LOCAL MATTERS

Ducking Season Opens.—The season for shooting wild ducks opens today, Saturday, November 1. Large quantities of mallard ducks are reported at Cedar Point, East Neck Island.

Appointment Confirmed.—Postmaster T. D. Bowers received a telegram Thursday from Senator John Walter Smith, congratulating him upon the unanimous confirmation by the U. S. Senate of his appointment as postmaster at Chestertown.

High School Team To Open Season.—The Chestertown High School Football Team, which has been practicing for several weeks under the direction of Coach Joseph Wheatley, will open its season on Washington Field next Friday afternoon, November 7, with the Centreville High School team. The Chestertown team has a fast, heavy aggregation, and under the careful instruction of their coach, have developed some bewildering plays that promise to play havoc with the Centreville line when the gong sounds announcing the opening of hostilities.

LOCAL ITEMS OF INTEREST

—Mrs. L. D. Bowers has been appointed principal of Golts school.

—Live local news appears on every page of the Chestertown Transcript.

—Next Tuesday is election day. A full county, state and judicial ticket is in the field.

—The postponed matinee at old Worton track will be held today, Saturday. Some good races are promised.

—The Tolchester Steamboat Company has another change of schedule in this issue.

—The big coal strike will start today, Saturday, in which about 350,000 miners will take part.

—Deputy Forester McCleary is having a large number of useless trees removed from the town.

—Kent county has been having some real Indian summer. Frost is several weeks late this year.

—Mr. Harvey Blyman is having a residence erected on his lot on High street, up town.

—The W. C. T. U. will meet at the Red Cross Chapter House on Wednesday, November 5, at 11 a. m.

—Mr. Thomas W. Perkins is having his office divided into two offices, taking in a small room in the rear.

—Dr. H. C. Hughes has purchased a new Chevrolet touring car from Newsome Brothers that is a beauty.

—The Kent county hens are on a "strike." Very few farmers are getting eggs these days of high prices.

—Messrs. Sidney Turner and Allan Rouse brought autos from Buffalo for Messrs. A. S. Turner & Sons this week.

—The Dramatic Association of Washington College has several plays under consideration for the near future.

—Messrs. A. S. Turner & Sons have rented the Ellason store-room now occupied by the Noland-Bennett-Russell Co.

—And now a plot has been unearthed to kidnap Edsel Ford, son of Henry Ford, and hold him for $200,000 ransom.

—We understand that the sale of the H. S. DeFord property, corner Cross and Cannon Sts. has not been consummated.

—Mr. Harry Lambert caught a flying fish in one of his nets the other night. These fish are scarce in these waters.

—Hog cholera still exists in several places in Kent. Kent county has suffered a great loss from hog cholera this year.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jones have moved from Front street to the residence on Queen street formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Beck.

—Mr. Marion Malcomb has a large quantity of fine tobacco that he grew on his farm hung up in his barn. Kent county land will grow anything.

—Mr. Marion Malcomb's new residence in Morgnec will be completed early in December and will be one of the finest homes along the Chester.

—Last night, October 31, was Halloween night and the streets of Chestertown were filled by many grotesque figures, clad in unique and comical attire.

—A new truck route from Easton to Church Hill to Chestertown will go into effect shortly. It will arrive in Chestertown around noon on its way north.

—The M. D. & V. railroad has dispensed with the services of a number of assistant agents, to carry out the government's order to reduce operating expenses.

—Mrs. C. E. Embert has rented from Mr. W. W. Hubbard a room in the basement of the Eastern Shore Inn and will conduct a shoe repairing shop, with a workman from New York.

—Grangers are now looking with interest to the annual State Grange meeting at Chestertown in December. A large number of Grangers from all parts of the State will be here.

—The next football game on Washington Field will be on November 8, when Washington College will meet the football team from the Polytechnic Institute, of Baltimore.

—Following the instructions of State Board of Education, appropriate exercises were held on Monday in memory of the late Ex-President Roosevelt in all the Kent schools.

—Football "dope" was again upset on Saturday. Syracuse lost to Washington and Jefferson College; Princeton lost to Colegate, while Georgia Tech lost to the University of Pittsburg.

—British agricultural returns show a total acreage under crops and grass in 1919 in England and Wales of 26,750,000 acres, of which 12,310,00 are arable and 14,440,000 permanent grass land.

—We understand that the Marvil Package works will be closed for some weeks. This is quite a hardship on the employees of the mill, as many of them have had to go to other towns to find employment.

—Mr. Frank V. Simpers will move into the office in the "News" building formerly occupied by S. Scott Beck, Esq., while Mr. Raymond Simpers will occupy the office formerly occupied by Mr. Frank V. Simpers.

—A report from New York says: "The dollar a dozen eggs are here." Fresh white eggs, now as scarce as the proverbial teeth of the hen, were quoted at 96 cents per dozen in New York, while the retailers sold them for $1.10 per dozen.

—A large number of army trucks arrived in Chestertown on Saturday evening. The trucks came from Camp Holabird, near Baltimore, and were driven by officers. A lieutenant-colonel and a major were among the men. They departed Sunday morning for the same place from whence they came.

—Dr. H. C. Hughes, one of Chestertown's greatest lovers of bass fishing, one day this week put about three hundred large young bass in Radcliffe Mill pond. This is the third time Dr. Hughes has put young fish in Brooks' Mill pond in recent years.

—T. Allan Goldsborough, Esq., of Denton, recent candidate for Chief Judge on the Democratic ticket, made an enthusiastic address at Millington Tuesday night before a large audience. Mr. Goldsborough urged all his friends in Kent county to vote for Judge Adkins and the full Democratic ticket.

—Saturday night was a regular gala night in Chestertown and the town was packed with autos and teams. The Lyceum Theatre is bring many of these people here every Saturday night, as Mr. Russell is showing some mighty fine pictures, not only on Saturday night, but every night.

—Mr. Powell Peacock, the well-known horse trainer, who formerly resided in Chestertown, where he had many friends, is now residing at Sudlersville. A matinee will be held at that town on Wednesday, Nov. 5, when there will be five big racing events.

—We understand Mr. Bennett Wilson of near Edesville, has purchased the Anthony farm in Queen Annes County, near Chester bridge.

—The sugar shortage seems to be somewhat relieved in Chestertown. Several of our merchants have received shipments this week. Over one thousand pounds were received.

—Delaware River and Bay fishermen are planning to voice strenuous objection to the pollution of the waters in which they fish. Their efforts have met with very little success.

—Arrangements have been completed by the Executive Committee of the Delaware Corn Growers' Association for holding the 13th Annual State Corn Show in Dover Dec. 16 to 18, 1919.

—Officer Cooper was out with his gun after worthless dogs on Thursday and Friday and killed several. We think it would be a good idea to catch these dogs and take them out of town to kill them.

—The Chestertown High School football team promises some real thrills in the near future. County Agent Derrick, a football star of a few years ago, has been giving the boys some lessons. Games with Centreville High School, Easton High School and other high schools have been arranged.

—The Chestertown raccoon hunters are getting their dogs in shape for some big times this winter. There are very few coon days in Kent county at this time. The sport promises to become more popular, however, and the hunters are casting far and wide to get coon dogs.

—The picturization of the great book, "The Shepherd of the Hills," will be shown at Lyceum Theatre on Monday and Tuesday next, Nov. 3 and 4. The Mattice Stock Co., the best stock company that has played in Chestertown in two decades, will be here all of next week, beginning Nov. 10. Theatre goers of this county will remember Mr. and Mrs. Mattice in their great dramas.

—Mr. J. H. Clendaniel, Jr., states that "Remarkable progress," is the way John N. Willys, president of the Willys-Overland Company, expresses his satisfaction after a week's visit in Toledo spent in intimate study of conditions today at the big Overland plant. In conferences with executives, Mr. Willys, during the week, approved the plans for a huge production program scheduled for the two new models the company will market this year. These new cars are Overland Four, which is now in quantity production, and the new Willys-Knight model.
