STREET CAR STRIKE IN TOLEDO

The Willys-Overland Company continues its remarkable progress in building Overland 4, the sensational light car which has introduced a new standard of easy riding comfort in its exclusive feature of the three-point suspension springs.

Word comes from Toeldo that the production of Overland 4 has now reached 500 cars a day. The various factory departments are now engaged in a spirited rivalry to accomplish their part of the operations, so that production may reach 600 Overland 4's a day before the first sleighing.

Getting production up to 500 a day on tihs new type of motor car has attracted national attention as an instance of loyalty and intelligent co-operation on the part of a great working foce of 12,5000 employees.

This record is further interesting in view of the fact that there are now no street cars in Toledo. The citizens at last voted in favor of an ouster ordinance. The railway company took the city at its word and sent the street cars into the state of Michigan. Despite this condition, the Willys-Overland factory has had an attendance of 100 per cent from its 12,500 workers since Toledo became trolley-less.

To get them back and forth from their homes each day, the Willys-Overland Company has organized a complete transportation system of trucks, autos, jitney busses, and other conveyances. But at that, it means long walks and very early breakfasts for thousands of the Overland workers. But they get to work every day.

There is so much interest and enthusiasm among the workers in the Toledo factory over Overland 4 that the company has taken steps to provide a demonstration of the new car's unexcelled easy riding qualities to every man and woman in its employ. The free-ride-for-all programme is now being arranged. Nothing like this, it is said, has ever before been attempted by any automobile plant. It is explained that the Willys-Overland management in providing the demonstration merely acceded to a general request from the workers in the plant.

The sense of duty and the loyalty reflected in the daily attendance of more than 12,500 workers and the unusual pride in the product they are making is a refreshing and encouraging sign during these days of somewhat general industrial unrest. Apparently they do things differently at the Willys-Overland.

A Perfect Day

The following poem by Carrie Jacobs Bond, which was put into music, is one of the most popular of the classic songs of the day. Every lover of music is familiar with it. It is as follows:

When you come to the end of a perfect day,
And you sit alone with your thought,
While the chimes ring out with a carol gay,
For the joy that the day has brought,
Do you think what the end of a perfect day
Can mean to a tired heart,
When the sun goes down with a flaming ray,
And the dear friends have to part?

Well, this is the end of a perfect day,
Near the end of a journey, too;
But it leaves a thought that is big and strong,
With a wish that is kind and true
For memory has painted this perfect day
With colors that never fade,
And we find, at the end of a perfect day,
The soul of a friend we've made.

—Tired of the poultry business since 101 of his chickens were stolen, George Lewcock, Hazleton, Pa., offers the thief the seven remaining fowl he overlooked.

Maryland To Have Four Rural Y. M. C. A. Districts to Help Boys and Girls

Immediate steps are to be taken to establish three additional Y. M. C. A. districts for rural, industrial and Americanization work in the smaller cities and farming districts of Maryland, according to a statement issued recently by George L. Goodwin, Interstate Y. M. C. A. Secretary. These three new districts with the Eastern Shore District already organized and in operation, will cover the entire state and give every community the educational, athletic, social, religious and community benefits now enjoyed by more than 150 counties which have established the "Y" rural and industrial program.

The plan, as far as developed, calls for the establishment of full time state and district "Y" secretaries specializing on rural, industrial and naturalization work, activities for country and small town boys and community or in ganization. The plan also permits every county to appoint a County "Y" secretary who will work for a maximum crop of real American boys and men much as the County Agricultural Agent works for increased farm yields.

To determine district lines and to appoint a state campaign committee to prepare for an intensive rural and industrial drive in February, Mr. Goodwin will shortly confer with the Maryland Interstate "Y" committeemen, Dr. J. H. Patterson, Md. Agricultural College; M. H. Bowman, Jr., principal of McDonough School, Batlimore; Tasker G. Lowndes, Cumberland; and Prof. J. H. Apple, Frederick.

William F. Montignani, Assistant Secretary, who directed the Baltimore $102,000 drive, will have direct charge of field work in the state campaign. He already is at work organizing local "Y" committees in every county to handle the state campaign and also to lead and to inaugurate local campaigns for appointment of county secretaries to develop work that will keep the young people contented on form or in small towns and yet give them many social and educational advantages now enjoyed by city young people.

The counties comprising the Eastern Shore "Y" District—Somerest, Queen Annes, Kent, Cecil, Worcester, Wicomico, Dorchester, Talbot and Caroline counties—already have raised a fund of $10,000 to support this work and have appointed E. T. Judd, district "Y" secretary with headquarters at Salisbury, Talbot and Dorchester counties will at once appoint county secretaries and introduce a county-wide athletic, educational and Bible class work for their young people. In several others, movements for county secretaries to help with the boy crop already are under way.

To perfect plans for advancing rural and industrial interests of Maryland, West Virginia and Delaware, Messrs. Goodwin and Montignani have been attending the rural "Y" conferences of the International Y. M. C. A. Convention in Detroit.

Evangelistic Meetings Close

Last Sunday marked the close of a period of time long to be remembered in Chestertown, when the union evangelistic services of the two Methodist Churches of Chestertown came to a close. The day was a great one in the religious life of the community, when three services were held in rooms that were packed to the doors. At night the Methodist Episcopal Church was scarcely large enough to hold the big crowd that had filled the edifice a half hour before the services began.

The meetings were not marked by a great number of converts being made to religion, as has occurred in past years, but rather in a general awakening and uplifting of the religious life of the community.

The decided feature of the meetings was the preaching of Evangelist Dow, who brought messages that not only thrilled and delighted his hearers, but also brought to them a warning of the result of their short-comings.

Chestertown will be glad to have Evangelist Dow here again.

—Miss Ethel Wetring has been appointed home demonstration agent for Cecil county.

Boys' And Girls' Clubs.—Boys' Corn Club members are reminded that the handsome silver cup awarded by the Pomona Grange is to be won by one of the members again this year. The Pomona Grange has again decided to award the girl who wins first place in the Girls' Canning Club and the boy who wins first place in the Boys' Corn Club a handsome solid gold medal for their efforts and results. Arthur Harris, Jr., won the silver medal for cup and gold medal last year for his excellent work in the Boys' Corn Club.

Automobile Mishaps.—On the state road near Chestertown recently a car in which four men were riding skidded on the dirt road and turned over, pinning one of the men under it and seriously injuring him. After attention by Dr. H. G. Simpers, he was taken to his home in Queen Annes Co. On the same day a car from Pennsylvania containing a gentleman and his wife and several children skidded on the dirt road in front of the residence of Mr. William F. Russel on Washington avenue. The driver lost control of the car and it dashed over the pavement, crashing through an iron fence at the home of Mr. T. W. Ellason, Jr., and ran several yards before it could be stopped. Neither the occupants or the car were injured.
