WASHINGTON COLLEGE LOSES FIRST GAME OF SEASON—OTHER NOTES

After three attempts, the baseball season was finally opened at Washington College Monday, when the well-seasoned and efficient Lafayette College team defeated Washington College in their first game of the season, the score being 5 to 0. Washington was decidedly unlucky in several "breaks" of the game which worked greatly to the advantage of the visitors.

Wright was on the mound for Washington College and pitched in splendid form. He had curves and speed and splendid control. His support, at times which were critical, was somewhat ragged, while Lafayette's few hits were timely and well placed. Lafayette's twirler was particularly puzzling in the pinches and Washington, although they were in a position to tally several times, were unable to connect when hits meant runs.

Wright was a bit careless in the first session, which resulted in a couple of hits, pushing two men across the plate. After that Wright was a puzzle to the visitors and not a man reached third, until the seventh, when a home run into the right field bleachers brought a run in ahead of it. Through the carelessness of Washington players, Lafayette was able to score their fifth run in the eighth.

While this game was Washington's first real game of the season, Lafayette is a well-seasoned aggregation and has been playing several weeks. This gave them a most decided advantage over the local college boys.

Washington's new team played a very creditable contest and showed that a few weeks together will make a real ball club of them. Wright was in real, old-time form; Jones showed he was a real catcher and could throw to second; Duffy, as we forecasted a week ago, covered first in good style and hit the ball hard; Moffett seems fast on second and will develop into a real player; Flowers and Johnson demonstrated that they are improving every year and showed up in fine form. The outfield had little to do, but performed their parts well. The team seemed weak at the bat, but this will naturally develop with practice. State teams will have a hard time defeating this club in the coming games of the next few weeks.

Chestertown may have a ball club this summer. There is a good deal of local talent that is as fast as can be found on the Eastern Shore and local fans may see some good ball by the time the League down the Shore gets in motion. The prospective team will be as follows: Lee Robinson, catch; C. Usilton, Edward Robinson and Edward Blackway, pitchers; H. Usilton, first; Edward Blackway, second; Barber Bartley, short; Pryor Armstrong, third; Charles Ford, Philip Wilmer and Edward Peary outfielders. This team would make any Shore team hustle and would give the local fans some fine ball during the summer months.

Wet grounds prevented the Washington College-Trinity College baseball game Tuesday afternoon.

We noticed Jack Carroll, the wizard of the basketball floor, on the field during Monday's game. If Carroll was as good a baseball player as he is at the basketball game, Chestertown and the city of Waterbury would be accorded a place on the map with Trappe and the other home towns of famous players of baseball.

Baseball is booming at Salisbury. Carpenters have been at work for two weeks remodeling Gordy Park preparatory to the opening of the Eastern Shore Baseball League season on June 9.

By the removal of the old wire fence and the addition of a new low fence around Washington Field, a decided improvement has been made. The fence around the baseball grounds has also been whitewashed and the general appearance of the whole place greatly improved.

The value of a dog is demonstrated in the following article, which appeared recently in the daily press: "Last fall O. L. Bernice drove his flocks of sheep down from the grazing lands in the Mount Adams forest reserve to winter quarters near White Salmon, Wash. In a fog he lost forty head and a dog was missing. No trace of the wanderers was found in a week's diligent search. One day recently the dog turned up at the home with thirty-nine sheep, all but one having wintered somewhere under the guidance of the watchful dumb shepherd. Sheepmen are at a loss to account for the fact that the dog was able to keep off predatory animals." This is only a demonstration of the fact that there are some other kind of dogs besides sheep killers and egg eaters, these latter being often the result of insufficient feeding by their owners rather than to the fact that they are naturally inclined to do these things.

The next game of the W. C. team is on May 27, with St. John's at Annapolis.

Mr. Haryev Brice, of near Rock Hall, shipped his three speedy blues to his uncle, Mr. George Brice, to use in his famous pack of blues. These three dogs can be safely classed as among the speediest dogs ever reared in Kent.

Mr. Richardson tells us that "Old Jim," the pride of Bushfoot, is still capable of leading in fast company. The other day he was ahead in a hard race in which about fifteen hounds participated.

—The Maria Corey Y. P. B. was entertained April 13 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Shinn. After the business was over a fine literary program was conducted by the treasurer, Mr. Geo. DeFord. Four new members were taken in. Quite a large number of visitors and members were present. The branch will be entertained May 11 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James DeFord. Everybody welcome.

EASTER IN KENT

Spring, Bursting The Bonds Of Winter, Blossoms Forth In All Its Glory Of Sunshine And Blooms

Kent county enjoyed a real Easter Sunday last Sabbath. Not for many years has so beautiful an Easter been witnessed. Nearly all the fruit trees were in full bloom, the profusion of blossoms speaking well for a good crop of fruit this year. All the earlier flowering shrubs of the lawns are showing their most brilliant colors, many wide areas of green sward showing thereon the gold of the dandelion.

In the woodlands nature had awakened and seemed proud on this day to show its colors. The tender green of young shoots contrasted delightfully with the gray and brown of tree trunks and branches and the fallen leaves of last year. Along the hillsides, many trees have begun to bloom, although the dogwood had not blossomed forth in all its glory. Wild cherries stood here and there like snowy mounds, giving promise of aromatic bitters to those who may gather the fruit and find the ingredient to go with it. In many places the ground is carpeted with the delicate wild blooms of April.

Spring birds had arrived on Easter day, and made the occasion more gladsome by their beautiful songs.

The churches of Kent were the places of real Easter joy, for here the spirit of the occasion was manifested in appropriate music and sermons that dealt with the Risen Lord. The places of worship were crowded at all the services. This occasion is a season of deep religious fervor, which seemed more manifest this year than for many years past.

—An epidemic of influenza has broken out near Georgetown, Del. This section has recently had an epidemic of colds and grip that has, at times, approached almost the proportions of influenza.

ATLAS PORTLAND CEMENT

FROM many points of view, construction in the country is more important than city construction. Property is apt to be under the same ownership for a lifetime instead of a few years. Fire protection is not efficient at long distances. These and other angles argue for building well and permanently.

Your local dealer can help in your building plans. He has, or will get for you, accurate information on any work you have in mind. You can afford to rely on his experience and judgment.

Most permanent construction today is of concrete. For twenty-five years concrete has been tested on all types of building and has made good. For twenty-five years Atlas Portland Cement has been known as "the Standard by which all other makes are measured."
