STREET CAR STRIK EIN TOLEDO

The Willys-Overland Company continues its remarkable progress in building Overland 4, the sensational light car which has introduced a new standard of easy riding comfort in its exclusive feature of the three-point suspension springs.

Word comes from Toeldo that the production of Overland 4 has now reached 500 cars a day. The various factory departments are now engaged in a spirited rivalry to accomplish their part of the operations, so that production may reach 600 Overland 4's a day before the first sleighing.

Getting production up to 500 a day on tihs new type of motor car has attracted national attention as an instance of loyalty and intelligent co-operation on the part of a great working foce of 12,5000 employees.

This record is further interesting in view of the fact that there are now no street cars in Toledo. The citizens at last voted in favor of an ouster ordinance. The railway company took the city at its word and sent the street cars into the state of Michigan. Despite this condition, the Willys-Overland factory has had an attendance of 100 per cent from its 12,500 workers since Toledo became trolley-less.

To get them back and forth from their homes each day, the Willys-Overland Company has organized a complete transportation system of trucks, autos, jitney busses, and other conveyances. But at that, it means long walks and very early breakfasts for thousands of the Overland workers. But they get to work every day.

There is so much interest and enthusiasm among the workers in the Toledo factory over Overland 4 that the company has taken steps to provide a demonstration of the new car's unexcelled easy riding qualities to every man and woman in its employ. The free-ride-for-all programme is now being arranged. Nothing like this, it is said, has ever before been attempted by any automobile plant. It is explained that the Willys-Overland management in providing the demonstration merely acceded to a general request from the workers in the plant.

The sense of duty and the loyalty reflected in the daily attendance of more than 12,500 workers and the unusual pride in the product they are making is a refreshing and encouraging sign during these days of somewhat general industrial unrest. Apparently they do things differently at the Willys-Overland.
