FROM information we can gather, there is no immediate danger of a coal shortage in this section. In fact, except for news in the daily papers, this county would not know that the greatest coal strike in history is in progress. Being a farming community, we are blessed with comparative freedom from serious labor troubles.

THE Genoa Conference, now in session, seems to be bringing to a head quite a number of questions of international importance. Russia seems to be striving for disarmament and for a full recognition of the communist government. France is continuing her policy of a large army, due to her geographical position in Europe and to the constant dread of further trouble with Germany. The question of economic betterment is the main issue of the conference and the purpose for which it is called. Any economic betterment in Europe looking to an adjustment of the rate of exchange will be greatly welcomed in the business world and will do much to better business conditions in the United States.

STILL POND

Mrs. Emma Thompson has returned home after spending some time with her daughter in New York.

Miss Lucille Parr is spending this week end with her brother, Mr. Holten Parr, in Baltimore.

Mrs. Emory Grey, of Brooklyn, spent several days last week with her sister, Mrs. Charles Walters.

The school boys played their first game of this season on last Saturday afternoon and defeated the Betterton boys with a score of 15 to 7.

Rev. and Mrs. Smith were given a delightful surprise on last Friday evening, when a large number of friends gathered in the S. S. room from prayer meeting, after which the Epworth League had an interesting program and served ice cream and cake. During the evening Rev. and Mrs. Smith were invited to a class room where a generous donation had been prepared.

Rev. Clifton Owens, formerly of Betterton, now a member of the Baltimore Conference, preached here on last Sunday morning.

Mrs. Franklin, of East Lansdowne, Pa., is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Emma Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Harper were given a surprise kitchen shower on Wednesday evening of this week.

The devotional service of the Epworth League will be led on Sunday evening by Mrs. Wm. G. Rasin.

On Thursday at 2.30 p. m. "The W. F. M. S. will meet at the home of Mrs. L. B. Harper. All members and friends are requested to be present. Very important business on hand. Unique sanwitches will be served.

—The gathering of dandelion blossoms is now on in this section of the country and a considerable amount of wine and other beverages will be made from the same. A great many persons prefer dandelion wine to any other.

—At a meeting of the Rich Neck Farmers' Club this week a committee was authorized to repair and equip one of the rooms of Union school house to be used as a community center. A stage will be erected and a kitchen added. The room when completed will be used by all clubs of that neighborhood for meetings, suppers, festivals, etc. At a meeting of the Women's Club of Rich Neck the county nurse recommended the establishment of an emergency supply closet in this room. The nurse's recommendation was approved and the closet will be supplied. The meeting was held at Carroll Leverage's.

THE NON-CHURCH GOER

By Rev. M. A. Matthews, D. D., L. L. D.
Of Trappe, Talbot County

Why do men neglect church attendance? If you mean all men do not attend church you are in error. It is true that far too many stay away from divine worship. The following reasons can be assigned why certain classes neglect this important duty:

First. A seared Sabbath conscience sends men to the golf links on the Holy Sabbath.

Second. The gasoline mania causes thousands to take the family, the dog, and the lunch basket into the automobile early Sabbath morning when they begin to break the Ten Commandments, the speed laws, the rules of domestic tranquility and Sabbath observance.

Third. Screenitis sends thousands into the motion picture houses, where they make a pagan attack upon God's Holy Day.

Fourth. Laziness keeps thousands at home wrapped in the bed clothes of indolence and filth—too indolent, slovent and filthy to dress and attend divine worship.

Fifth. False conception of worship, or because the sermon is poor, or the minister worse than dead, they drift into the habit of neglecting church

Sixth. A large nnmber of those who stay away do so because they are plain pagans; their education is defective; their breeding is below the standard. They are just plain heathen. No well-bred, well-trained, modern, up-to-date and otherwise normal man stays away from church services. The bum, gambler, fraud, embezzler, outcast, loafer, and the scum of the earth stay away from church. Behold the crowd with which the non-church goer can be classed.

Seenth. There are thousands of business, professional, political, and official men who neglect church because they are conscious of the fact that they are grossly sinful, selfish, conceited, and derelect in the performance of their duties. They dread to face the gospel mirror wherein they can behold their own faces over which is written guilt. They know that if they face the gospel as expounded from God's infallible Word they will have to surrender their selfish, mean, conceited business and professional attitude toward the church and the gospel.

The conceited professional man tries to build for himself a code and produces a state of self-satisfied, self-righteous and self-centered contentment, which he does not want disturbed by the courageous presentation of the full gospel of Jesus Christ. Men are neglecting to attend church because they are afraid to face the judgment gospel. Men are staying at home or they are going on the fields of pleasure because of their innate and overt and continued meanness. They are trying to avoid the doctrine of responsibility, accountability and judgment. They are foolish. Every sensibile man ought to prepare to meet His God. Every desirable, worthy citizen ought to be found in his pew every Sunday morning worshipping God and paying his honest obligations to the Church of Jesus Christ.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, The grim reaper (death) has pervaded the home of our friend and brother, James T. Anthony, who has answered the call of his Heavenly Father to come up higher,

And whereas, The life of brother Anthony was so correct and consistent, especially in his efforts for the suppression of the liquor traffic, as well as his work as an official of the church and Sunday School superintendent,

Therefore be it Resolved: That in the death of Brother Anthony the church, the community and the State have sustained a great loss and there is left a vacancy which will be hard to fill.

Resolved, That we extend to our deceased brother's family, our sincere sympathy, and point them to the promises of our God in heaven whom he so faithfully loved and served.

Resolved: That these resolutions be printed in the county papers and a copy be sent to the bereaved family.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, In the dispensation of an all-wise Providence, death has removed from our midst, our friend and brother, Rev. Louis E. Barrett, and

Whereas, Dr. Barrett in his seven years active ministry in our church, and for several years since his retirement from the active ministry a member of the quarterly conference of our church, had by his beautiful Christian life and work won the heart of not only those of his own church but of all the churches and citizens of our town,

Therefore be it Resolved: That in the death of Dr. Barrett, the church loses a wise councilor and one of its ablest ministers, and the town a true patriot and friend.

Resolved: That we extend to his bereaved widow our heartfelt sympathy in this sad hour, and recommend her to the God whom he served with an abiding faith, for comfort and strength,

Resolved: That these resolutions be printed in the county papers and a copy be sent to his widow.

WHERE FOX SHOWS CUNNING

Reynard Always Refuses to Run Faster Than the Dog Will Drive Him, for a Purpose.

An Englishman who had once seen an American fox running before a hound wrote that the American fox is much slower than its English cousin. As a matter of fact, the Englishman's assertion, which by the way appeared in an encyclopaedia, is really a tribute to the superior cunning of the American fox. Reynard, says Mr. Charles D. Stewart in the Atlantic Monthly, could have run a good deal faster had he thought it wise to do it.

A fox surprised by a hound in a small patch of wood will run across the open at astonishing speed. Then he not only will slow up but may even sit down on some convenient elevation and look back. He keeps his wits about him; he wants to see what is going on. When the hound has struck his stride the fox will soon gauge it and lead him a chase. Anyone who sees the chase and knows that the hound is slow becomes an admirer of the witty Reynard and will be likely to say that the fox is running slowly just to tease the dog. Indeed, many entertaining writers have said so; but a veteran hunter would not so interpret the action of the fox. He well knows that when a fox gets half a mile or so ahead of him and skulks along at a set distance out of sight, it is not doing it to tease him. The fox is not so human as that. The plain fact is that the fox will not retreat before a dog any faster than the dog drives him. That is because it is naturally cunning.

Odd-Mannered Flower.

Perhaps the witch-hazel thinks its simple little yellow blossoms would not compare favorably with the gorgeousness of fall chrysanthemums—perhaps it wants to be original—at all events, not until "mums" and other varieties of autumn flowers are gone, and even the leaves of the witch-hazel itself have fallen, do the witch-hazel flowers appear.

Very late in October, or more likely in November, you will find the cheerful little yellow blossoms growing right beside the last year's seed pods. These little urn-shaped seed pods split when frost comes, and the four seeds contained in each pod hop out onto the ground, where they will take root and grow in the spring.—Christian Science Monitor.

BRICE'S MILL

JOSEPH BRICE, Proprietor.

Bake things he likes with FLAVO FLOUR. It's healthful and tissue building. There is more nutrition and a sweeter taste in FLAVO FLOUR. It is made with a new process by the most modern mill in the world. Nature's food values and the delicious flavor of the wheat are not milled out as they are by other methods. FLAVO FLOUR is milled at home from home wheat. It is good. Buy it and patronize Home Industry.

A Covert Thrust.

The following double-meaning poem is attributed to Dean Swift. Read the lines first as they are printed; then read them as they are numbered.

1—The pomp of courts and pride of kings
3—I prize above all earthly things
5—I love my country, but my king
7—Above all men his praise I'll sing
9—The royal banners are displayed
11—And may success the standard aid
2—I fain would banish far from hence
4—The Rights of Man and Common Sense
6—Destruction to that odious name
8—The plague of Princes, Thomas Paine
10—Defeat and ruin seize the cause
12—Of France, her liberty, and her laws.

Fordson

TRACTOR

"Henry Ford Was Right When He Said:

'The Tractor will enable the farmer to work fewer hours in the day, giving him more time to enjoy life. I believe the tractor will make farming what it ought to be—the most pleasant, the most healthful, the most profitable business on earth'."

This tractor has done much—very much—in bringing true Mr. Ford's prophecy; for in it is a machine which has harnessed one of the most dependable, efficient, adaptable, economical sources of power in the world—a machine that saves from thirty to fifty per cent of the farmer's time — a machine which many farmers claim plows, harrows or drills as much ground in the same time as four, six or even eight horses. And more—a machine that takes care of every power job on the farm.

Call and let's talk it over, or telephone or drop us a card and we will bring the facts to you.
