LOCAL MATTERS

"Birth Of A Nation" Here Next Week.—"The Birth Of A Nation," the greatest moving picture of them all, will be shown at Lyceum Theatre on next Friday and Saturday. See big adv. on page 4 for particulars.

May Make Great International Holiday.—There is a big world-wide movement to make November 11—the day the armistice was signed—a great international holiday. This would be a fitting tribute to perhaps the greatest day in 2000 years of history.

Wheat Looks Good.—Although we have had quite a dry fall, the wheat fields of Kent look good generally. The farmers have put in their wheat and are much further ahead with their work than they were this time last year.

Hoover To Go Abroad.—Food Administrator Hoover will leave soon for Europe to direct preparations for feeding the people of France, Belgium and other countries. Mr. Hoover, it is understood, will not relinquish his position as Food Administrator, although his attention will be devoted almost entirely to working out the food problems of Europe.

Report of Health Physician For Oct.—Dr. G. R. Jones, Secretary Local Board of Health, makes the following report for October: Births, 18 white, 7 colored; deaths, 44 white, 63 colored; in October the births reported were 35 and the deaths 19. There were 31 deaths from pneumonia, 17 from influenza and 31 from pneumonia following influenza. The number of contagious diseases reported were: Influenza 360; pneumonia 39; typhoid fever 3; chicken pox 1; whooping cough 3; septic sore throat 1.

United War Societies At Work.—The effort to raise Kent's apportionment of the fund for the benefit of the United War Societies is being pushed. Short speeches are being made at the churches, theatres and public meetings in the interest of the cause. At Christ M. P. Church on Sunday over $1400 was raised and a splendid meeting held. At the M. E. Church a fine subscription was taken. At James M. E. Church over $250 was pledged. In several other churches the cause was presented and committees are at work. The campaign closes next Monday. Send check to Hon. J. A. Pearce or your pastor.

Big Eagle Captured.—Charles S. Ellison, a young farmer living near Mt. Pleasant, on Tuesday shot a handsome specimen of the gray eagle. Several eagles had been noticed in the neighborhood for several days and the poultry of the farmers had suffered accordingly, and they were on the lookout for the birds. When shot the eagle was flying and the shot broke its right wing. In falling it landed on its head, which stunned it for some time, but it showed fight before it was captured. It was taken to Middletown and exhibited in a store window. It measured 7 feet 2 inches from tip to tip of its wings, and is a fine specimen, the second of its kind seen in that section in fifteen years. It will be kept for a few days and if it lives will be presented to the Philadelphia Zoo.

Examines Third National.—National Bank Examiner Mr. R. J. C. Dorsey, of Washington, D. C., examined the condition of the Third National Bank of Chestertown this week and of course found everything in first-class shape. By reference to the bank's advertisement on page one and its statement on page 4 it will be seen that the business has reached the enormous sum of $1,636,431.21. This is a remarkable showing.

Gets License.—Mr. Richard H. Collins, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Collins, of Chestertown, who has been in the Merchant Marine service for the past six months after having been discharged from the army in April last because of some heart trouble, passed a successful examination this week and has been licensed an engineer. He has made two trips to France and returned and two trips to Cuba and return as an engineer's helper.

LOCAL ITEMS OF INTEREST

—Mr. Robert Brown will discontinue farming after Jan. 1.

—Over 1200 gunning licenses have been issued to date in Kent county.

—Mr. William Oglesby sent some interesting souvenirs from Paris to his wife here on Thursday.

—The Washington College football schedule has been cancelled. The Cadets are practicing for basketball.

—Mr. S. W. Granberry killed the first rabbit of the season. He ran over him in his auto!

—During the celebration Monday night a certain young farmer made a local autoist hustle to beat him on a horse on the Chestertown streets.

—Mr. Frank Taylor had the misfortune to be wounded over the eye by a stray bullet on Thursday night during the "celebration."

Fairlee Grange will hold a meeting on Wednesday November 20. A full meeting is desired as business of importance is to be discussed.

—John W. Kendall has sold the Wm. E. Keyser farm, near Fairlee, to Ex-Senator H. L. Cooper, of Denton. S. Scott Beck, attorney. The price is said to be around $10,000.

—According to government officials the Students Army Training Corps of Washington College and the various other colleges of the country will be continued for the time.

—The Rock Hall Lyceum Course will present two numbers next week, "The Harmony Co. Eds.," Monday evening, Nov. 18; and "The Metropolitan Trio," Thursday evening, Nov. 21.

—In preparing hogs to be slaughtered a fast of 24 to 36 hours, plenty of water, careful handling and rest before slaughtering are all important in securing meat in the best condition, so the experts say.

—The Ringgold-Aldridge farm has been rented to William French. Mr. French tenants the smaller farm and will not have far to move. Mrs. Aldridge will likely move to Chestertown.

—The first woman to undertake the job of carrying the mails over the roads of Kent county is Mrs. Barney Cooper, who is running the Worton route, No. 2, from the Worton post-office, as a substitute.

—Mr. H. B. Rote telephoned the first news of Germany's surrender to Chestertown from Philadelphia on Monday morning at 5 a. m.

—As a result of the new federal regulations prohibiting the sale of wild ducks, also putting a stop to gunning from power boats, the number of ducking licenses issued for the Susquehanna Flats is only about half the number during the previous seasons.

—Agents for the government, after a thorough survey of the woodlands of Cecil county, have found about 150 fine walnut trees suitable for gunstocks and airplane propeller blades, but it is now doubtful if they will be used for the purpose.

—Kent farmers would do well to haul their corn from the fields as soon as possible after being husked. Thieves find this a splendid opportunity for robbery. Mr. J. Thomas Smith, of Rich Neck, lost considerable corn in this manner the other night.

—Mrs. Lewis H. Ayres put out a big American flag at the road gate of Gresham Hall, near Tolchester, on last Monday to celebrate peace with Germany, and some one came along and stole it. This is the first instance that we have heard of this kind.

—Now that the war is over, wouldn't it be a great thing if Captain J. T. Kibler—who has done such good work in France, and who is one of the best coaches they ever had at Washington College—should return here and again act as athletic instructor at Washington College?

—William Essick, a former Kent youth, who is wanted by the Cecil Co. authorities on the charge of stealing a horse from Edward W. Taylor, a liverman, of Elkton, has been arrested in Camden, N. J. He is also charged with horse stealing in that state.

—Exchange.

—"Wear them heavier" is the request of the national fuel administrators to the women of the country. Lacy garments are cold and require more heat in buildings, whether homes or offices. Therefore women should pass up some of the dainty things they wear and should don more sensible garments, says the fuel man.

—S. P. Townshend, Esq., was robbed of a five-spot in Baltimore by a slick rogue the other day. Mr. Townshend purchased a box of apples on Light street and ordered them sent to Chestertown. The thief asked Mr. Townshend to write the address on the box, after the latter had handed him a $10 bill. The man insisted that he was only given $5 and refused to give up the $5.

—Mr. Edward Wilkins, of near Chestertown, accidentally shot and killed his fine pointer, Bob, Thursday morning while gunning for birds. Mr. Wilkins shot at some birds flying down a fence. The dog jumped over the fence and received the load of shot.

DEATHS

GUNNING SEASON OPENS IN KENT

The season for killing rabbits, birds and squirrels began in Kent county under ideal overhead weather conditions last Monday, and before the sun had soared high enough in the heavens to dry the frost, which, during the night, had spread a blanket of white over mother earth, the cry of the rabbit hound and the boom of the gun broke the stillness of the peaceful hills and valleys of Kent from the Sasasfras to the bay. There was the usual first-day crowd out, anxious for a chance to try their new dogs, new guns or to see if they had lost their skill with their fowling pieces.

While the woods and fields were dry a few hours after sunrise, we have heard of some good bags of game, which seems to be fairly plentiful, but, of course, not in such quantities as existed years ago. We have heard of several local gunners who secured their full bag limit of ten rabbits, but the major portion have been lucky if they secured two or three rabbits. We have also heard of some few who failed to bring home a rabbit.

One gunner from Cecil county remarked the other night that he and his party killed around 150 rabbits on Monday, while another is reported as having killed 25 birds—but 23 of them happened to be blackbirds.

While a number of large parties are reported to have been out, we have heard of no accidents among the gunners. We want to urge gunners to be careful, however. You can't be too careful. Don't take any chances. A misdirected load of shot may incapacitate you or some one else for life or kill some one. Let carefulness be the constant watchword!

In Memoriam

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear mother, Emma L. Newcomb, who departed this life one year ago today, Nov. 18, 1918.

I never can forget you, dear mother, While in this world I stay, When the form of death overcomes me Meet me, dear mother, on my way.

I do not know the pain she bore As I was not near her side, But I only know she slipped away Without bidding me goodbye.

Yet again I hope to meet thee, mother, When the day of life is fled, And in heaven with joy to greet thee Where no farewell tears are shed.
