this year have grain and cereal shipments to the Allies measured up to the amount they were led to expect from America. The first quarter of 1918 finds the supply over 800,000 tons behind the announced program.

The interests in the garage business of Bacon & Jessop have been taken over by C. Arthur Bacon, the former owner.

Thanking the public for their support to the firm and trusting we may receive a portion of your trade in the future, I beg to remain,

Very truly yours,
C. ARTHUR BACON.

TEN REASONS WHY

You Should Have a

IN YOUR HOME

Health, Comfort and Convenience.

- 1—The Caloric conserves health by keeping an even temperature of circulated, moist, warm air throughout the house.
- 2—Heats from one to eighteen rooms with only one register.
- 3—Requires only a minimum amount of space. No pipes to obstruct the cellar.
- 4—Keeps the dust and dirt of fuel and ashes out of the house.
- 5—Does not heat the cellar, thereby permitting the storage of perishable products in the basement.
- 6—Maintains the proper fire with very little attention. All drafts regulated from floor above.

ECONOMY.

7—Reduces coal bills. No heat is lost through radiation in the basement and walls. Every pound of fuel consumed delivers a maximum amount of heat directly to the rooms.

8—Can be installed in old buildings without the necessity of costly remodeling. Can be placed in new buildings with less trouble and expense than any other type of furnace manufactured.

9—Its low cost places it within the reach of thousands of home owners who have previously been forced to rely upon inadequate stove heating.

GUARANTEE

10—The Caloric Patented Pipeless Furnace is manufactured and guaranteed by The Monitor Stove and Range Company, an organization which has been making and selling heating appliances for 98 years. The Monitor Ironclad writing guarantee, that is given with every Caloric Pipeless Furnace, insures satisfaction to the purchaser.
