LOCAL MATTERS

Contracting For Tomatoes—Federalsburg canners are contracting for tomatoes with the farmers in that section at $15 a ton for the coming season.

Heavy Ice—Chester River has been frozen ove rsolidly since Tuesday, with little prospects of a general breake-up in the very near future. The Avalon, on the Chester River route, made her way through the heavy ice to Chestertown on Wednesday and returned on Thursday.

New Postmaster For Centreville—L. Tilghman Hayden is to be the new postmaster of Centreville. He received the highest mark of the three first contestants. It is stated that Mr. Hayden's nomination would be sent to the Senate by President Harding, and that the nomination would be quickly confirmed.

Noted Statesman Dead—Viscount Bryce died at Sidmouth, Engalnd, on Sunday. The end came peacefully and somewhat suddenly. He was 86 years of age. As a man of letters and a publicist Viscount Bryce was a world figure. Outside of his own country he was best known in America, where he has been frequently styled an "English Yankee."

Will Case Decided—The decision of the Circuit Court for Kent County in the case of the will of the late Judge James A. Pearce was rendered this week. The decision gave the insurance the judge had on his life, amounting to about $9000, which was the point at issue, to the sisters of Mrs. Pearce. The judge died two weeks before his wife.

Cold Weather—The predicted cold snap struck Kent the first of the week and has lasted ever since. The coldest morning of the year was on Thursday morning, when the government thermometer dropped to eight degrees. Other thermometers went much lower than that, some as low as three above zero. On Wednesday morning the government thermometor reached nine degrees. Mr. Snowden Thomas has the government thermometer at his home on Washington avenue.

School Meeting—The Chestertown High School Literary Society last week elected the following officers: Pres., Elizabeth Trew; V. P., William Urie; Recording Sec., Gilpin Brown; Cor. Sec., Virginia Mason. The debate, "Resolved, That Anticipation is Better Than Realization," showed careful preparation by both the affirmative Gilpin Brown and Sara Watson, and the negative, Stanley Sutton and Cornelia Davis. The decision was given to the negative.

Marrying Twelve Couples A Day—According to his own statement, Rev. Daniel Forbes Lockerbie, the 82-year-old minister, who says he is a member of the United States Volunteers, is the chief marrying parson at Elkton. He is marrying an average of 12 couples a day. The Methodist Episcopal Church will make vigorous efforts at the present session of the Maryland Legislature to have the marriage law amended.

A Deserved Promotion—Mr. Mark Perkins, who has been manager of the local A. and P. Store here since its organization about a year ago, has been made manager of all the stores on the Eastern Shore. Mr. Perkins is a hustler and well deserves the promotion. He has worked hard since the store was stared here and has built up a good business. Mr. James Bringman, a well-known local business man of Chestertown, will succeed Mr. Perkins as manager of the store here. Mr. Perkins' headquarters will be in Chestertown.

Interesting Meeting—The Town Commissioners met Monday night with a special meeting of the Business Men's Association to discuss matters pertaining to the town's finances, and to devise some method of securing more funds for the use of the commissioners in the improvement of streets and water mains. Commissioner Chas. N. Satterfield read a financial statement, showing the small amount of money that is placed at the disposal of the Commissioners through the medium of a 75 cent tax rate. A meeting of taxpayers will be called for one evening next week when a committee from the Business Men's Association and the Town Commissioners will submit their plans for discussion.

Found Team At Elkton—Ernest Brown, colored, some time ago drove off a team from his employer's premises, in Quaker Neck. The team was found abandoned near Thomas R. Baker's home in the Second District of Cecil County. Last Friday a man from Chestertown saw Brown and informed Sheriff Gifford, who got track of him in and around town. The sheriff of Kent county, Mr. Hadaway, who had been notified, arrived and joined in the search. They sighted Brown and fired a warning shot, but he broke into a run and escaped.

Minstrels Coming—Who is there who does not enjoy a good minstrel show and what form of entertainment offers such a diversified program? The 30 all-white entertaining band and orchestra provide a show that is replete with good singing, good dancing, funny comedians and an olio of vaudeville seldom seen outside the larger cities. Van Aman's Minstrels come to Chestertown with very strong press notices. The show goes from Chestertown to Pennsylvania into the large cities. Don't fail to hear the Concert Band at noon and 7.15 in front of theatre. Secure your seats in advance.

Welfare Work In Kent—Through the efforts of the attendance officer to do her duty to children who are reported out of school, she has been given help from the Red Cross money that was devoted to welfare work. In the 5th and the 6th districts relief has been given. A part of welfare work is the clothing of children. The welfare chest is at the loan closet and is always ready for donations. The loan closet is at the Inn, under the supervision of the nurse. The congregation of St. James church gave clothing to be used at the discretion of the attendance officer. Many thanks from the committee.

Too Few Civil Service Applicants—The Civil Service Commission invites special attention to the fact that in examinations held recently in Baltimore, and other cities throughout the United States for assistant observer, Weather Bureau, and junior physicist, junior technologist and junior engineer, Bureau of Standards, applicants were not secured in the number desired. The assistant observer examination will again be held on Feb. 15 and the others on March 8. Persons interested in these or other examinations should apply to the Secretary of the U. S. Civil Service Board at the local postoffice for detailed information and application blanks.
