NEWS OF THE SPORTING REALM FROM MANY ANGLES

Fox hunters are eliminating the fox as a "resident" of Kent county. Mr. Harvey Brice, of Rock Hall, has dogs so fast that a fox can't "live" before them. His dogs have killed eight on Ringgold's Point farm this winter, the last one going under this week, which, by the way, was the lone survivor on the great game preserve of the county. Mr. Brice has perhaps the fastest pack of dogs in the state of Maryland and they can likely be cuassed with the fastest in the country.

Shaefer retained his title as billiard champion against Hoppe the other night. With Hoppe in the lead and looking like the winner, a by-stander by a somewhat unsportsmanlike comment, caused Hoppe to miscue, which lost the title to him.

Captain Kibler's Cambridge team is filling quite a few columns in the sport pages these days. Cambridge, in the past, has been a good ball town, and Kibler's team will doubtless be a big success. He knows how to manage a team and how to play the game and his men like him—its usually a winning combination.

William Cann, of Elkton, left recently for Durham, N. C., where he has signed to play baseball in the Carolina-Virginia League the coming season. Kent county fans are familiar with him and wish him well.

Mr. Clarence Armstrong,of Wilmington, formerly of Chestertown, lasted 2 minutes and 30 seconds of the first round in a recent boxing contest in Baltimore. Then the referee counted him out. Clarence says he is through. You are right. Nothing pays so little, in the long run, as prize-fighting. The champion of a class and several near-champs make good money. The rest of the bunch get beaten and maltreated to perfection, and are either maimed or injured for a paltry sum. There's nothing to it!

The local checker season is about over, although a few straggling contests are bound to be played now and then. Mr. Joseph N. Wheatley, who "occasionally" graces the checker board with his presence, somewhat easily deefated Champion Blades three out of four contests Saturday morning. The champion came back strong in the afternoon and won somewhat easily, duplicating the performance at night. Any champion will lose at intervals, but Prof. Blades, in the long run, day after day, is perhaps the best player that Kent has produced in twenty years.

Hahnemann Medical College, of Philadelphia, will oppose the local collegians today in the first game of the season. Kent County fans will have a chance to see the new team workout and form some opinion of what they have. It's too cold yet, however, for baseball and it will be several weeks before the team gets in anything like baseball trim.

Two birds to the acre appears to be the estimate for the United States, and the service of each bird is said to be worth ten cents a day to the country.

Three new sanctuaries for wild birds have just been established on the lower gulf coast near Texas by the National Association of Audubon Societies.

The Departemnt of Agriculture says that birds save the farmers more than $400,000,000 a year. And so the birds reduce the tax rate without even an appeal to Congress.

Princeton, with an enrollment of 2000 students, competes as an equal with Yale, Harvard, Penn, Cornell and other colleges who have several times as many students.

Washington College will likely have a good football team next year. Mr. C. M. Wingate is the manager. He has arranged the following schedule for the season:

Sept. 30—Charlotte Hall, here.
Oct. 7—St. John's College, away.
Oct. 14—Catholic University, away.
Oct. 21—Penn Mil. College, away.
Oct. 28—Lebanon Valley College, away.
Nov. 4—Mt. St. Mary's College, away.
Nov. 11—Galladuet College, here.
Nov. 18—Delaware University, away.
Nov. 25—St. Joseph's College (of Phila.), here.
Nov. 30—Western Maryland College, away.

ATLAS
PORTLAND CEMENT

"The Standard by which all other Makes are measured"

MANY a community has its dangerous road. A retaining wall above or below might make it permanently safe. The old saying of a stitch in time, is worth remembering.

Concrete retaining walls for public highways or private homes are a permanent improvement when properly built. Your contractor is familiar with reinforced concrete construction and would gladly estimate just what this would cost.

Atlas Portland Cement for more than a quarter century has given satisfaction on all types of construction. Both your contractor and your dealer are familiar with it as "the Standard by which all other makes are measured."
