Red Cross In Italy

Until the American Red Cross "carried on," replacing the worker-mother in many of the cities and towns of Italy, neglected little waifs—by-products of a world war—literally swarmed about the streets. The fathers of these children are with the colors—their mothers have replaced the fathers in the fields and workshops, and the American Red Cross has replaced, as far as it can, the worker-mothers through its soup kitchens and what, in this country, would be called "day nurseries."

Supplanting the worker-mother is but another one of the American Red Cross activities overseas and one that is, perhaps, just around the corner, over here.

Recently the American Red Cross established another link in its long chain of soup kitchens in the little village of San Creste, which clings to the side of Mount Sorcte in the Tiber valley, twenty miles from Rome. Here every morning at daybreak a long, long line of worker-mothers may be seen wending their way to the lower levels to work in the fields, and night fall finds them trudging slowly homeward. Before the American Red Cross established its soup kitchen there the children were left alone throughout the day. Now they have quite a different status. French nuns, who have ministered to the poor of San Creste for some time, are in charge of the soup kitchen and day nursery and, as they watch over their flock, they note the clothing needs of the children and, as supplies are wanted, they are shipped out from Rome.

Thus, the American Red Cross, impersonating the worker-mother, is helping to repay a little of the debt the loyal peasants of Italy are piling up during the long years of the war.

Government Will Buy All Wheat

Reports reach the Food Administration that some farmers are selling their wheat at less than the guaranteed price because of the railway embargoes placed in parts of the country against wheat shipment. While the elevators are temporarily overstocked because seaboard movement has not kept pace with internal movement, this condition should be improved during the next thirty or sixty days. No farmer who will have patience until the situation improves need sell below the guaranteed price, for the Government will buy all the wheat as fast as it can be moved.

LOAN DRIVE TO START WITH RUSH

Theodore Roosevelt to Open Maryland's Campaign In Baltimore

ENORMOUS BAND TO PLAY

Observance Of The Day In The Counties Will Likewise Be On A Large Scale And Great Results Are Expected.

The first day of the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign, September 28th, will be ushered in in Maryland like a great national holiday. In Baltimore and in the county seats factory whistles will be blown and bells will be rung at intervals from ten to twelve o'clock A. M. In Baltimore a fleet of airplanes between six and twelve in number will fly over the city in battle formation several times during the forenoon.

Ex-President Roosevelt is expected to arrive at Union Station about one o'clock and will proceed thence to a hotel for luncheon escorted by soldiers, sailors and marines. After luncheon he will hold an informal reception until he leaves for Oriole Park, where he will make a vigorous talk for the Loan. A monster band of five hundred or more pieces will entertain the crowds at the park before the speeches commence. No previous Loan, it is generaly admitted, has ever commenced under such propitious circumstances nor with such enthusiasm on the part of the army of workers who are preparing for the fray.

EXERCISES IN THE COUNTIES.

At many of the county seats patriotic meetings will be held in the afternoon of Saturday and there will be exercises of some sort in villages and towns throughout the State. The following day, Sunday, September 29th—Heroes Day—will be celebrated in the churches in city and country.

On Tuesday, September 17th, a luncheon was given by the Publicity Committee of the Fourth Liberty Loan committee to the editors of county newspapers and the county chairmen, at the Southern Hotel, Baltimore. About seventy county men attended. General Winslow Williams was in charge of the arrangements and there was informal speaking and an across-the-table discussion of methods of pushing the Loan which will be very helpful in making a successful campaign.

To Record Subscription.

The following letter has been sent to each county chairman by John P. Baer, chairman of the Committee on Accounting and Delivery.

"As heretofore, the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond will send to each banking institution or bank in the State postal cards upon which subscriptions are to be reported both to the Federal Reserve Bank and to the Liberty Loan Committee for Maryland. In previous campaigns quite a number of the institutions have overlooked the importance of sending such reports to the State Committee; in the coming campaign publicity will be given each day to the subscriptions from the city and from each individual county and it is therefore necesary for each bank to send daily a report of its subscriptions as forwarded to the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond. If the institution fails to do this it naturally follows that the county or city will not be given its proper rating in the public press or wherever the figures may be displayed. As chairman of your county I would ask that you take this matter up with each banking institution of your district and impress upon them the importance of forwarding these duplicate cards to the Liberty Loan Committee of Maryland."

There will be a general meeting of the county chairmen and district leaders of the Woman's National Liberty Loan Committee on Friday, September 20th, at 10.30 A. M., at Council of Defense Headquarters, Saratoga street and Park avenue, at which plans for the coming campaign will be discussed. Ex-Governor Phillips Lee Goldsborough will address the meeting at 12 o'clock.

Mammoth Band To Play.

The largest band ever assembled in the South will play at the great meeting, which, with former President Theodore Roosevelt as the principal speaker, will make Baltimore's observance of the opening of the Fourth Liberty Loan Campaign one of the most notable in the country.

It was recognized from the start that something unusual, something bigger than had ever before been attempted, in the way of music, would be necessary and in order to solve this particular problem members of the Musical Union of Baltimore were called upon for their assistance.

They responded at once and held a meeting at which they pledged their hearty co-operation with the committee in its plans. This meeting resulted in the decision to amalgamate all of the instrumental players of the city into a great body constituting a band of hitherto undreamed of proportions.

This monster massed band will number at least 500 men, all of them experienced professionals. They will be directed by Roscoe Packard, president of the Musical Union, and the program they will present at the Roosevelt meeting will compromise a number of the most popular war songs and patriotic airs.

The meeting will be open to the general public with no reservations except for guests of honor; and the committee is particularly anxious that the counties of the State be largely represented.

Clock Dials for Summer.

Instead of moving the hands of the clock forward and back at the time of changing from standard to summer time, and vice versa, a plan recently proposed in England is to have clocks provided with an adjustable dial. The circular disk of the dial would be put in place by screws in curved slots, and the dial would be rotated through one hour space at the time of making the change, leaving the hands untouched.

It is claimed that this plan is especially desirable in the case of striking-clocks, the hands of which cannot be moved back. The position of the dial would also indicate whether the clock was keeping summer or normal time. The objection to this procedure, of course, is that practically everybody tells time from position of the hands, without any attention to the figures on the dial.

DO YOU HAVE DIZZY SPELLS?

It's Important To Learn the Cause, As Many Chestertown People Have

Dizziness is never a disease of itself—it's only a symptom of some deeper-seated trouble. Much dizziness is caused by disordered kidneys failing to filter all the poisons from the blood. These poisons attack the nerves and dizziness results. If you are subject to dizziness, there is good reason to suspect your kidneys, and if you suffer backache, headache and irregularity of the kidney secretions, you have further proof. Many Chestertown people have learned the value of Doan's Kidney Pills in just such cases. Read this Chestertown resident's statement:

Mrs. May C. Frazier, High St., says: "I suffered from my kidneys and backache. At times I had dizzy spells and black spots before my eyes. My back ached when I bent over and my kidneys didn't act right at all. I surely was feeling miserable until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from The Stam Drug Co. I used them and had great relief.

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Frazier had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
