THE TRANSCRIPT

Entered at the Postoffice at Chestertown, Md., as Second Class Matter.

THE nation-wide campaign for the awakening of the Episcopalians throughout the land is progressing with satisfactory results in many sections. In this locality it seems to be lagging. It is the duty of every Episcopalian to lend his efforts to the movement and assist in this great work for a great and good cause. Other denominations on this peninsula, and even at our very door, are at work for the betterment of our community and it behooves every Episcopalian to do his best.

SO CONGRESS, after a waste of months of talk and filabuster by reactionary Republicans, has adjourned with the destiny of the Peace Treaty hanging in the balance. With the great unrest of the people of the world, it looks to the average man as though there is a woeful lack of consideration on the part of Congress for the people they are supposed to represent. How much longer the voters will continue to elect such men to Congress as those who have brought about such conditions as now exist, remains to be seen. Let us hope that a new era will soon dawn and that people will awake to their duty and purge their states of the representatives who have caused the defeat of the Treaty. As was said by Senator John Walter Smith some weeks ago in a speech on the floor of the Senate in behalf of the Treaty, "The people are entitled to peace." So far as what good to the citizens of the United States has been accomplishd by the extra session of Congress it might just as well have adjourned the day after it met.
