A SOLID DEMOCRACY

With the election a little over two weeks off, leaves but little time for campaigning. We believe, however, in the present political fight the Democrats are more solidly and honestly united than at any time during the past twenty years. The Democrats have nominated a splendid ticket. The leaders on both factions are working in harmony—not to help any one man, but for the election of each man on the ticket. Attorney-General Ritchie, the Democratic nominee for Governor, heartily approves of the arrangement made by the leaders and the rank and file of each wing of the party and has given assurance to each that the division of all appointments will be, so far as he is concerned, on a basis of 50-50. There is no reason on earth why any anti-organization Democrat cannot vote the entier Democratic state ticket with every confidence that he will no longer stand outside for the next four winters and shiver and freeze as an unrecognized Democrat, but that he will be treated with every consideration in all state and county matters just as any other Democrat in the party. With a united front, and with this knowledge and assurance, no Democrat ought to cut his ticket. Let us go as one great united body and make this fight in good faith, each relying upon the honesty and good intention of every other man in the party. With such a position, defeat is impossible—victory is sure. Watch out for rumors, have harmony, not discord, and may matters be so arranged that two years hence we will again present a united and winning ticket. Politicians will always be politicians; they will always be with us; we shall always hear rumors upon rumors; each leader will play for position, but after the bell strikes in each primary, if primaries must be had, let us put aside, as the Transcript believes has been done in this election, all bitterness, all ill-will and let us be a happy family, forgetting the past and looking always in the future to the rising sun of victory.

Cultivate The Chicken Runs

Where your poultry have been turned on a run for some time it is best to plow or spade it up, then sow it in some grain which will make winter grazing.

Keep the fowls off the run until the green stuff is high enough to stand grazing.

Many poultry raisers provide themselves with two runs for each lot of chickens, and this allows the fowls to occupy one space while the young grain in the other attains sufficent size.

When the fowls are turned in on this, you can plow up the other space and get it set in green feed.

Occasional plowing and seeding of these runs will turn under all filth and refuse, and at the same time encourage good health among your flocks.

Contageous disease of any kind will have a hard time getting a real hold among fowls that have their runs renovated and sown in grazing stuff each year.

Talk about adventures!

Men in the Navy come home with the kind of experiences that most chaps read of only in the books.

Here's your chance!

Uncle Sam has, as you know, a big Navy and gives red-blooded young fellows like you an opportunity to step aboard and "shove off".

What will you get out of it?

Just this:

A chance to rub elbows with foreign folks in strange parts of the world.

The chance for good honest work on shipboard—the kind of work that teaches you something real; the kind of work that puts beef on your shoulders and hair on your chest.

You will get 30 care-free vacation days a year, not counting shore leave in home or foreign ports.

You will have the kind of comradeship in travel that sailors know.

You will have regular pay, over and above your meals, lodging and your first uniform outfit—good stuff all of it.

You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS.

There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

To any Father and Mother:—
In the Navy your boy's food, health, work and play, and moral welfare are looked after by responsible experts.

A Voice From Sioux City, Iowa, says

PE-RU-NA

Worth Its Weight In Gold

You cannot mistake the words of Mr. W. W. Northrup, of 908 Fourth Street, Sioux City, Iowa. He is enthusiastic about his present health and the merits of PE-RU-NA and wants everyone to know it. Here is a recent letter from him:—

"PE-RU-NA is worth its weight in gold and then some. I used to think it only a woman's remedy but have changed my mind. I had a cough, especially in the morning. After using half a bottle of PE-RU-NA was much better. I would cough up chunks of phlegm and mucus, my eyes itched and bothered me. Judging from the symptoms given in your almanac it was catarrh. My stomach is in much better condition since using your medicine."

"Use this testimonial, if you wish. Don't hesitate to advertise the merits of PE-RU-NA."
(Signed) W. W. NORTHRUP.

There are thousands just like Mr. Northrup, skeptical at first but convinced by a trial of PE-RU-NA.
DON'T BE AN UNBELIEVER.
If your trouble is of a catarrhal nature, try PE-RU-NA, then tell your friends. It is fine after an attack of grip or Spanish Flu.
