COUNTY-WIDE FARMERS' MEETING

Held Friday, February 10, To Adjust Scale of Wages For Labor In Kent County

The Court House was fairly filled with farmers last Friday, Feb. 10th, when a county-wide meeting was held. The meeting was called to order at 1.30 p. m. by Mr. D. W. Ingersoll, Chairman of the Kent County Agricultural Council, which organization called the meeting.

County Agent H. B. Derrick gave a talk on the "Inoculation of Clovers". He spoke of the poor stands of clover in Kent County, enumerated the various causes for poor stands, explained the relation of bacetria to a good growth of clover, and brought to the attention of the farmers that the Department of Agriculture would furnish, free of charge, to any and all farmers enough bacteria culture to inoculate one bushel of seed of any legume. Mr. Derrick then urged every farmer to secure this culture for his clover seed and inoculate one bushel of seed, plant it by itself, and report the results to the County Agent next summer. He then distributed cards used to send for the culture and stated he had secured a quantitty of them for the use of the farmers.

Tht Chairman then directed the attention of the meeting to the labor conditions in Kent Co. and called for comments. The success of the scale of wages in effect in 1921 was brought out by several and was declared to have been fair both to the laborer and to the farmer. The present conditions with respect to farm labor were summed up to be, that, what the farmer could afford to pay, the laborer could not live upon.

Here the farmers showed their interest in the farm laborers and said that the "laborer was worthy of his hire," and that a living wage would be paid him.

A tentative scale of wages for 1922 had been drawn up by the Agricultural Council and was presented to the meeting. It was discussed item by item and the following was adopted for 1922:

1. A standard day's work on a farm: From sun up to sun down.

2. The maximum wage for a month laborer: Twenty dollars ($20) per month, with board and keep laborer's horse, or twenty-five dollars $(25) per month, with board and not keep laborer's horse.

3. The maximum wage for a day laborer; seventy-five cents (75c) per day, with board for regular work.

4. The maximum wage for special work: One dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) per day and board. Special farm work included; cutting wheat, shocking wheat, threshing wheat, harvestinb hay, filling silo and cutting corn.

5. The wage for husking corn: Twenty cents (20c) per barrel without board.

6. The maximum wage for a woman's work in a farm house kitchen, including washing: Fifteen dollars ($15) per month, or ten dollars ($10) per month without washing.

7. The maximum wage for a day's work in the kitchen for a woman: Seventy-five cents (75c).

"I Am The Farmer"

I am the provider of all mankind. Upon me every human being constantly depends.

A world itself is builded upon my toil, my products, my honesty.

Because of my industry, America, my country, leads the world. Her prosperity is maintained by me; her great commerce is the work of my good hands; her "balance of trade" springs from the furrows of my farm.

My reaper brings food for today; my plow holds promise for tomorrow.

In war I am absolute; in peace I am indispensable—my country's surest defense and reliance.

I am the very soul of America, the hope of a race, the balance wheel of civilization.

When I prosper, men are happy; when I fail, all the world suffers.

I live with nature, walk in the green fields under the golden sunlight, out in the great alone where brain and brawn and toil supply mankind's primary need. And I try to do my humble part to carry out the great plan of God.

Even the birds are my companions; they greet me with a symphony at the new day's dawn and chum with me till the evening's prayer is said.

If it were not for me the treasures of the earth would remain securely locked; the granaries would be useless frames; man himself would be doomed speedily to extinction or decay.

Through me is produced the energy that maintains the spark of life.

I am your friend.

I rise with the early dawn and retire when the chores of the world are done.

I AM THE FARMER.

—Angered by the refusal of his wife, who is suing for divorce, to talk with him, Raymond Smith, of Federalsburg, drew a pistol and shot at her. Approaching her, he demanded an interview, which was refused. She saved herself from serious injury, perhaps, when she struck his pistol arm downward, as the weapon was discharged, the load going in her foot.

—Plans for reorganizing the Second National Bank of Elkton, which was closed January 20, have been halted for the time being due to the illness of the president, Wm. T. Warburton, who has been somewhat indisposed.

THE MAN WHO GAVE HIS ALL TO HIS COUNTRY

WOODROW WILSON'S SACRIFICES AND COURAGE HAS ENSHRINED HIM IN MEN'S HEARTS.

FOUNDATION FUND GROWS

The Least One Can Do To Repay and Reward Is To Contribute To Maryland's Quota.

His face lined and seamed, his hair white, his health broken, there sits in Washington today one of the greatest and the loneliest figures in world history—Woodrow Wilson, the man who sacrificed all for his country and who today has seen his dream of world peace virtually realized.

Hale and hearty when he assumed the tremendous responsibility of the presidency, Mr. Wilson is but a wraith of his former self. The lines in his face, the whiteness of his hair, the physical disability which weights him down—these have been the rewards of his patriotic sacrifices.

But as he sits in his study, forcing his indomitable will to the lesser duties of private life, his heart is gladdened by the thought that in the minds of millions of men and women of the United States he has been enshrined.

No President has ever left the White House so broken in health as Mr. Wilson. No great figure in history was so misunderstood and to no one has more sincere recognition of the truths of ideals been so quickly accorded as to this white-haired, tragic-faced man who withstood cabals, who so courageously answered unjust attacks, who labored so earnestly for a great cause.

On no man in the history of the country did a heavier responsibility fall than upon Mr. Wilson when the momentous decision was made that the United States must throw in its lot with the Allies. No one can know what hours of mental travail were passed by this man of tragedy; how many Gethsemanes were traveled, before he found peace.

Mr. Wilson has been called a dreamer. Today his dreams are coming true. He has been called an idealist. Today the world is preparing to put his "idealist notions" into actual practice. His theories, always admitted to be morally sound, have been found economically worthy.

Picture the man to whom this belated recognition comes. Visualize that kindly face aged by pain, that formerly erect figure bowed down by the grief that so undeservedly came to him when he saw the peace structure he labored so earnestly to build come crashing down, destroyed by those whose material minds could not grasp the greatness of the vision unfolded to them.

However, it is becoming more apparent each day that the ideals for which Mr. Wilson fought and suffered are going to control the future of the world. In order to pay a tribute to Mr. Wilson and also their belief in his ideals and their faith in the League of Nations, the idea was conceived to establish the Woodrow Wilson Foundation which would consist of a fund of One Million Dollars to be contributed by the whole United States, the income of which would be used from year to year to award those who had rendered meritorious service to the public welfare for securing peace through justice.

Maryland's quota is Thirty Thousand Dollars, of which $15,000 is to be raised by the counties. It is expected that every county will raise Five hundred Dollars and it is hoped that the average county will raise Seven Hundred Dollars. It is important that contributions be made promptly to the local county chairman. Allegany, Frederick and Somerset Counties have raised their quotas. It is noteworthy that each of these counties is a Republican stronghold. The State Headquarters are located at 1006 Fidelity Building, Baltimore, Md.
