Kent County Exhibit

The people of Kent County will hold a County Exhibit in the Auditorium of the Chestertown High School on Dec. 9, 10, and 11 this year. All plans for the exhibit have been worked out and agreed upon, and are now well under way in preparation for the largest and best exhibit ever held in Kent county.

The exhibit, which is entitled "Kent County Exhibit," is true to its name. It is for every one who lives in Kent County. The bulk of the work connected with this exhibit has been accepted with pleasure by the agricultural organizations of the county, and their plans are now well under way. But there is a part in this exhibit that every resident of Kent county should play. Your part may be to bring exhibits to the County Exhibit; it may be the use of your machine; it may be personal work; it may be a donation to help defray expenses and pay premiums; it may be not only to prepare exhibits yourself, but to help your neighbor prepare exhibits and see that they get to Chestertown; or it may be to encourage others with a word about the exhibit. When you have found the particular part which you are to play in this exhibit for our own Kent county, you might again look over the list to see whether or not there is something else that you could also do.

The Kent County Exhibit will consist of agricultural, industrial and health exhibits. An exhibit of this nature is highly educational and there is no one in Kent county who can do other than be benefitted by attending these displays. The premium list is composed of the things that we strive to produce.

The banks of Chestertown have pledged the Exhibit Committee a liberal sum for the exhibit. Dr. Clarke, Superintendent of the County Schools, expressed his willingness to co-operate with the Exhibit Committee in their desire to have every member of the county schools attend the exhibit. The State Grange will hold its Annual Session in Chestertown Dec. 8, 9, 10 and 11, and it is believed by holding the exhibit at the same time that more will be accomplished for the purpose of the exhibit. It will show not only the people of Kent County what we raise and what we do, but also the people from all over Maryland. All merchants in Chestertown will be requested to decorate their windows with agricultural products during the Farmers' Week. Several of the agricultural organizations will decorate windows in Chestertown as an organization. Anyone in Kent County who feels that he or she can help the exhibit by donation will kindly turn the same over to one of the members of the Exhibit Committee and it will be appreciated by all.

The Executive Committee for the exhibit is as follows: Horace B. Derrick, County Agent, Chairman; J. T. Anthony, Wm. G. Smyth, P. M. Brooks, Edgar Pennington. Miss Susan V. Hill, County Home Demonstration Agent, and Mrs. A. L. Harris.

GRIFFITH'S "BROKEN BLOSSOMS" TO BE SEEN AT LYCEUM THEATRE

Film That Has Been Sensational Success Wherever Shown Will Be Brought to Chestertown Soon.

Of extraordinary interest, not only to lovers of the motion picture, but likewise to all who appreciate the highest in art in its various manifestations, is the announcement of the Lyceum Theatre that it has secured David Wark Griffith's superb screen creation, "Broken Blossoms," to be shown Friday and Saturday, Nov 28 and 29.

Never has a motion picture been accorded a reception comparable to the triumph that has followed every showing of this production. Newspapers have devoted column after column to its beauties and wonders. Everywhere its success has been instantaneous and it is safe to say that in bringing "Broken Blossoms" to our town, the management of the Lyceum has to its credit the biggest accomplishment in artistic entertainment that we have yet enjoyed.

Mr. Griffith, it will be remembered, together with Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin and Douglas Fairbanks, early in 1919 organized United Artists Corporation—popularly known as "The Big Four"—for the making and marketing of their own productions. It is through this organization that "Broken Blossoms" is being placed in the theatres of the country.

The story of "Broken Blossoms" Mr. Griffith adapted from a tale by Thomas Burke called "The Chink and the Child" which is part of that author's famons volume "Limehouse Nights." Around this story, and we speak from the opinions of dramatic critics the country over, Mr. Griffith has built the most alluring, yet pitiful, beautiful, yet tragic love story ever filmed. It has become habit, almost to look upon a Griffith production as something more than a motion picture, yet even the most ardent adnurers of the art of this master of the films did not dream of the wonders that he would reveal in "Broken Blossoms."

And of acting, let a word be added, Lillian Gish as "The Girl" has reached a height of dramatic interpretation the like of which has never been seen on the screen before. This little artist has labored faithfully, steadily, with an understanding marvelous in one so young, and now she comes into her full glory in "Broken Blossoms." "The Chink" is played by Richard Barthelmess and to his work the critics have paid high tributes likewise. To the telling of the love story of "Broken Blossoms," it is said that both Miss Gish and Mr. Barthelmess have brought a never-to-be-forgotten artistry. Donald Crisp plays the part of "Battling Burrows," the brute on whom fatherhood has been forced, and his portrayal of a difficult role with rare talent and strength, completes the triangle of chief characters in the story.

"Broken Blossoms" should prove the crowning achievement in the splendid gallery of film presentations that we have enjoyed at the Lyceum Theatre. A special program has been prepared, including the music which Mr. Griffith personally arranged and some of which he composed. All in all, we look forward with keen anticipation to the Lyceum's presentation of the Griffith masterpiece, for a film that has been so sensationally successful elsewhere is assured of more than a hearty welcome in Chestertown.

The Chevrolet "Four-Ninety" Touring car is comfortable to ride in, and easy to drive. It has weight enough to keep to the road at all times. It has ample spring suspension. The seats are well upholstered, deep and roomy. And it is an easy car to handle in close traffic.

If you are intertested in a profitable and pleasurable investment, come in an inspect our line of Chevrolet models, then ride in one. You will be surprised how enjoyable and smooth riding they really are, and their economy of operation will also interest you.

MAXWELL RECEIVES FIRST HONORS

Before Thousands of People at Tennessee State Fair

That a Maxwell took first honors before thousands of people who thronged grandstands and adjoining spaces is the information recently received by the Union Motor Car Company of Baltimore.

Contrary to the former auto shows, driving was not the chief factor, but it was the cars themselves.

The 1920 Maxwell at $985 F. O. B. Detroit, won over all cars in the first class at $1000 and under.

E. Y. Watson, automobile editor of the Detroit Free Press, recently visited the Maxwell booth at the Michigan State Fair. Mr. Watson is considered spending a fe wdays with Mr. and Mrs. thorities at the hub of the motor world and his comment, as clipped from the Free Press August 31, is a remarkable tribute from a capable, disinterested expert.
