—The dramatization of Columbus last week by the A Class of the Third Grade of Chestertown School was a big success. Not only were the parts well rendered, but an intense interest in the work and a spirit of hearty co-operation were displayed among all.

—The Chesapeake City postoffice was entered late on Monday night or early Tuesday morning by thieves who forced a window. They ransacked the office, opening several mail packages and letters, but took none away. They got a small number of stamps and between $4 and $5 in rolls of pennies.

—Deputy Game Wardens of the state hae received a letter from State Game Warden LeCompte stating that, owing to the heavy mortality among the rabbits being shipped from Kansas, the same will be discontinued for the season. From 30 to 35 per cent were dead upon arrival.

—Maryland's roadside tree law continuance in existance. The law, endorsed by the State Board of Forestry Association, was passed eight years ago to prevent cutting or trimming of roadside trees by owners of abutting property, being designed to enable the state and towns and cities to beautify roads and streets.

—Chester Cemetery is one of the real beauty spots of this section. Spring has made its appearance there in all its glory and many beautiful bushes and numerous bits of shrubbery are in bloom. Mr. Edward Newton, the superintendent, takes real pride in the place and it is a credit to his industry and knowledge of the art of landscaping.

—Dr. H. C. Hughes has received for liberation in Chester river the largest consignment of young Mississippi catfish ever received in this section.
